

FINAL RESULTS 2011 NATIONAL TROPHY RIFLE MATCHES

Under Secretary of the U.S. Army Westphal Rekindles President Roosevelt's Marksmanhip Mandate as National Matches Open

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Featured speaker Dr. Joseph W. Westphal, Under Secretary of the U.S. Army, echoed many of the sentiments of former president Theodore Roosevelt as he officially opened the 2011 National Matches during the First Shot Ceremony here on Rodriguez Range, Monday evening 11 July.

"Though the world has changed considerably in the last century, it is just as unsettled as it was when President Roosevelt established this competition in 1903," Dr. Westphal said as it relates to defense preparedness, marksmanship training and competition.

"If he (Roosevelt) could see what all of you have accomplished here through the National Matches, I know he would take pride in having contributed to what you have sustained so well and for so long," he said.

Dr. Westphal's comments came during the annual celebration of the opening of the National Matches which began in 1903 as a mandate from U.S. Congress to establish an annual event which features marksmanship training and recognition of national excellence in competitive target shooting, regarded by many as the 'World Series of the Shooting Sports.' The Matches, which are open to the public, feature pistol and rifle competition by the nation's finest shooters, civilian and military alike in addition to clinics, workshops and games events.

The National Matches are the result of a successful partnership between the Civilian Marksmanship Program, the National Rifle Association and the Ohio National Guard (OHNG), with the assistance of virtually all U.S. military service branches, active and reserve.

The Under Secretary's address followed a tactical maneuver demonstrated by ONG's Company B, 2nd Battalion, 19th Special Forces Group (Airborne). The assault maneuver, narrated by MSG Kevin Colwell and executed by a mock combat foot patrol of Special Forces (Green Berets) led by CPT Ryan Edwards, ONG which delivered the American Flag to master of ceremonies Gary Anderson, Director of Civilian Marksmanship, Emeritus. The flag was presented to Lorain High School Junior ROTC cadets from Lorain High School (Ohio) for raising on the Memorial Plaza flagstaff. The colors will fly over Camp Perry's ranges throughout the five-week National Matches.

Originally planned as an air assault maneuver via Blackhawk helicopter, the Green Berets entered the parade grounds on foot from adjoining Petrarca Range. Violent weather in the afternoon precluded the aircraft from flying from Rickenbacker Air National Guard Base near Columbus, Ohio.

During his remarks, Dr. Westphal related to the crowd of several hundred civilian and military shooters, members of the public and dignitaries the wishes of President Roosevelt who spearheaded the still-current legislation that mandated regular marksmanship training and competition. Roosevelt, who served as an Army colonel during the Spanish-American War, witnessed firsthand how unprepared U.S. soldiers were victimized in battle. Despite winning the conflict, the U.S. suffered disproportionate casualties due to the lack of firearms training.

"So I bring these old historic notes of long-forgotten battles, not because they are curiosities, but because they remind us of why Americans began gathering here over a century ago," Dr. Westphal said.

"It was because they knew the terrible consequences of not being ready for war. In establishing the National Matches at Camp Perry, they promoted the importance of marksmanship in the nation's defense. Today the Civilian Marksmanship Program trains some 400 marksmanship instructors a year. In addition, 200,000 to 300,000 young people and adults receive training in marksmanship and firearms safety through clubs and junior ROTC," he said.

"In a troubled world, Army readiness remains essential to the national defense. The War Department struggled mightily in 1898 to man, train, equip and sustain an army for war. Today our ability to defend the homeland could not be stronger and more capable. You have the best Army, the best Marine Corps, the best Navy and the best Air Force in the world - an all-volunteer force that is experienced, dedicated and well-trained.

"I want to congratulate you on all your accomplishments to get these events off the ground today. Through community efforts, through extensive volunteerism and hard competition, you have all contributed to our national defense. I greatly appreciate the hundreds of volunteers who have worked so hard to prepare the ranges and run the competition. They are carrying on a vital tradition of defense preparation.

"The thousands of competitors who will take part in these matches follow on the heels of millions who have benefitted directly over the decades from the marksmanship training and safety programs promoted here."

"Reflecting with regret on the casualties the U.S. took in the Spanish-American War, President Roosevelt said 'The great body of our citizens shoot less as time goes on. We should encourage rifle practice among schoolboys and indeed among all classes as well as in the military services, by every means of our power. Thus and not otherwise may we be able to assist in preserving peace in the world. The first step in the direction of preparation to avert war, if possible, and to be fit for war, if it should come, is to teach men to shoot,'" Dr. Westphal added.

Upon the conclusion of his remarks, Dr. Westphal and a special guest, Army SFC Sene Polu, fired the official first and second ceremonial opening shots of the Matches. Dr. Westphal took aim and fired a CMP-reconditioned World War II M1 Garand rifle at a remotely-detonated explosive target 600 yards downrange. SFC Polu followed, using the same rifle with the second shot, also fired at an explosive target two firing points away.

SFC Polu suffered substantial wounds all over his body from the detonation of an improvised explosive device (IED) during Operation Iraqi Freedom.

Dr. Westphal said he invited SFC Polu to assist in opening the Matches in honor of his service and that of thousands of American servicemen and women who have put themselves in harm's way for the preservation of the nation's defense.

Army SFC Sene Polu, left, joins Dr. Joseph W. Westphal after firing the first and second ceremonial first shots of the 2011 National Matches. Dr. Westphal fired the first shot with a CMP-reconditioned M1 Garand rifle and for the first time ever, SFC Polu fired a second official opening shot on a second target on Rodriguez Range at Camp Perry.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

Konrad Powers Wins 2011 President's Rifle Trophy Match and Tyler Rico Wins Junior President's Trophy

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO—Civilian shooter Konrad Powers, 41, of Carol Stream, Illinois won the storm-shortened 2011 President's Rifle Trophy Match here Monday, 1 August, with an aggregate score of 295-8X out of 300 points possible, topping SSG Ty Cooper, 26, U.S. Army and SGT Christopher Atkins, 24, U.S. Army Reserve, who placed second and third, respectively.

Due to afternoon thunderstorms that halted the competition and chased shooters from the range, there was insufficient time to fire the Top 20 Shoot-Off once firing resumed. Since its addition to the format in 2007, the shoot-off has become an exciting spectator-friendly conclusion to the prestigious individual match, which pits a 10-shot shoot-off among the top 20 President's Rifle qualifiers. The value of the 10 shots is added to the competitors' totals and determines the outcome of the match.

"We are disappointed that we couldn't conduct the shoot-off this year, but sometimes we're at the mercy of the weather and today the lightning prevailed," said Christie Sewell, CMP North General Manager.

