FINAL RESULTS OF THE 2005 NATIONAL TROPHY RIFLE MATCHES

Major General Wayt opens the 2005 National Matches

Major General Greg Wayt, the Adjutant General of the State of Ohio, was the First Shot Speaker and had the honor of firing the ceremonial first shot to open the 2005 National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. The traditional First Shot Ceremony at Camp Perry took place on July 11th. Everyone in attendance enjoyed a colorful ceremony that benefited from the better side of Camp Perry weather, with the sun shining and a light breeze coming off of Lake Erie.

Ms. Judith Legerski, Vice Chair of the CMP Board of Directors, Mr. John Sigler, First Vice President of the NRA, Chris Redfern, Ohio State House of Representatives, District 80, Robert Latta, Ohio State House of Representatives, District 6, representatives of Senator George Voinovich and Senator Mike DeWine and many other distinguished guests also attended the ceremony.

General Wayt was appointed by the Governor of Ohio and assumed the duties of the Adjutant General on 1 July 2004. He is a member of the Governor's cabinet and is responsible for the operation of the Ohio Adjutant General's Department and the military preparedness of the Ohio Army National Guard, the Ohio Air National Guard, the Ohio Military Reserve and the Ohio Naval Militia. General Wayt is a Distinguished Military Graduate from the Ohio State University ROTC program. He began his military career as an artillery officer in 1975.

Distinguished guests are honored at the First Shot Ceremony for their support of the National Matches.

General Wayt is a Distinguished Military Graduate from the Ohio State University ROTC program. He began his military career as an artillery officer in 1975.

In his comments, General Wayt credited General A. B. Critchfield, former Adjutant General of Ohio, as being "the real father of Camp Perry whose vision was to establish the world's finest rifle range." He noted how land for Camp Perry was purchased in 1905, and that the camp was named after Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, the victorious American Naval commander who defeated the British in 1813 at the Battle of Lake Erie.

Major General Wayt fired the first shot of the 2005 National Matches with a Model 1903 Springfield rifle. Wayt said, "I chose this rifle as it is known for its accuracy and I need as much help as I can get!"

General Wayt also spoke about the future of Camp Perry. "The future of the National Matches here at Camp Perry is very bright. The Camp Perry Executive Council, comprised of the senior leadership from the Adjutant General's Department, Civilian Marksmanship Program, National Rifle Association, and three local General Assembly members, was recently formed to ensure the matches are world class and to steer and prioritize the master plan that has been developed for Camp Perry. The master plan will shape the development of Camp Perry for the next 25 years. This partnership is seeking innovative ways to resource this plan; and I can tell you that we are committed to making Camp Perry a world-class facility. Our goal for Camp Perry is to have an impact on the economic development of the community, to increase the number of participants in the matches, and make this a world-class range just as General Critchfield envisioned in 1905."

He described recent actions by the state and Ohio National Guard to develop Camp Perry. "The State of Ohio is investing more than one million dollars for road construction, utilities upgrades, and renovation of many post facilities. In addition, the Federal Government provided 1.5 million dollars for a county sewer extension that will be completed in the near future. Our most recent construction projects include: the renovation of the Hough Grove motel rooms and a $ 1.4 million dollar Viale Range berm and target replacement project, which will be completed and ready for use in the 2006 National Matches."

The color guard for the First Shot Ceremony was the Navy JROTC Color Guard from the Admiral King High School, from Lorain, Ohio.

Additional photos from the ceremony can be viewed at <http://www.odcmp.com/Photos/05/FirstShot/index.htm>. The CMP National Trophy Pistol Matches results are posted on the CMP web site at http://clubs.odcmp.com/cgi-bin/report_matchResult.cgi?matchID=804.

A Message from the DCM:

The CMP is pleased to provide the Final Results of the 2005 National Trophy Rifle Matches. This year, as part of CMP's continuing efforts to improve the matches, we expanded how we present National Trophy Matches results into three phases. During the matches, competitor scores and trophy lists are posted on the CMP web site and at the CMP Results Center. Next we published a preliminary results bulletin that was distributed at the National Trophy Matches Closing Ceremony. This final results bulletin is the third phase. In addition, the pistol and rifle bulletins are separated this year.

Competitor comments concerning CMP events in the 2005 National Matches were overwhelmingly positive. We sincerely appreciate your comments and recommendations for making next year's matches even better. There are many people and organizations that we want to recognize and thank for their roles in making the 2005 matches so successful. Be sure to note all of the contributors to a great National Matches who are listed on the "Thank Yous and Acknowledgements" on page 3.

