(This typically takes 5-10mins.)

Range Facilities:

The range is located Olympic Shooting Center, 1 Olympic Plaza, Colorado Springs, CO 80909, home of the U.S National Shooting Team. The camp will be shot on CMP's portable electronic targets. This is the exact same state-of-the-art Kongsberg electronic targets that are used at the CMP North and South ranges. The classroom will be located within the range complex.

Who May Attend:

The Advanced Standing Air Rifle Camp is designed to build on the curriculum taught at the CMP weeklong three-position air rifle camps. Participants will have three days of intensive training in the standing position; this is not an appropriate program for beginning shooters. This camp is recommended for athletes with two years of competition experience, and it is strongly recommended that they have previously attended a weeklong CMP three-position air rifle camp. CMP camps are designed for high school age students who will be in grades 9 through 12 during the upcoming school year; admission of athletes who have not yet reached high school will be at the discretion of the Camp Director. Athletes who have graduated high school are no longer eligible for camp, unless they wish to attend as an Adult Leader. Shooters of all skill levels who have attended previous years' camps achieved remarkable improvements in their performances and scores.

Adult Leaders:

An important feature of the CMP Junior Air Rifle Camp format is the emphasis on athletes and adult leaders learning together. At least one adult leader (coach, team or club leader, parent, etc.) must accompany each athlete or group of athletes who attend. Adults may not attend camp unless accompanying athletes. Adult leaders are encouraged, but not required, to attend instruction and coaching sessions with their athletes. Sessions specifically covering coaching topics will be held for interested adults. Adult leaders are also responsible for providing transportation for their campers.

What to Bring:

Campers must bring their own shooting equipment including but not limited to rifles, shooting clothing, shooting stands, and pellets. (CMP will only provide one (1) tin of pellets for each camper; individuals will need to bring additional pellets.) Do not bring spotting scopes since all shooting will be done on electronic targets. CO2 and compressed air will be provided at the range, though it is recommended that individuals bring their own fill adapters. Campers need to make sure that they are dressed comfortably in athletic clothing and footwear. If you are traveling to the camp via air travel it is recommended that you ship your compressed air or CO2 cylinders to your hotel in advance due to TSA restrictions.

Camp Instructors:

Dan Durben and Sommer Wood will serve as camp directors and chief instructors for the 2017 CMP Junior Rifle Camps, both joined the program in 2004. Durben is an Olympian, and former U.S. Olympic Rifle and Paralympic Shooting Team Coach. Outside of camps, Durben is a physics professor at Black Hills State University, and the school's NCAA Faculty Athletics Representative. Wood is a graduate of Clemson University where she competed on the Clemson Air Rifle Team, and earned her MFA from Barry University. She coaches marksmanship, and organizes shooting events year round for CMP as the Camps and Clinics Coordinator. Completing the camp staff will be a group of accomplished CMP staff members and college rifle team shooters who will serve as assistant directors, gunsmiths, and camp counselors. In addition, the camp material includes contributions from speakers who have Olympic and National Team backgrounds.

Training Groups:

Athletes will be divided into training groups and assigned a specific firing point throughout the camp. Each training group will be under the direction of a counselor who is a collegiate rifle team member. Groups will work together for the whole camp. (Groups for the Advanced Standing Camp will be kept very small so athletes receive additional individual instruction.)

Award Ceremony and Graduation:

Participants will also be awarded a distinctive camp t-shirt, and certificate at the end of camp.

Code of Conduct:

Each participant must agree to abide by and sign a code of conduct at the beginning of camp. Violations of the code may result in expulsion from the camp and loss of fees paid. This includes any behavior that is disruptive to the camp-learning environment.

Food:

Lunch, snacks and water are provided each day of camp.

Local Housing Options:

The CMP camps are commuter only, though the area offers several housing options. To find hotels in the surrounding area visit the Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce website at <http://www.coloradospringschamber.org/visitor/lodging.asp>.

CMP does not provide transportation to the camp location. Camp participants must arrange their own transportation to the site of the camp. Adult leaders are expected to provide local transportation to and from the range for the athletes they bring.