Konrad Powers, of Carol Stream, Illinois, won the 2011 President's Rifle Trophy Match here Monday, 1 August, with an aggregate score of 295-8X out of 300 points possible.

"Our first priority was to get the day's qualification shooting completed in a safe manner and fortunately the skies cleared and all 1,251 shooters in six relays had the opportunity to fire the primary course," she said.

Powers fired a 98-3X in off-hand shooting at 200 yards, 99-3X in rapid-fire prone at 300 yards and 98-2X in prone slow-fire at 600 yards with his service rifle. Last year Powers finished 23rd, just missing the top 20 cut for the shoot-off with an aggregate score of 293-7X. In 2009 Powers made the top 20 field with a qualification score of 295-9X and finished 12th with qualification plus final aggregate of 382-10X.

Cooper, a member of the Army Marksman Unit, fired an offhand of 98-2X, a 97-2X in rapid prone and 99-4X in slow prone. He placed 14th in the 2009 President's Match and ninth last year.

Weather once again played a factor at Camp Perry during the President's Rifle Trophy Match. The competition was halted and delayed for two hours due to thunderstorms. The President's Shoot-Off was cancelled as a result but all qualification firing was completed.

Competitors checked the results bulletins throughout the day as 1,251 shooters in six relays toed the firing line in the three-position match fired at 200, 300 and 600 yards.

Atkins, of Brunswick, Georgia, fired a 96-0X, 99-5X and 98-4X, in offhand, rapid prone and slow prone, respectively. He finished in the 88th spot in 2010 and 53rd in 2009.

In junior shooting, Tyler Rico, 17, of Tucson, Arizona placed first with an aggregate score of 288-8X in an X-count tiebreaker over James London, 17, of Statesville, North Carolina who finished with a 288-4X. Rico's score also placed him 38th overall in the match. He fired scores of 95-2X, 99-5X, 94-1X in offhand, rapid prone and slow prone, respectively.

London fired 94-0X, 96-1X and 98-3X and finished 47th overall. Sagen Maddalena, 17, of Groveland, California placed third with an aggregate score of 287-5X. Her split scores were 94-0X, 96-2X and 97-3X and she placed 57th overall. Maddalena was also the fourth-ranked woman overall in the match.

Jessica Noon, 21, of Lockport, New York was the high women's scorer in the event, firing a 289-11X. Noon was followed by 1LT Julie Coggshall, 25, U.S. Army (289-7X) and Sara Rozanski, 33, of Toledo, Ohio (289-5X).

George Morgan, 60, of Portage, Pennsylvania was the high senior in the match with an aggregate score of 293-7X. Morgan, a retired National Guard shooter, was fifth overall this year and third overall in 2010.

Following Morgan in the senior category, Michael Miller, 64, of Downey, California placed second with an aggregate of 286-6X and Larry Remsnyder, 63, of Sterling Heights, Michigan who fired a total score of 283-5X.

First fired in 1878, the President's Rifle Match, a National Trophy Rifle Match, was incorporated into the National Match program after the Nationals were established in 1903. The President's Rifle and Pistol Matches have become especially prestigious because the match winners traditionally receive letters of congratulations from the President of the United States of America.

Shooters who place 100th or better in the match are given special recognition as members of the President's Hundred, a signification that is prized both in civilian and military circles as a significant badge of marksmanship achievement.

Duane Rubendall, 67, of Sycamore, Illinois, gauges the wind as shooting resumed in the afternoon following violent thunderstorms during the President's Match.

David Waters, 39, of Glenbrook, New South Wales, Australia, joined the ranks of the President's Hundred at the 2011 match. Shooters finishing in places one to 100 receive special recognition for their accomplishments. Waters placed 51st.

Rifle Small Arms Firing School Draws 615 Participants; Brian Williams Tops EIC Competitors with a 394-12X

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Brian Williams, 37, of Granby, Massachusetts, wasn't the only shooter who was happy with his score at the 2011 Small Arms Firing School Excellence-In-Competition match, but he had reason to be the happiest, firing a record-setting score of 394-12X.

Williams led all 539 non-distinguished shooters in the match and earned his first four "leg points" toward his Distinguished Rifleman badge. Fifty-four other eligible competitors earned introductory EIC points with Williams on Sunday, 31 August. Points were awarded only to the top 10 percent of competitors who were not already Distinguished and had no EIC points already.

Williams fired 100-5X and 100-4X in the prone slow-fire and rapid-fire phases. He followed with a 99-3X in the rapid-fire sitting stage and 95-0X in slow-fire standing stage. All four stages were fired from 200 yards on Viale Range.

John Dowell, 60, of LaVale, Maryland, placed second in the EIC points-eligible group with an aggregate score of 391-9X. Emily Hogg, 17 of Kennard, Texas, placed third with a total score of 390-10X.

The SAFS school, in existence since 1918, teaches civilians to safely and proficiently handle and fire small arms, such as the Army's M16 service rifle and M9 service pistol. The program is mandated by Federal law to be conducted during the National Matches. The SAFS pistol program was conducted at the outset of the National Matches in July.

The school culminates in an Excellence-In-Competition Match which enables non-distinguished rifle shooters to earn four introductory "leg" points toward a Distinguished Rifleman Badge, considered a high level of achievement in shooting sports. Shooters must accumulate 30 leg points to receive Distinguished shooter status.

Basic and Advanced SAFS students assembled at Hough Auditorium to receive introductory instruction on safe handling and operation of the M16A2/AR15 service rifle in preparation for live firing later in the day and the following morning.

Shooters enjoyed both the clear, sunny weather and 150 new Rock River Arms National Match AR15 rifles that were used for the first time at the SAFS school. Traditionally the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit provides rack grade M16 service rifles but this year the Civilian Marksmanship Program provided new rifles to take some of the burden off the AMU.

"We felt both the AMU and CMP participants would benefit from new rifles on the firing line," said Christie Sewell, CMP North General Manager. "The Army's rifles get a substantial workout each year at SAFS in addition to other training events, so we felt it would be a win-win if we provided new rifles – it's great for the shooters and the AMU's equipment gets a rest," she said.

Scores across the board improved in 2011 compared to last year. The points cut-off was 372-8X, with 57 shooters receiving EIC credit. In 2010 the cut-off was 345-3X. A total of 615 basic and advanced class students attended this year's school, 504 of which were first-timers.

The SAFS rifle program and M16 EIC Match attract new and veteran shooters alike. Attendees are provided with outstanding instruction in the classroom by members of the US Army Marksmanship Unit shooting team and approximately two hours of highly-individualized instruction on the firing line by USAMU, regular Army, Air Force, Coast Guard, Marine Corps, Navy, National Guard and Reserve shooting team members.