I also want to repeat a special thank you that I gave at the end of our National Trophy Awards Ceremony when I recognized the NRA staff and all of the NRA range volunteers who operated the ranges with efficiency, courtesy and skill. We also appreciate the significant efforts of the Ohio National Guard Camp Perry staff and the USAR soldiers who handled transportation, medical, signal and a myriad of other duties.

This year, the Adjutant General of Ohio, Major General Greg Wayt, made a commitment to have an Ohio National Guard General Officer at every National Matches award ceremony and he kept that promise. The National Matches partnership of the NRA, Ohio National Guard, U. S. Army Reserves and CMP is working well.

Finally, I cannot say enough good things about our own CMP staff. They are all so dedicated to serving shooters; they enjoy giving you the best experiences possible. Their untiring work during the matches is essential if the matches are to succeed.

A National Trophy Matches results bulletin is not complete without recognizing the competitors who are the heart and soul of every championship. 2670 individual competitors competed in the five CMP individual events and three team matches that took place during National Trophy Rifle Matches week. Every National Matches produces its champions, but one shooter clearly stood above all the rest this year. Special congratulations are in order for SFC Norman Anderson of the Army Marksmanship Unit for winning both the President's and National Trophy Individual Matches and for winning the Mountain Man Trophy that honors the overall service rifle champion.

The 2005 National Trophy Rifle Matches were a great competition, but already we look forward to welcoming you back to the 2006 National Matches!