During the SAFS basic program, USAMU instructors discussed safe handling and the characteristics of the M16/AR15 service rifle, including clearing instructions and function. USAMU also covered range procedures and operations, range commands and scoring.

Upon completion of the basic class, attendees received hands-on instruction in rifle handling, position work, dry-firing drills and live-firing practice on Viale Range. On Sun-

Don Myers, SSgt Brady Westling and Micki Marciak are all Project Appleseed participants who came to SAFS Rifle to pick up on skills training and teaching methods.

Maj J.R. Treharne, U.S. Air National Guard, discusses proper set-up and alignment for the offhand shooting position. All military instructors are competitive rifle shooters who participate in the National Matches and share valuable time as SAFS instructors.

SGT Kristoffer Friend, U.S. Army Reserve, demonstrates a primary rule of firearms handling – checking the chamber to ensure the rifle is unloaded. SGT Friend and his team of instructors worked hand in hand with dozens of instructors in small groups on Viale Range during the practical instruction phase of SAFS Rifle.

Rifle Small Arms Firing School Draws 615 Participants; Brian Williams Tops EIC Competitors with a 394-12X Cont'd

SAFS students begin to assemble in the early morning of Sunday, 31 July in preparation for the Excellence-In-Competition service rifle match. Fifty-four competitors earned their introductory EIC points during the match.

day morning all basic course students were encouraged to fire the EIC match, also on Viale Range. Advanced SAFS students received more detailed instruction at Hough Auditorium all day Saturday and were able to fire in the M16 EIC match Sunday morning on Viale Range.

Don Myers, 58, of Waterville, Ohio, and Micki Marciniak, of Macomb, Michigan, both participated in their second SAFS Rifle school this year. Myers and Marciniak are active in Project Appleseed, a non-profit marksmanship activity of The Revolutionary War Veterans Association, dedicated to teaching America's heritage and history as well as traditional rifle marksmanship skills.

SSgt Brady Westling, 26, of Atkinson, Nebraska, is an Air National Guard highpower competitor and Project Appleseed instructor who wanted to see what SAFS was all about.

"This is great, I'm really happy to be out here with all these competitors and thankful we have this opportunity," SSgt Westling said.

George Planeta, 54, of Portland, Connecticut, attended his first ever SAFS Rifle this year.

George Planeta, 53, of Portland, Connecticut, shares a fun moment with this SAFS instructor during position and dry-firing practice.

"My sons are into highpower and I have to stay ahead of them," he said jokingly.

Planeta said he's a self-taught shooter and is always looking for help in filling holes in his shooting knowledge and thought SAFS would be beneficial. He has shot smallbore since 1974 and has competed at Camp Perry for four years.

Sam San Filippo, 15, of Cary, Illinois, had been looking forward to coming to Camp Perry for the past couple of years according to his parents, Paul, 51, and Beth, 45.

"Coming to Camp Perry is the only thing he's been talking about for two years," Beth said. "It's the Mecca of shooting."

Sam is a member of the Illinois State Rifle Association Junior Highpower Team, known as the Hard Dogs. He partnered with another Hard Dog named Sam – Sam Moser, 17, of Peoria. San Filippo and Moser came to shoot the team match and National Trophy Individual Match during highpower week.

Sam San Filippo is joined by his mom, Beth and dad, Paul during a break in SAFS practical instruction on Viale Range.

Team Remington provides instruction for Advanced Highpower Clinic at Camp Perry

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

Over 60 students participated in the Advanced Remington Highpower Clinic. All participants received two and half days of instruction, handouts, clinic t-shirt and clinic certificate.

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – The Advanced Remington-Bushmaster Highpower Clinic, led by retired U.S. Marine Ken Roxburgh and his team of top shooters from Remington-Bushmaster, provided expert service rifle marksmanship instruction and competition techniques to more than 60 shooters during this year's National Matches.

The clinic parallels the USMC Junior Service Rifle Clinic that's offered to younger competitors but delves into much greater detail. A team of expert service rifle shooters and coaches that comprise the Remington-Bushmaster Team joined Roxburgh in classroom instruction and on the range for a full day of practical application using dry-firing and drills.

"It was an outstanding experience," said Ed Harrison, 61, of Newton Falls, Ohio. "The course took me much deeper into the discipline of highpower shooting than I had ever been before."

The clinic concludes with an expert shooter panel discussion on Sunday morning and an opportunity to participate in the squadded practice on Rodriguez Range at Camp Perry.

Roxburgh is a former Staff Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge of the USMC Shooting Teams and he currently serves as Director of Remington's Highpower Programs. Roxburgh's no-nonsense, Marine Corps-inspired teaching kept students on their toes, but each walked away with some of the finest competitive service rifle tools available to the civilian shooting community.

Remington provided seven expert Highpower instructors to conduct the CMP/Remington Advanced Clinic at Camp Perry during the National Matches. Remington also instructs the Highpower Clinics at the Eastern & Western Creedmoor Cup Matches.

A Remington instructor works with a clinic student during the dry firing portion of the Advanced Highpower Clinic. There is no live firing in the clinic but students snap in and dry fire in each shooting position.

Arizona's Fredric Fadeley Wins Excellence in Competition Match at CMP-USMC Junior Highpower Clinic at Camp Perry

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Fredric Fadeley, 18, of Phoenix, Arizona capped the 2011 CMP-USMC Junior Highpower Clinic by leading all eligible competitors in the Excellence-In-Competition service rifle match. He ranked fifth out of all shooters which include Distinguished shooters and those who have already earned introductory points.

Fadeley fired a 472-7X aggregate score in the match on 31 July and earned four introductory "leg" points toward his Distinguished Rifle Badge. The match followed the annual junior clinic offered by the CMP and U.S. Marine Corps service rifle team.

The clinic is one of the most popular CMP youth marksmanship programs during the National Matches that was created for a growing number of juniors who participate in highpower service rifle shooting, usually as members of state association junior highpower teams.

Fadeley fired an 89-0X in standing, a 99-1X in sitting, a 98-4X prone rapid-fire and a 186-2X in the 20-shot prone stage.

Joseph Kendrick, 16, of Gilbert, Arizona placed second in the EIC points race with a 471-12X aggregate. Lane Ichord, 17, of Waterford, California placed third, tying Kendrick but following with a lower X-count with a score of 471-5X.

The top 10 percent of competitors in an EIC match are eligible to win points toward their Distinguished Rifle Badge. With 102 eligible participants in this year's match, the top 10 earned introductory points. The cut score was 463-2X – here are the 2011 CMP-USMC EIC points winners:

- Fredric Fadeley Phoenix, AZ
- Joseph Kendrick Gilbert, AZ
- Lane Ichord Waterford, CA
- Donnie Smith Payson, AZ
- Steven Paci, Jr. Centereach, NY
- Kayla Swenson Mi Wuk Village, CA
- Paul Kalman Jr. Mandeville, LA
- Daniel Hall Green Bay, WI
- Lee Greenwood Ceres, CA
- Blake Earnes Lafayette, CA

The overall match leader was Sagen Maddalena, 17, of Groveland, California, with an aggregate score of 482-13X, which ties her with last year's record-setter, Travis Burian, for the highest overall score fired in the match. Morgan Fadeley, 16, of Phoenix, was second overall (481-12X) and Adam Swint, 18, of Portland, Oregon was third (475-8X).

Clinic participants must have some previous highpower rifle competition experience and must have attended the Rifle Small Arms Firing School or the Eastern Junior Highpower Clinic at Butner, North Carolina. The CMP organizes the clinic and members of the U.S. Marine Corps Rifle Team provide instruction.

The clinic lasts three days and includes both class instruction including effects of the weather, how to properly use and modify equipment, the rulebook requirements for shooting positions and juniors will compete in an Introductory EIC leg match.

Days two and three are spent shooting on the range firing at 200, 300 and 600 yards where juniors fire while being coached by a Marine Corps Rifle Team shooter. All students who complete the clinic receive a CMP-USMC Highpower Rifle Clinic T-shirt, certificate and school handout materials.

Sloan Sobieski, 13, of Amherst, Ohio, participated in the Small Arms Firing School last year and said he was ready for more advanced training in 2011.

Inaugural Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Match a Huge Success

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Mike Barranco and Mike Miller were winners at the 2011 National Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Match, but if you ask around, so were the other 284 shooters that made up the remaining 142 two-person teams in the first match of its kind at Camp Perry.

Barranco, 46, of Irvine, California, and Miller, 64, of Downey, California, were consistent at both 300 and 600 yards, with Barranco firing 98-3X at 300 compared to Miller's 97-2X. At 600, both shooters fired 98-2X, giving Barranco an aggregate of 196-5X and Miller a 195-4X. Together, Mike and Mike set the bar for future matches at 391-9X.

"We were shooting Mike Miller's reproduction M1903A4 that he topped with an original Weaver 330C scope," Barranco said.

Barranco's and Miller's performance barely eclipsed that of Robert Steketee, 61, of Haslett, Michigan, and Thomas Dean, 57, of Perry, Michigan, who placed second with a score of 390-11X. Dennis DeMille, 46, of Oceanside, California and Glendale "Don" Rutherford, 59, of Tallapoosa, Georgia, finished third with a total score of 389-13X.

Bob Schanen, 62, of Brookfield, Wisconsin, who fired with Jerome Van Treeck, 64, of Racine, Wisconsin, on the fourth place team, registered the high-scoring individual aggregate of the match with a 197-9X. Schanen fired 99-7X and 98-2X at 300 and 600 yards, respectively. Bret Newton, 51, of Bakersfield, California, and Ronald Wager, 52, of Atascadero, California, rounded out the top five with an aggregate of 386-14X.

Sponsored by SOG Specialty Knives & Tools, Bob Schanen, 62, of Brookfield, Wisconsin, fired the high individual score of 197-9X in the 2011 National Vintage Sniper Rifle Team match. Schanen teamed with Dave Emery to win in the 2010 Western Games sniper rifle test match at Ben Avery Shooting Facility in Phoenix.

Mike Barranco, left, and Mike Miller, middle, on stage with Dave Emery, of Hornady, with the new Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Trophy, which was donated to the CMP's National Trophy collection by Hornady.

Gary Leginza, 47, of Livonia, Michigan, Steketee, Barranco and Douglas Armstrong, 51, of Lexington, North Carolina, each fired 196 individual scores in the match. DeMille, Thomas Torborg, 39, of Blaine, Minnesota, Robert Boxler, 48, of Akron, Ohio, and David Beebe, 52, of North Olmsted, each fired 100 in the 300-yard stage. Barranco, Miller, Schanen and Rutherford led all shooters with 98 at 600 yards.

The consensus reaction to the Camp Perry version of the match from participants was "lots of fun – can't wait until the next one." Tested at smaller venues at last fall's CMP Western Games and officially introduced in April at the CMP Eastern Games, the Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Match was eagerly anticipated on the Camp Perry stage.

Because of the critical timing of target exposure, communication and pit service were of paramount importance. It was imperative that competitors got their targets marked and raised on command. Shooters didn't have the advantage of automatic electric target carriers like those at Camp Butner, North Carolina, home of the Eastern Games.

"I thought the match went great – for as many times the targets had to come up and down in a timely manner – I can't believe there were not alibis. There were no range ali-bis – it was perfect,” said Steve Wickersham, 28, of Omaha, Nebraska.

Wickersham and his teammate, Glenn Ward, 60, of Bellevue, Nebraska, shot the match for the first time at the National Matches. They were accompanied by a half dozen other shooters from the Eastern Nebraska Gun Club.

Bill Keil, 40, of Omaha, Nebraska, runs the ENGC's highpower program. Though he fired other matches during the week, he chose to observe the Vintage Sniper match so he could make notes and take them back home while watching Wickersham and Ward, he said.

“We've got about eight of us that came out to Camp Perry – some of the guys have been coming for 11 years and a lot of us have been here three or four times,” Keil said. “I decided to take some time off to shoot pictures and observe.”

“Honestly, we just ran a couple of trial Vintage Sniper matches back at ENGC and I was a little leery about it, but now that we've seen it work, I'll be bringing my M1D back to shoot this next year,” Keil said.

When asked what he liked most about the match, Wickersham said “The fact that I can use a scope - because my eyes are toast.”

“This match is going to bring a lot of older shooters back into the sport that walked away because of their failing eyesight. The fact that they can use a scope makes a huge difference.”

Fred Gowen, 63, of North Reading, Massachusetts, and Bob Greenwood, 54, of Methuen, Massachusetts, fired the match for the first time and both were enthusiastic about the experience.

“Having a format to shoot these kinds of rifles is nothing but great. You've (CMP) got to keep doing it.

Steve Wickersham and Bill Keil, both of Omaha, are members of the Eastern Nebraska Gun Club and are veteran Camp Perry shooters who were impressed by the new match. Wickersham said scoped rifles are going to bring back many vintage rifle shooters whose eyes could no longer handle open sights.