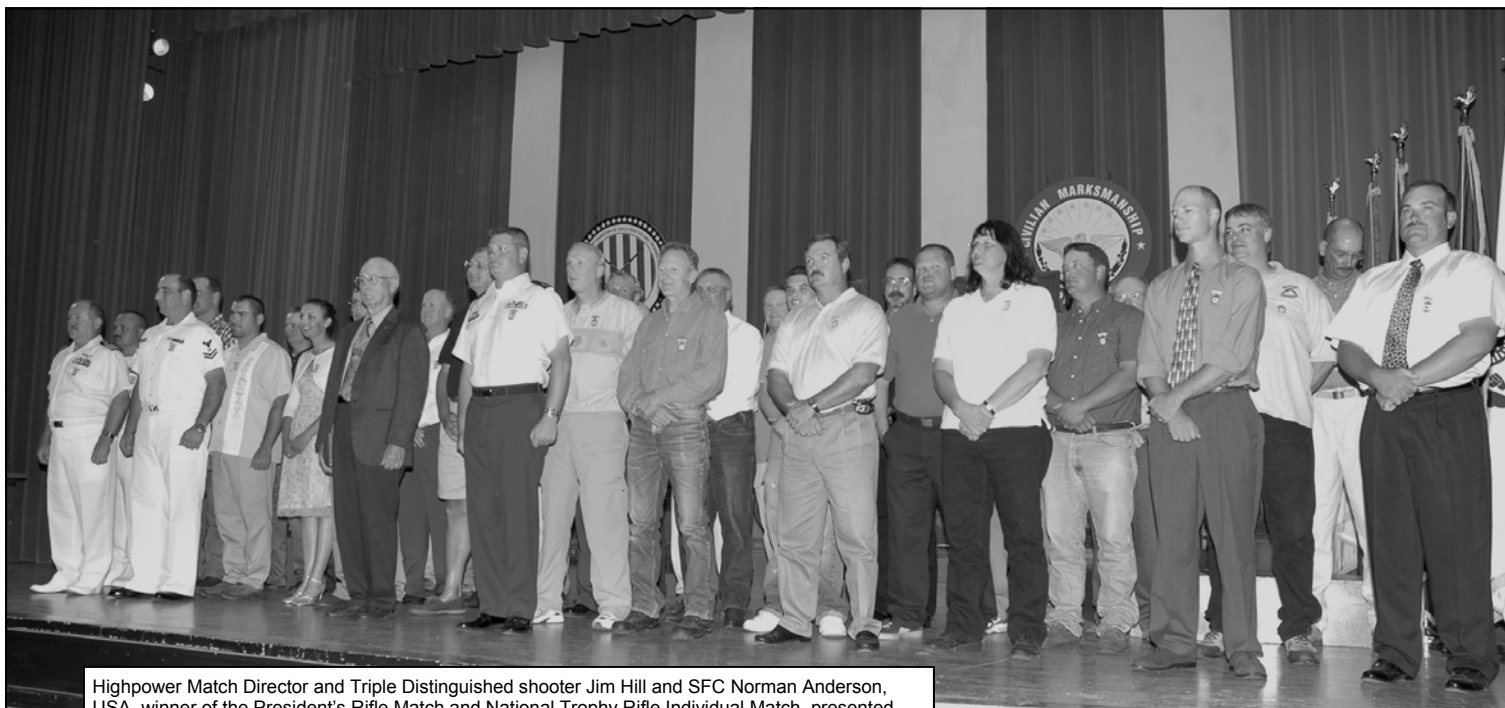

Gary Anderson, DCM

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

The Lawless Three: Three Generations at Camp Perry

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

When Barney Lawless of Fairfax, Virginia first competed at Camp Perry in 1960 he probably never imagined that one day he would be competing with both his son and grandson. That is exactly what he did this year at the 2005 National Matches.

The history of the Lawless family at Camp Perry begins with Barney Lawless who first competed in the National Matches with the 21st Corps Army Reserve in 1960. He only competed with the Army Reserve team through 1962, but continued shooting at Camp Perry until the early 1980's and earned a Distinguished Rifleman Badge.

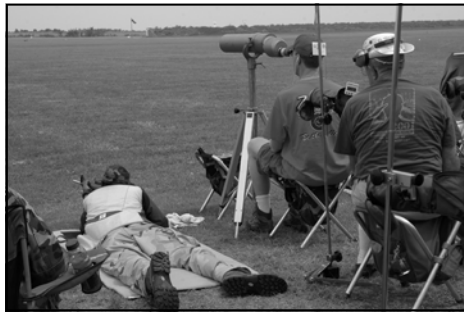

Ed Lawless in the Whistler Boy Match in 1975.

It was in 1975 that Barney got his son, Ed Lawless of Vienna, Virginia, involved in the National Matches for the first time. Ed's first experience at the National Matches was in the Whistler Boy, a match that is designated for juniors. In 1978 Ed had the distinction of being on the Virginia Rifle and Revolver Association high junior team in the National Trophy Infantry Team Match. 1978 was the first year junior teams were allowed in the competition. Ed continued to shoot until the early 1990's when he decided to take a break from shooting to spend more time with his family.

What Ed Lawless did not know then, was how much time he would one day be spending with his family on the range. He is finding that out now as his son, Peter Lawless, competes in his fourth year at the National Matches. Peter, who is only 14, first came to Camp Perry in 2002 to shoot the Garand Match, and started shooting the Whistler Boy Match in 2004. "Peter is doing really well. He achieved his Master class very quickly and I only achieved Master three years ago, which Peter likes to remind me of often," jokes Ed Lawless.

This year all three generations of Lawlesses, along with junior Kyle Thomas, teamed up in the Whistler Boy Match to form the Virginia Sport Shooting Association Lawless Team. Barney Lawless was the Team Captain and Ed Lawless was the Team Coach. The family ended the week shooting the John C. Garand Match together. "I was really excited to see all three generations on the range, and come through the matches this week together," said Barney Lawless. Hopefully next year the Lawless Three will be back on the range together at Camp Perry and for many National Matches to come.

National Matches Play Host to Australian High Power Team

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

So you think you traveled a long way to get to Camp Perry this year, well try traveling half way across the world. That's exactly what the Australian High Power Team, Aussie Roos, did for a chance to experience the U.S. National Matches. The team consisted of David Cornick, George Grivas, Aubrey Sonnenberg, David Vivian Jones, David Waters, and John Webber. All six shooters are ex-service men from Australia who were looking for the opportunity to shoot semi-automatic rifles, which have been banned in Australia since the government enforced strict gun bans in 1996.

Because of the gun bans, the team didn't even have rifles to bring to the National Matches. With the help of the several American contacts, the team was able to borrow rifles and acquire ammunition to shoot while at Camp Perry. And shoot they did, the Aussie Roos participated in every rifle match held during highpower week. "We have been very impressed and overwhelmed with how nice everyone has been, it has just been a wonderful experience," said George Grivas of Adamstown Heights in New South Wales where most of the team is from.

Several of the shooters have traveled all over the world for the opportunity to shoot and plan to come back to Camp Perry again next year. "You have to be careful of what happens in your country. Gun bans happened in Australia, England, and Canada, but crime just went up. Now we have to travel half way around the world to have a week's good shooting with friends, shooting the same rifles we used to own," said George Grivas.

Members of the group still hope that one day they can achieve a lift on the gun bans in Australia. All are members of the Australian International High Power Association, <http://www.aihpa.com>, which is working to lift the bans. Hopefully one day the Aussie Roos can invite Americans to their own National Matches, but until then they will always be welcome at Camp Perry.