Barranco and Miller Provide Insight on Winning Inaugural Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

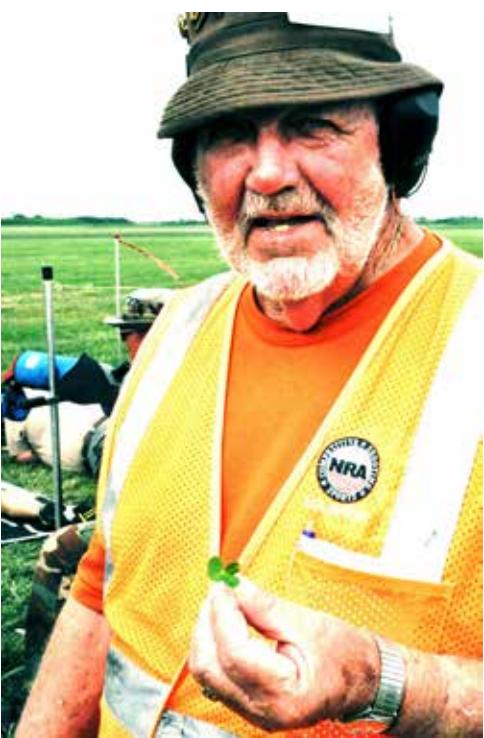

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – As they left the 600-yard firing line on Viale Range, Mike Barranco and Mike Miller acknowledged they shot well in the National Matches debut of the Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Match here on Wednesday, 3 August, but neither was aware that it was good enough to win the match.

When the scores were tallied, there were just two points separating first to third place.

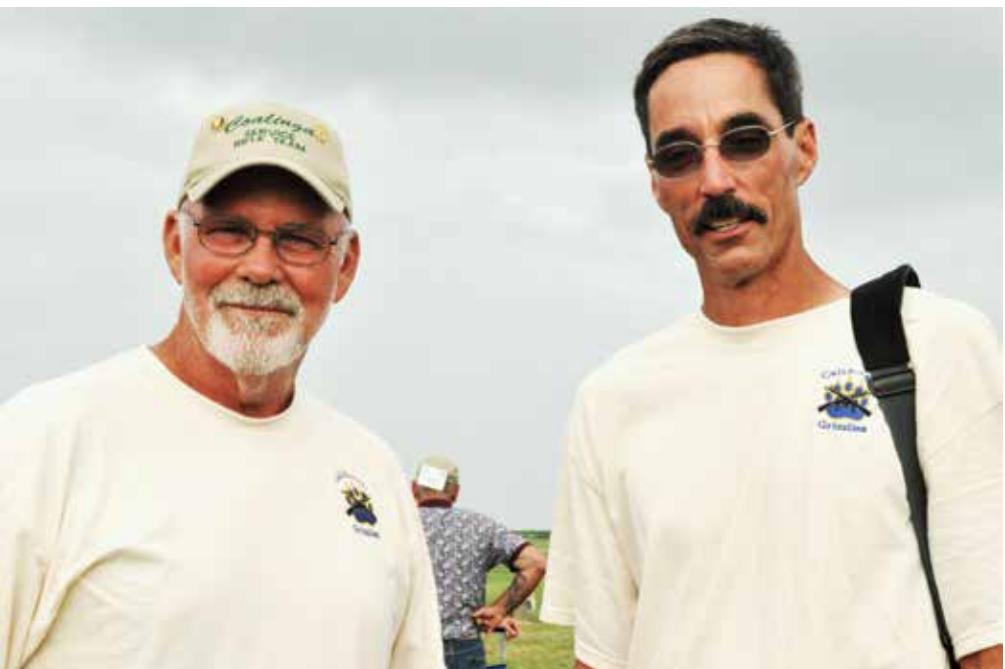

"We shot pretty well – I think we're probably in third," Barranco said moments after the conclusion of the new two-person CMP Games match. Barranco's and Miller's 391-9X aggregate just eclipsed that of Robert Steketee and Thomas Dean, who placed second with a score of 390-11X. Dennis DeMille and Glendale "Don" Rutherford finished third with a total score of 389-13X.

Barranco, 46, of Irvine, California and Miller, 64, of Downey, California, were consistent at both 300 and 600 yards, with Barranco firing 98-3X at 300 compared to Miller's 97-2X. At 600, both shooters fired 98-2X, giving Barranco an aggregate of 196-5X and Miller a 195-4X.

an original Weaver 330C scope," Barranco said.

"We fired Mike's hand loads with 168-grain Hornady A-Max bullets. In his testing before going to Camp Perry, the combination proved very accurate. To get sufficient elevation adjustment, Mike put a shim under the scope base," he continued.

As a side note, Miller said he suspected many teams who had not fired their rifle at a 600-yard range may have discovered during the match that they maxed out their scope's elevation adjustment at 600 yards and had to hold somewhere above the bull's eye.

"It's one of those things that guys will sort out next time. We're fortunate to have a full 600-yard range at the Burbank Rifle and Revolver Club (California), where Mike tested the rifle," Barranco said.

"I had never shot the rifle before the match. What I expected was that the tiny 2.5 power Weaver scope would be a handicap at the distances we'd be shooting, but it wasn't bad," he said. "I think more magnification would be better."

"We saw many teams using 8-power Unertl scopes on the Springfield and that would be my first choice if I were building a rifle for this match."

The second place team, Steketee and Dean, are accomplished shooters and they were using this set-up, Miller added.

Dave Emery, left, becomes the shooter as his teammate and TV and film personality, Gunny R. Lee Ermey exits the firing point to become Emery's spotter.

Hornady Manufacturing Chief Ballistic Scientist, Dave Emery, explains some of the elements of the Vintage Sniper Rifle Team Match at a clinic in advance of the match.

"Once we dialed some wind on the scope at 300, I think we just kept holding in the center. At 600, I recall we did "chase the spotter" and tried to hold a bit left or right, based on the previous shot, to correct for wind," Barranco said.

"There must have been some good luck involved, not taking a shot when the wind had picked-up or let-off, that let us outscore some good shooters that were competing," Miller followed.

"The 20 seconds the target is up is more than enough time to take a good shot. I mean, the targets aren't moving and they're coming up at the same location every time. So anyone who is able to shoot prone and has a decent rifle/scope/ammunition combination could do well," he added.

Miller fired the trial match in Phoenix last October at the CMP Western Games at Ben Avery Shooting Facility and that experience gave him an inkling of what to expect at Camp Perry this summer.

"At Camp Perry, he (Miller) did all the work and all I had to do was show up and shoot," Barranco said. "When Mike shot the test match at the Western Games in Phoenix, he used an M1D. I wasn't there, but I recall that he said it wasn't an ideal set-up."

"The M84 scope on the M1D has that neat looking "sniper" crosshair, the one that looks like the Washington Monument, with a thin horizontal stadia. It's not well-suited for shooting a bull's eye target because it's hard to get consistent elevation. The tip of that post disappears into the black," Barranco said.

"The Weaver 330C we used has a regular crosshair. It's in nice condition and has a clear view. A lot of the older scopes haven't held up so well and finding one that doesn't have a hazy view will probably take some searching, especially now that a lot of guys are looking for them," Miller explained.

Vintage Sniper Military Rifle Team shooters looking for the next opportunity to fire the match are invited to participate at the 2011 CMP Western Games at Ben Avery on Tuesday, 18 October.

The CMP Western Games will also feature the traditional three-gun aggregate series consisting of the John C. Garand, Springfield and Vintage Military Rifle (GSM) matches, plus an as-issued Garand EIC Match. The event also includes a new-shooter GSM clinic plus Rimfire Sporter and M1 Carbine matches. A barbecue will follow the Rimfire Sporter Match and achievement medal presentations will conclude each day's festivities.

CMP rifle and ammunition sales will be conducted each day of the Western Games. The Creedmoor Cup highpower matches will follow Wednesday through Sunday, 19-23 October at Ben Avery.

Several very good scores were recorded at the inaugural sniper match at Camp Perry. Match winners Mike Barranco and Mike Miller expect scores to get even better at future matches as shooters get acquainted with the new format.

John Butcher Wins 2011 M1 Carbine Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – While some consider it the M1 Garand's little brother, it's now one of the biggest rifles in John Butcher's gun cabinet. Butcher, 46, of Grafton, Ohio, fired an aggregate score of 371-6X, winning the 2011 M1 Carbine Match by a five-point margin and came up two points shy of the match record set by David Chase (373-7X) in 2007.

Butcher fired 95-3X in prone slow-fire, 90-0X in prone rapid-fire; a strong 95-3X in sitting rapid-fire and finished with a 91-0X offhand stage. An elated Butcher said afterward he wasn't sure if his score would hold up for the win, but once it was official he said he was honored to win the championship among the field of 518 M1 Carbine competitors.

Not known as a match rifle due to its short barrel, finicky appetite for the correct ammunition and noisy delivery, the short rifle makes the M1 Carbine Match a challenging one. Since the match's inception in 2007, John Friguglietti, Jr. has won the match twice (in 2008 and '09); David Chase won the inaugural match in 2007 and James Sinclair won it last year and Butcher is this year's champ. The match is fired at 100 yards on Camp Perry's Rodriguez Range on static targets.

CMP Board Member Marsha Beasley presents the M1 Carbine Trophy plaque to John Butcher, the winner of the 2011 M1 Carbine Match. Butcher improved his score since the match's inception in 2007 and reached the top this year.

Because of its short stature and light weight, shooters must find ways to anchor the M1 Carbine prior to the shot, particularly during the standing stage where wobble is a major factor.

Jeff Adkins, 52, of North Lewisburg, Ohio, has turned marksmanship into a hobby. The retired regular Army and National Guardsman said now he shoots for fun. Adkins said he enjoys the camaraderie he shares with fellow shooters when he comes to Camp Perry to shoot in the John C. Garand, M1 Carbine and Vintage Military matches.

Butcher has been scratching and clawing to get to the top of the M1 Carbine heap, firing in four out of five opportunities. He finished 162nd in 2007, 90th in 2008, fifth last year and first this summer.

MSgt Gregory Blackstock, Air National Guard, 43, placed second with an aggregate score of 366-8X, and third place went to James Civitello, 54, of Spencerport, New York, who fired a 364-6X.

The high junior carbine shooter was Stephen Tupta, 18, of McMurray, Pennsylvania, who shot a 353-1X. Ian Foos, 14, of Bellevue, Ohio, fired a 341-2X and Gabe Rampy, 13, of Bremen, Georgia, placed third with an aggregate score of 329-2X.

Steve Falk, 53, of Phoenixville, Pennsylvania and his son Donny, 14, took a momentary break between stages of the M1 Carbine match on 4 August. The Falks and some shooting companions from the Philadelphia area have enjoyed the confines of the Camp Perry huts for the last few years as part of their National Matches adventure.

A stiff headwind and cooler temperatures greeted M1 Carbine shooters after several days of 90-degree heat and high humidity on M1 Carbine day.

DeMille Wins Springfield, Langham is Tops in Vintage Military & Rutherford Takes GSM Top Gun Crown

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Dennis DeMille, 46, of Oceanside, California fired a rare 100-4X in the standing stage of the 2011 Springfield Rifle Match, winning the event and setting a new record in the process. DeMille's 297-8X aggregate score toppled the former record of 295-6X set by Douglas Armstrong last year.

DeMille, a former U.S. Marine rifle team member, fired a 98-2X in slow-fire prone, and a 99-2X rapid-fire prone in addition to an outstanding offhand stage.

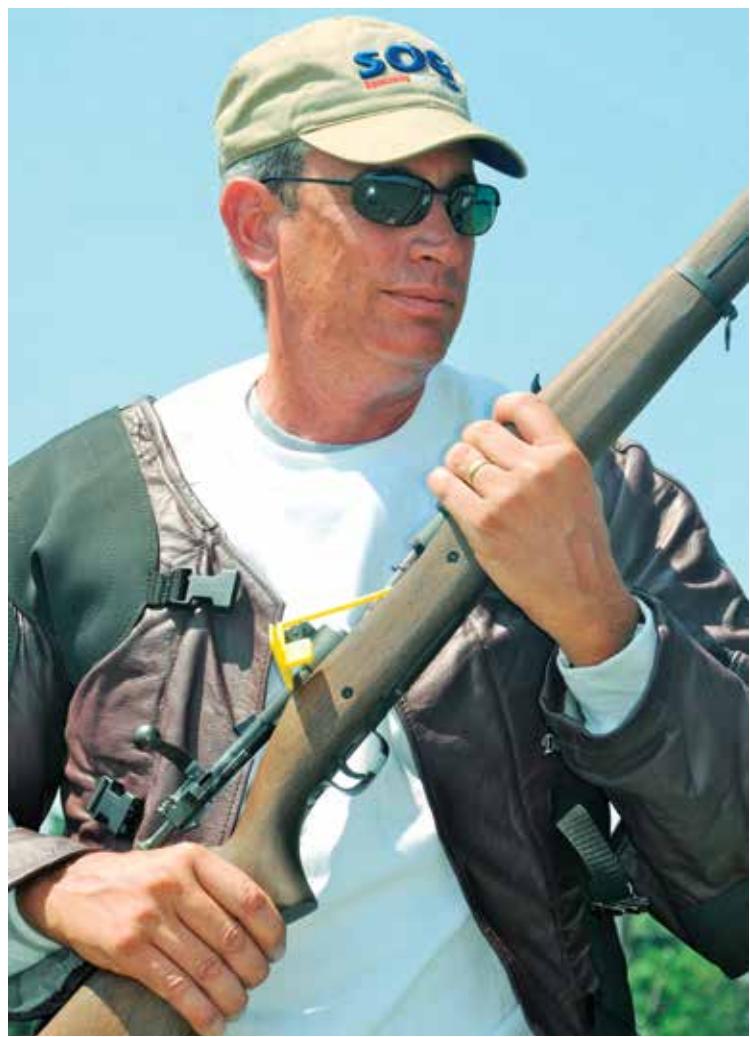

MSgt Julia Watson, USMC, placed second with an aggregate score of 293-4X and Glendale “Don” Rutherford, 59, of Tallapoosa, Georgia, placed third with a total score of 292-4X. MSgt Watson had just come off of fine individual performances in the National Trophy Team Rifle (NTT) Match and the National Trophy Rifle Individual Match (NTI) earlier in the week.