Each year at the Springfield and John C. Garand Matches the prestigious military histories of these rifles are bought to life as some of the competitors in attendance dress in period uniforms. This adds a colorful and rich flair to the National Matches that is unique to the Springfield and the Garand. So who are these walking history lessons?

Fredrick Chapman, Jonathan Liebrandt (bottom middle), and John Hughes (top right) from the Southern Michigan Gun Club all participate in history reenactments in addition to dressing in period uniforms for the Matches. Their gun club also hosts a Garand match each January called "The Snow Shoot" in which competitors shoot in period uniforms from WW I to the Korean War. "Shooting in their uniforms gives you a feel for what it was like for the soldiers. I think about them as my helmet rings when I shoot," said Fredrick Chapman who wore a WW I Army uniform in the Springfield

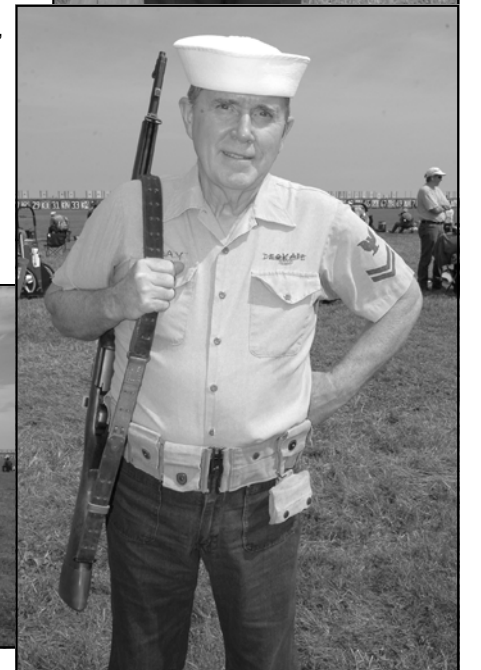

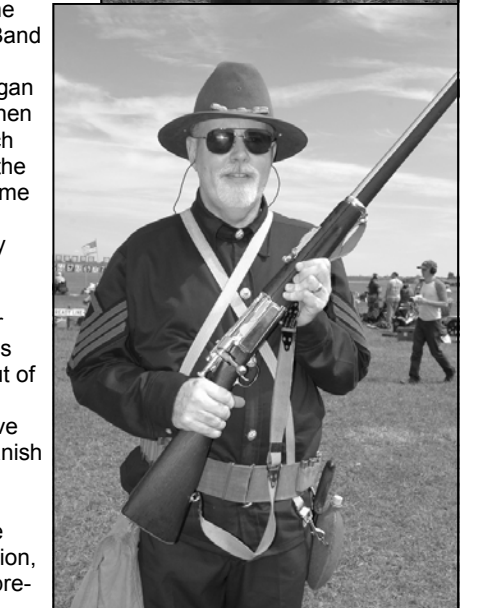

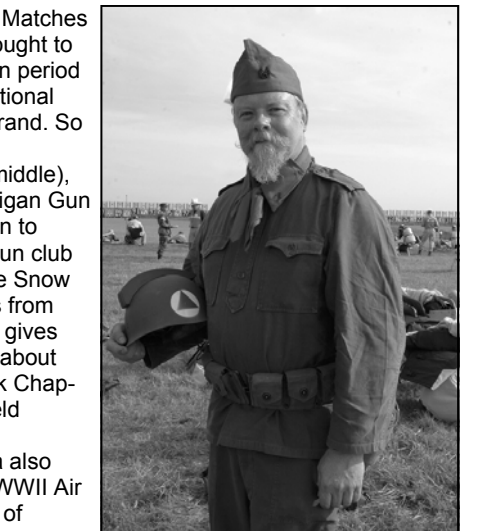

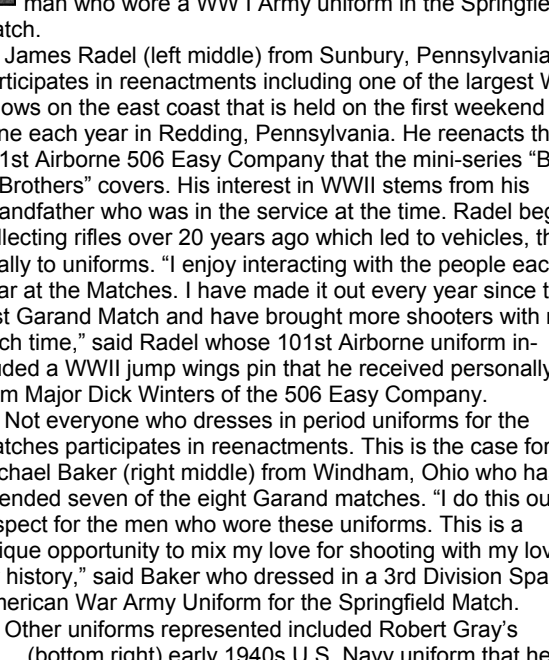

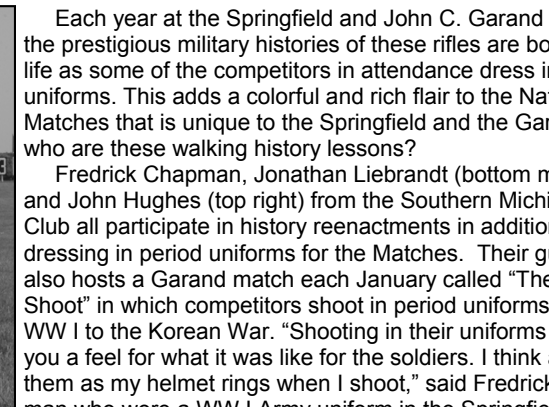

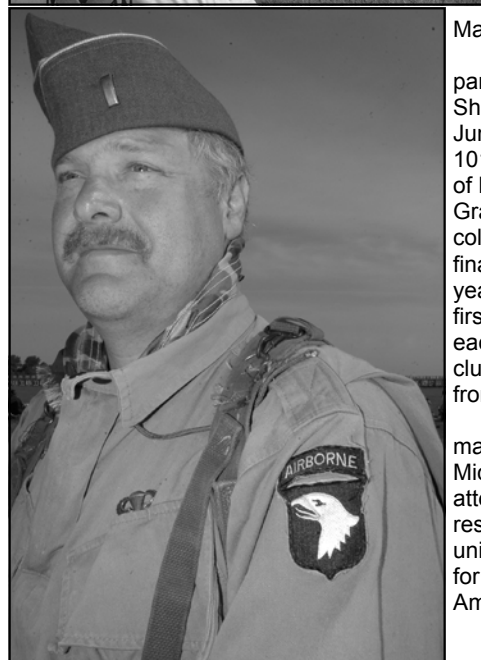

Match.

James Radel (left middle) from Sunbury, Pennsylvania also participates in reenactments including one of the largest WWII Air Shows on the east coast that is held on the first weekend of June each year in Redding, Pennsylvania. He reenacts the 101st Airborne 506 Easy Company that the mini-series "Band of Brothers" covers. His interest in WWII stems from his Grandfather who was in the service at the time. Radel began collecting rifles over 20 years ago which led to vehicles, then finally to uniforms. "I enjoy interacting with the people each year at the Matches. I have made it out every year since the first Garand Match and have brought more shooters with me each time," said Radel whose 101st Airborne uniform included a WWII jump wings pin that he received personally from Major Dick Winters of the 506 Easy Company.

Not everyone who dresses in period uniforms for the matches participates in reenactments. This is the case for Michael Baker (right middle) from Windham, Ohio who has attended seven of the eight Garand matches. "I do this out of respect for the men who wore these uniforms. This is a unique opportunity to mix my love for shooting with my love for history," said Baker who dressed in a 3rd Division Spanish American War Army Uniform for the Springfield Match.

Other uniforms represented included Robert Gray's (bottom right) early 1940s U.S. Navy uniform that he wore for the Garand Match. He traveled from Vermilion, Ohio to attend the Matches for his second year. Representing the Korean War Era was Ohio Military Reservist Warren Cook (bottom left) from South Euclid, Ohio. Cook is a member of the 521 MP Company 52nd Battalion of the Ohio Military Reserve that is comprised entirely of volunteers. He also participates in living history displays for the Korean War era.

This just a glance of the colorful people the National Matches bring together each year. Their appreciation for shooting and history have come together to enhance the experience of the Springfield

Springfield/Vintage Military Rifle Match

Junior Wins the 2005 John C. Garand Match

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

19-year-old Steven Skowronek from Irwin, PA won the 2005 John C. Garand Match with an impressive score of 292-8X. This set a new National Match record just edging out the pervious high of 292-5x fired by Antonio Samper in 2004.