Robert Hudson II, 15, of Halifax, Virginia, was the high junior Springfield competitor, firing a 278-5X. Hudson was followed by Matthew Pascual, 17, of Mountainhome, Pennsylvania, as the second place junior and John McDonald, 19, of Waco, Texas, was third, shooting an aggregate score of 268-4X.

The high Springfield Match senior was Donald Tryce, 62, of Austin, Texas, who virtually tied his own National Springfield Match record with an aggregate score of 290-6X. Tryce set a new record of 290-9X last year. He fired a 99-2X, 97-2X and 94-2X.

Ralph Kumher, 62, of West Farmington, Ohio, placed second in the Springfield Rifle Match senior division with a 288-5X and Duane Rubendall, 67, of Sycamore, Illinois, placed third with an aggregate score of 285-9X.

The Springfield Rifle Match is an event where all competitors must fire “as-issued” M1903 or M1903A3 rifles that comply with CMP rules for as-issued military rifles. As a CMP Games event, the Springfield Match stresses participation, camaraderie Dennis DeMille set a new record of 297-8X in the 2011 Springfield Rifle Match. DeMille capped his record-setting match with a 100-4X in the final offhand stage.

Robert Hudson II was the high junior shooter in the 2011 Springfield Rifle Match, firing a 278-5X.

Robert Steketee Wins 2011 As-Issued John C. Garand Match in Tie-Breaker over John Hefner

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Robert Steketee, 61, of Haslett, Michigan, won the 2011 John C. Garand Match in a 3X tie-breaker over John Hefner, 28, of Gilmerton, Texas, on Saturday, 6 August. Both shooters fired 292, just missing the match record set by Kurt Palmer (293-6X) in 2009. Steketee broke the X-ring 11 times to Hefner's eight to decide the match.

Steketee and Hefner both cleaned their prone slow-fire stages (perfect 100's) and Hefner followed with all 10's in his prone rapid-fire stage, edging Steketee who fired a 98. The Michigander returned the favor in the offhand stage, firing a 94 to the Texan's 92 which deadlocked the pair at 292. Steketee's 7 to 4 X-count in prone slow-fire was a deciding factor in the win.

Franco Scarpino, 64, of Pembroke, Massachusetts, placed third with an x-count tie-breaker over Steven Skow-

Robert Steketee, left, was recognized by Jim Adell, Garand Collectors Association board member, center, and COL John Harris Jr., Ohio Army National Guard Assistant Adjutant General, as the winner and high senior of the 2011 John C. Garand Match. Steketee was also the high Garand shooter in the President's Rifle Trophy Match.

- Commercial, replica or foreign manufactured M1 Garands.
- M1 Garands with U.S. Government glass bedding or shims.

The John C. Garand Match brought out 1,213 shooters in 2011. Twelve years ago, the CMP inaugurated the match and, with it, an exciting new concept in target competition. The Garand Match is a unique competition where shooters fire older "as-issued" military rifles over a course of fire that makes target shooting accessible to thousands of shooters, many of whom do not participate in traditional target competitions.

The Garand Match, like CMPs associated games matches; give shooters the opportunity to reenact military and marksmanship history and the feature camaraderie and a relaxed, fun-filled, yet challenging experience.

A spent .30-06 cartridge and M1 Garand eight-round clip eject from the action of a competitor's rifle as she fires her last rapid-fire shot.

Led by J.J. O'Shea, founder of the M1 for Vets organization, all in attendance at the Games Matches awards ceremony bowed their heads for a minute of silence in recognition of recent fallen armed service members serving overseas. M1 for Vets provides opportunities for wounded veterans to participate in rifle matches across the country.

Travis Rushing received a certificate for the Unlimited Garand Match winner. Presenter: COL John Harris Jr.

Adam Kobos, 26, of Chicago, Illinois, left, enjoyed his fifth year at Camp Perry and Dennis Boyle, 27, of Greenwood, Indiana made this third appearance at the National Matches in 2011. Both competitors were shooting the Garand and Vintage Military rifle matches.

Peter Kastelen, 28, of Commerce Township, Michigan, left, and Chad Harris, 28 of Madison Heights, Michigan made their first trip to Camp Perry for the John C. Garand Match and used Harris' M1 rifle. Both said they are looking forward to coming back next year.

Members of the Garand Collectors Association Blind Hogs rifle team were awarded first place plaques for winning the high Garand team category during the National Trophy Infantry Team Match. GCA Blind Hogs also set a new record of 751.

Opalewski Wins O-Class, Boord Wins T-Class and Villanueva Wins Tactical at 2011 National Rimfire Sporter Championship

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO - Calm conditions and sunny skies prevailed as three previous champions set new national records in all three classes in the 2011 National Rimfire Sporter Championship fired here Sunday, 24 July.

Charles J. Opalewski II, Lucas Boord and Ron Villanueva, all past champions, once again reached the top of the podium at this year's event which also brought out a record number of 480 match entries.

Opalewski, 21, of Vicksburg, Michigan, won the open sights class with a national record aggregate score of 586-21X in the six-stage, 600-point, three-position match. He fired a clean 100-3X in the standing slow-fire stage en route to the win.

The 2010 champion, CSM Steven Slee, U.S. Army Reserve, 47, of Dimondale, Michigan, finished one point behind Opalewski with a 585-19X performance and three-time O-Class champion Robert Elka, 47, of Willis, Michigan placed third with an aggregate of 581-21X. Opalewski surpassed Slee's 2010 record score of 584-25x.

Lucas Boord defended his 2010 telescopic class championship with a total score of 597-39X, smashing his own national record of 593-34X in the process. Boord, 21, of New Stanton, Pennsylvania, fired perfect 100s in prone slow-fire and rapid-fire, sit-

Theodore James, 32, of Gibsonburg, Ohio, placed second in T-Class with an aggregate score of 596-45X and Ron Villanueva, 46, of Parma Heights, Ohio, placed third, one point behind James, with a total score of 595-30X.