The Summer of Repeats Continues

John Friguglietti Wins the Springfield Match for the Second Year

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

It's not only SFC Norman Anderson who repeated as champion at the 2005 National Matches; John Friguglietti of Denver, NC won the Springfield Match for the second year in a row. In winning, he posted a new match record score of 293-9x, edging out Jimmy Barner's record of 293-6x that has been the top score since it was fired in the first Springfield Match in 2002.

"I only started shooting two years ago and it was a friend of mine in the Marines, Richard Norman, who talked me into coming to Perry with him last year. I'm very thankful that he did," said Friguglietti, who shoots a CMP 1903 A3 Smith-Corona rifle.

697 competitors fired in the Springfield Match, which requires that competitors fire an "as-issued" M1903 Springfield. CMP Achievement Medals were awarded at the end of the match to those who fired required scores. A score of 252-264 earned Bronze medals, a 265-273 earned Silver, and a 274 or higher earned Gold. Match winner Friguglietti was honored at the Saturday evening National Trophy Matches Festival Closing when he was presented with a CMP Trophy Plaque.

On the same day, 87 additional competitors fired in the Vintage Military Rifle Match. Competitors who fire on Springfield Match day can elect to shoot either a M1903 rifle in the Springfield Match or an "as-issued," manually-operated foreign military rifle in the Vintage Military Rifle Match. Mark Looney from Springfield, Ohio won this match with a 285-8X total. Looney has been the dominant shooter in this match since its inaugural year, 2002. That year he fired a match record 290-8X to win. In 2003, he won with a 285-8X. Last year he was fourth when difficult, windy conditions kept all scores down.

All of the 784 competitors in the two matches were eligible to win a special M1903 Presentation Rifle that was beautifully crafted by Eric Pierce of the National Match Armory in Rendon, Texas (<http://www.nationalmatcharmory.com/>). To select the winner of this rifle, three competitors were drawn from each of the nine relays for an inspection of the rifles they used in the match to determine if the rifles were in compliance with CMP "as-issued" military rifle rules (CMP Rules 6.2.4 and 6.2.5, see <http://www.odcmp.com/Competitions/Rulebook.pdf>). One of the 27 rifles did not pass inspection. The rifle winner was drawn during the Saturday evening National Trophy Matches Festival. John Risley of Bonduel, Wisconsin, fired an excellent 279-7X score that placed 47th overall in the Springfield Match and earned him a gold achievement medal. More importantly in his case, his rifle passed inspection and he won the M1903 Presentation Rifle.

The Second M16 EIC Match Successfully Completed

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

The National Trophy Matches M16 EIC Match was introduced for the first time in the 2004 National Matches. The match is only open to competitors that have never earned EIC credit points towards Distinguished badges. This allows new shooters to get a jump start towards earning points and to encourage shooters to start working towards earning their badge. All competitors are issued U.S. Army rack grade M16s. When they compete, they also benefit from coaching by members of the Army and Navy Rifle Teams. At the end of the match the top 10% earn four introductory EIC points and are on their way to earning the 30 points needed to receive Distinguished badges.

The 2005 M16 EIC Match had 421 competitors. Anthony Graziano from Frackville, PA won the match with a score of 379-2x. He held a commanding six point lead over second place finisher TSgt Chad Leasure, USAF, who scored 373-9x. The cut-off for shooters who received four EIC points is 361-2x.

SFC Norman Anderson Comes From Behind to Win NTI Match

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

While temperatures continued to rise during National Trophy Rifle Matches week, SFC Norman Anderson of the Army Marksmanship Unit remained the hottest shooter on the range. SFC Anderson followed up his President's Rifle Match win with a 496-22x score on the following day to win the National Trophy Individual Match for the second year in a row. He is only the fourth person to ever win both the President's 100 and the NTI in the same year. The last person to accomplish this was SSGT Kevin R. Kistler, USMC, in 1993.

SFC Anderson dropped points early in the match that kept him out of the lead until the last stage at 600 yards. While most competitors struggled in the last stage, SFC Anderson shot one of the few perfect scores at 600 yards. His 200-11x there allowed him to gain the lead and the win. "All I tried to do today is shoot good shots. I wasn't expecting to follow up yesterday's performance. When you just boil it all down to sight alignment and trigger control, good things happen," SFC Anderson said. With the two wins, SFC Anderson also took over the lead for the prestigious Mountain Man Trophy, which he ultimately won by firing a 491-16X in the National Trophy Team Match, where he led the Army team to victory.

The top junior in the National Trophy Individual Match was James Fox from White City, OR with a 493-21x. Fox was the second highest junior in the President's Rifle Match and finished fifth overall in the NTI.

1,222 shooters competed in the National Trophy Individual Match. The final cut-off for "leg" or EIC points is 471-14X.

2005 Rimfire Sporter Nationals Biggest So Far

By Gary Anderson, DCM

One hundred eighty shooters, the highest number yet, stepped to the firing line for the fourth rendition of the CMP National Rimfire Sporter Match on Sunday, 24 July. The day started with rain, changed to calm, cloudy weather and finally ended with the strong winds. In addition to offering just about every kind of Camp Perry weather imaginable, the day featured a festival atmosphere where almost the entire CMP North staff came out to help run the match and serve a barbecue cookout at the end of the day. Many also took advantage of their visit to Camp Perry to check out the National Matches Commercial Row and the CMP Store.

The National Rimfire Sporter Match took place on Camp Perry's Viale Range. Here a junior competitor fires on the Rimfire Sporter target where standing position firing is done at 25 yards.

In Rimfire Sporter shooting, competitors fire plinking and sporter-type smallbore rifles that cannot weigh more than 7 1/2 pounds and must have at least a 3-pound trigger. Except for shooting mats or ground cloths and spotting scopes, which are permitted, special target equipment is not allowed. The idea is for shooters to use rifles that almost every gun owner already has and to keep equipment costs at a minimum so that everyone starts with an accessible, level playing field.

Chad and his son Ben Cleland from Swanton, Ohio were one of several father-son pairs at the match. Chad won a gold achievement medal while Ben won a silver medal.

Rules for the match are also designed to facilitate participation by shooters of all ages and sexes. This year's match featured an astonishing number of father-son, father-daughter, husband-wife and other family combinations. Several were shooting in their first matches ever. Match attendance was also bolstered by the fact that more clubs around the country are beginning to run these matches at the club level. Rimfire Sporter is now a featured event in the 4-H Shooting Sports National Invitational. Several 4-Hers who shot in that match in June made the trip to Camp Perry to compete.

The Rimfire Sporter target is designed to be big enough that everyone can get hits, but to also have a ten-ring that challenges the best shooters. The highest score fired in this year's match was a 590 and the highest score yet recorded is a 594, so perfect scores have proven elusive. There are two classes of competition, the T-Class for shooters who use telescopes limited to 6X and the O-Class for shooters who use traditional open sights. Semi-auto or manually-operated rifles can be used, but shooters with manually-operated rifles get a five second time bonus in rapid fire series. The adventure of using different types of rifles in this match is appealing. Shooters at Camp Perry used every type of smallbore action, semi-auto, bolt, lever, pump and straight-pull (biathlon).

The top score in the O-Class was fired by Nicholas Combs, an 18-year-old 4-H Shooting Sports club member from Sedalia, Missouri. Combs fired a 566-15X score to top the list of shooters who fired open-sighted rifles. In June, at the 4-H Shooting Sports National Invitational in Columbia, Missouri, Combs won the Rimfire Sporter competition there with an outstanding 594 score. Combs also had the third highest overall score in the T-Class with a 583-23X score fired in the high winds of the fourth relay.

The top score in the T-Class was fired by Ron Springsteen, a veteran metallic silhouette shooter from Otsego, Michigan. Springsteen fired his match-winning 590-26X score with a Thompson-Center Classic semi-auto. He also was assigned to the difficult fourth relay. Springsteen now has topped the results lists of this match for the last three years with a 583 in last year's extremely windy conditions and a 591 in 2003.

Overall, scores in this year's match were higher than in previous years. 48 different O-Class shooters were presented CMP gold, silver and bronze achievement medals during the award ceremony after the competition. In the T-Class, 72 shooters earned gold silver or bronze achievement medals. All competitors received National Rimfire Sporter T-shirts as a memento of their competition day at Camp Perry.

The 2005 match began with a well-attended clinic on Saturday afternoon and ended on Sunday evening with a barbecue cookout and lots of competitors talking about being back next year for the 5th 2006 National Rimfire Sporter Match.

Army Continues to Roll with Victory in National Trophy Team Match

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

The U. S. Army Rifle Team, designated as USAMU Praslick after the name of their coach, Staff Sergeant Emil Praslick III, produced a dominating win in the National Trophy Team Match with a 30-point victory over the second place team that represented the U. S. Marine Corps. The Marine team was designated as USMC Abbott; their coach was Gunnery Sergeant Rodney Abbott.

The National Trophy Team Match is the most prestigious team trophy that can be won in any U. S. rifle competition. The U. S. Congress provided the trophy when it established the National Matches in 1903. In the 103 years the trophy has been in competition, it has been the object of fierce rivalries between the Army, Marine Corps, All National Guard, U. S. Army Reserves and other active and reserve military teams.