Villanueva wasted no time climbing back to the top, winning his first tactical rifle class championship with a new national record aggregate score of 590-27X. It was the second year for the tactical class at the national event, won last year by Mike Krites of Cridersville, Ohio with a score of 566-18X.

Villanueva cleaned his first three stages of fire and also fired a 99-4X in standing rapid-fire.

Jake Perry, 26, of Rossford, Ohio, won second place with an aggregate score of 588-21X and Andy Miller, 37, of Coshcotton, Ohio, captured third place with a score of 584-24X.

The tactical rimfire category is growing rapidly, as this year's entry of 55 shooters more than doubled last year's 22. Legal tactical rimfire rifles must comply with the requirements for overall weight and trigger pull and have a configuration that is similar to common AR and modern military rifles. Tactical rimfire rifles may have either aperture or optical sights (no higher than 6X). If the length of pull on the butt-stock is adjustable, the length adjustment must remain the same for all three positions in the Rimfire Sporter course of fire.

In junior shooting, Amos Peck, 18, of Leslie, Michigan, won the overall O-Class competition with an aggregate score of CAMP PERRY, OHIO – What started as an introductory recreational match in 2002, the National Rimfire Sporter Match is now bigger and better than ever following its 10th firing here Sunday, 24 July.

Since the John C. Garand Match had proven so successful in getting M1 Garand owners involved in fun-oriented target shooting competitions, the Civilian Marksmanship Program decided it was time to create a “Garand Match for Rimfires.”

The new match was tested in Georgia in April 2002 which was followed by the first National Rimfire Sporter Match at the National Matches that year. Like today, the first match began with a clinic that covered safety and range procedures, course of fire and shooting techniques. Chief Range Officer Duane Tallman, of Jonesboro, Georgia was the first clinic instructor.

On July 20 of that year, 41 enthusiastic shooters participated in the first National Rimfire Sporter Match at Camp Perry on July 20. Russell Kapping of Buffalo Lake, Minnesota fired a 582 with a telescopic sight (T-Class), and Phil Croyle of Cleveland, Ohio fired a 529 in the O-Class (open sights). Kapping used a scope-sighted Ruger M10/22 semi-auto and Kapping fired a CZ-452 bolt action rifle. Overall, 10 shooters won gold achievement medals, two won silver medals and six won bronze.

In 2011 four relays with nearly 500 entries fired the match in the biggest turnout ever. Since the program’s inception, the CMP has tweaked the program, adding a Tactical Rimfire class and an Adult-Junior team element in 2010. Though some refinements to the course of fire have been made, the core purpose of introducing recreational competitors to a larger, family-oriented audience remains the same.

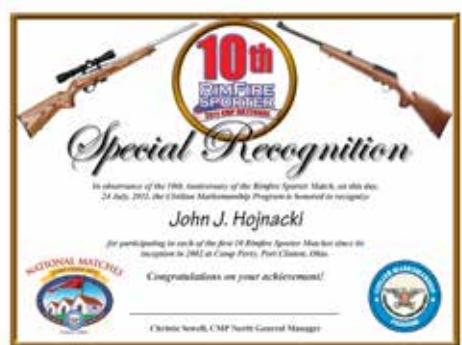

CMP gave special recognition to six shooters at this year’s National Matches who have participated in all 10 National Rimfire Sporter

Saginaw, Michigan area residents Mike Mullally, 64, and his grandson, Briar, 14, enjoyed their second National Rimfire Sporter Championship and the father-daughter team of Donald LaBeff, 56, and Amanda LaBeff, 29, participated for the first time.

The Rimfire Sporter Match provides an excellent opportunity for families to come to the range where each member of the family can participate in recreational target shooting in a friendly, safe environment.

Each of the six shooters who have participated in all 10 Rimfire Sporter matches received this certificate.

Enthusiasm for Competitive Recreational Match Grows as National Rimfire Sporter Celebrates its 10-Year Anniversary Cont'd matches. They are: Ernest Oelker, 65, of Youngstown, Ohio; Leo Sejnowski, Jr., 64, of Eastlake, Ohio; Keith Custard, 60, of Beaver, Pennsylvania; Roger Wedge, 53, of Fostoria, Ohio; Rex Walter, 52, of Ellwood City, Pennsylvania and John Hojnacki, 51, of Homerville, Ohio. Each 10th anniversary competitor was presented a commemorative certificate of appreciation.

Mike Krites, 54, of Cridersville, Ohio, the 2010 Tactical Rimfire champion, was back for his fourth year of competition and came to the match with Dave May, 58, of Spencerville, Ohio who fired in his third Rimfire Sporter match this year.

Both shooters said they enjoyed their return to Camp Perry and agreed the match is great for bringing young shooters into the sport, citing that it is more laid back.

Krites plans to bring his son-in-law, currently serving the military in Iraq and his grandson to the matches next year.

"I really enjoy it – there's no special equipment or reloading required and the volunteers who do the running around make this a good event," he said.

Thomas Reed, 37, of Muscle Shoals, Alabama, participated in his first rimfire sporter match and earned a bronze achievement medal.

"I was one point away from gold in practice, but it's different up here," he said. "I am thrilled to be here and I'm tickled with a bronze medal," he said. "I've met the nicest bunch of people here and you get that feeling when you come into Camp Perry – it's a rush," he said.

Coach Mike Ripley, 44, of Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania, and a dozen or so shooters from the Moraine Conservation and Sportsmen's Association in Butler, PA, made the trip to the National Rimfire Sporter Match to help work on fundamentals and give their team the experience of shooting on a big range at a national event.

"It's a great event – we're meeting people from all over the U.S., including some friends we've made from Arizona and Iowa," he said.

The Sandusky County Sportsman's Club, Ohio, made their team debut at the National Rimfire Sporter Match in 2011. Sporting bright orange shirts that read "X-Ring Mafia", its members came in from Gibsonburg, Bowling Green, Toledo and Rossford plus several communities in between. The club has more than 950 members says Mark Montgomery, competitions chairman.

The Sandusky County Sportsman's Club, Ohio, made their team debut at the National Rimfire Sporter Match in 2011. The team was easy to spot as they sported bright orange shirts that read "X-Ring Mafia" on their backs.

CMP armorer Leon Rutherford, left, who works at the CMP South store in Anniston, Alabama, befriends Thomas Reed, 37, of Muscle Shoals, Alabama. Once the two got over being intrastate sports rivals, they took a few moments to have a friendly conversation about marksmanship.