The National Trophy Team Match has six person teams, with each firing member shooting the National Match Course with no sighters. The shooters pair fire in slow fire standing and prone and shoot the rapid fire series one-at-a-time. The work of the coach is especially critical in team competitions because he must determine all the wind corrections for each of the shooters.

The Army shot a score of 2931-105x to the Marines' 2901-97x. The match was close until the teams reached the 600 yard line. The Army gained a five point lead in the 200 yard standing stage and picked up five additional points in sitting rapid fire. In the third 300-yard prone rapid fire series, the Marines cut the Army's lead back to five points. At 600 yards, the Army team put on a dominating performance, gaining 25 points over the Marine team to produce their final 30 point victory margin. In addition to Praslick, members of the Army team were SSG Jason St. John, Team Captain, and firing members SFC Norman Anderson, SFC Lance Hopper, SFC Lance Dement, SFC Kyle Ward, SSG Tobie Tomlinson and SPC Brandon Green. Green, a former sporter three-position air rifle national champion, fired as the "tyro" or new shooter.

This victory adds to the list of victories SFC Norman Anderson earned during the National Matches. SFC Anderson fired a 491-16X and was the top firing member of the USAMU Praslick team. Earlier in the week, he won the President's Rifle Match and the National Trophy Rifle Individual Match, a rare double victory in the National Trophy Matches two most prestigious individual events. His scores in those matches plus the National Trophy Team Match also gave him the Mountain Man Trophy that is awarded to the shooter with the highest overall aggregate score in the President's, National Trophy Individual and National Trophy Team Matches.

The top Civilian team in the match was the Pennsylvania Rifle and Pistol Association team that was coached by William Gelet. They shot a 2887-70x and finished fourth overall. The top junior team was Colorado Blue Flames BRC who fired a 2806-50x and finished 27th overall. There were 60 teams firing in competition and 15 teams firing out-of-competition in the match.

Marine Corps Wins Infantry Trophy

By Sommer Wood, Staff Writer/Editor

The U. S. Marine Corps finally turned the tables on the Army on the last day of the 2005 National Trophy Rifle Matches. The U. S. Army Marksmanship Unit dominated the matches until the U. S. Marine Corp Rifle Team, coached by Gunnery Sergeant Rodney Abbott, pulled off an impressive victory in the National Trophy Infantry Team Match, winning with a score of 1271. The heavily favored Army team had already won the National Trophy Rifle Team Match the day before and USAMU shooters had won most of the individual competitions earlier in the week. The USAMU team had also won the Interservice Infantry Team Match the week before they arrived at the Nationals.

The Infantry Team match is often called "rattle battle" because it involves firing a large amount of ammunition in a short period of time. Six-person teams start with 384 rounds that they distribute among team members. Teams must engage eight silhouette targets while firing from the prone, first at 600 yards, then at 500 yards. When the teams move to the 300-yard line, they must shoot from the sitting position at small silhouette targets. If they have any ammunition left, they fire the remaining rounds in the standing position at 200 yards. Each time they fire, they have 50 seconds to fire as many accurate shots as they can. With M16/AR15-type rifles, highly skilled Infantry Trophy shooters can now fire 40 or more shots and get hit counts in the 30s. Hits at 600 yards count four points, at 500 yards, each hit is worth three points. Hits at 300 and 200 yards count two and one points respectively. In addition to the score for the number of hits on each target, teams earn a bonus at each yard line equal to the square of the number of targets that have six or more hits.

In the Infantry Team Match at Camp Perry, the USAMU Praslick team gambled with a load plan that called for team members to fire all of their rounds at 600 and 500 yards and to retain no ammunition for the shorter 300 and 200 yard ranges. It was a gamble that paid off in their Interservice win, but this time it did not work. The Army team missed their zeroes and the wind at 600 yards. With so much of their ammo gone, they could not recover and finished 18th with a score of 986. The U. S. Navy team was actually the second place service team.

For the second consecutive year, a civilian team placed second overall in a match that was once the exclusive province of military teams. The New York State Rifle and Pistol Association Carney team fired a 1259 total, just 12 points behind the winning USMC team, to win the Leatherneck Trophy that is awarded to the high civilian team. The high junior team and winner of the Junior Infantry Team Trophy was Arizona State Rifle and Pistol Association Gold. They fired an 1143 total and finished ninth overall. All-Guard Morgan finished seventh overall with 1169 and won the Celtic Chieftain Trophy as the high reserve component team.
