National Trophy Rifle Matches

A Message from the DCM:

The CMP is pleased to provide this souvenir printed edition of the Final Results of the 2008 National Trophy Rifle Matches. 3,059 individual shooters participated in CMP rifle events and schools during the 2008 National Matches. Overall, a record 4,457 individuals participated in the CMP rifle and pistol events during the 2008 National Matches. We thank all of you for coming to Camp Perry and making this year's matches another great success.

2008 highlights included the opening of the new CMP Camp Perry Air Gun Range, record numbers in the Rimfire Sporter and the M16 EIC Matches and another 50 percent increase in internet results viewers, 23,500 unique individuals viewed National Trophy Rifle results one or more times.

As always, the matches featured lots of great shooting with 2008 shooting heroes that included:

- o SPC Ty Cooper, USAMU, who won the Mountain Man Trophy to establish himself as the overall top service rifle shooter in the 2008 National Trophy Rifle Matches.
- o SFC Norman Anderson, USAR, who won the President's Rifle Match by turning in a great performance in front of 400-500 spectators and several thousand Internet viewers.
- o Shawn McKenna, from California, who won the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match.
- o Nick Mowrer, from Montana, who was the top junior shooter on the Deneke Trophy National Junior Team aggregate.
- o SFC Lance Dement and SFC Grant Singley, USAMU, who won the Hearst Doubles Match.
- o USAMU teams that won both the Infantry Trophy and the National Trophy Team Matches.
- o CMP Games Matches winners Robert Elka and Warren Westphal Jr. in Rimfire Sporter, Gabe Hendricks, M16 EIC; John Friguglietti Jr., M1 Carbine; Christopher Huddock, Springfield Rifle; Michael Hawkins, Vintage Military Rifle; and Christopher Roberts, John C. Garand Match.

The CMP extends its sincere thank you to everyone who made significant contributions to another great National Matches, especially:

- o The Army Marksmanship Unit and coaches representing Active and Reserve teams from the Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard who led the Rifle Small Arms Firing School.
- o The USMC Rifle Team for getting National Trophy Rifle juniors off to an outstanding start in the Junior Highpower Camp and for conducting another well-attended Infantry Trophy Clinic.
- o The NRA staff and range volunteers who operated the ranges with efficiency, courtesy and skill.
- o The National Match Armory; Compass Lake Engineering; Bushmaster Firearms and Arrington Accuracy Works for their splendid presentation rifles.
- o Official photographers Web Wright, Web Photography, Annapolis MD, and Bill Gordon, Photomaker, Port Clinton OH, for their pictorial documentation of the matches.
- o The Ohio National Guard Fort Ohio staff headed by Commander COL Jim Chisman and new Commander COL Dean Brown; the Ohio National Guard and USAR soldiers who performed the military support mission and certainly the CMP staff who continued their tradition of dedicated service to shooters.

We sincerely hope all of you had a great experience at this year's National Matches and we hope to see you back at the 2009 National Matches.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

NRA President John Sigler fires First Shot

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Under a warm and cloudy sky on the western shore of Lake Erie, several hundred onlookers, including competitive shooters, officials and guests, watched as 2008 First Shot speaker John C. Sigler, President of the NRA, fired the ceremonial first shot to open the 2008 National Rifle & Pistol Trophy Matches during the traditional First Shot Ceremony on Monday, 7 July.

The Civilian Marksmanship Program (CMP), in cooperation with the National Rifle Association (NRA) and the Ohio National Guard, conducts the National Matches at Camp Perry each year where more than 6,000 competitors from across the U.S. shoot for recognition as America's finest in pistol and rifle competition. The matches also attract hundreds of new shooters who participate in special clinics and CMP Games matches.

The 2008 First Shot Ceremony featured remarks by the First Shot Speaker, NRA President John Sigler, and brief comments by Ohio Governor Ted Strickland, and two northwest Ohio U.S. Congress members - Marcy Kaptur (Ohio Ninth District) and veteran sportsman and shooter Bob Latta (Ohio Fifth District). The 80 members of the 122nd Ohio Army National Guard Band provided musical accompaniment.

An American Flag, originally flown over the U.S. Capitol and provided by Congresswoman Kaptur, was flown in by parachutists from the Ohio National Guard's 19th Special Forces via Chinook helicopter and was raised on Camp Perry's flagpole to the playing of the National Anthem by the Lorain Admiral King High School Navy JROTC color guard.

CMP Director and master of ceremonies, Gary Anderson, provided a brief history of the National Matches at Camp Perry as he welcomed those assembled and introduced distinguished guests and speakers following an invocation by Ohio National Guard State Chaplain (Col.) Genzman.

Speaker Sigler, a US Navy veteran, pistol competitor and match official for 11 National Matches, said it was an honor and privilege to be this year's First Shot Speaker.

"I always love coming back to Camp Perry," Mr. Sigler said. "It's especially true this year as we kick off the first year of the second century of competition on these hallowed grounds on the shores of Lake Erie."

"Camp Perry is a very special place. A place where men and women have gathered for over a century to exercise their God-given right to keep and bear arms for lawful purposes – and to test their mettle in the crucible of competition and to learn who really is the very best," he said.

"It's a place dedicated to American freedom, and of sacrifices made by generations of American patriots to protect and defend those freedoms. Where even the ranges are named for the heroic sons of the State of Ohio who gave their best in defense of their country."

"It's a place where the heart and soul of American culture gathers each summer to renew old friendships, to honor a great American tradition. This place and our place in it are uniquely American, and uniquely important."

Mr. Sigler talked about the crucial cooperation between the NRA, CMP and Ohio National Guard to sustain and help the National Matches flourish.

"These National Matches serve as an inspiration and a destination for finest marksmen and women in the world."

Mr. Sigler reflected on his days of coming to Camp Perry for more than 30 years. First in a police instructor school and as a line referee during pistol phase for more than a decade. He also said he served as Chief Referee for the NRA's national police shooting championships.

"But I'm proud to say that I had the privilege of competing out there among you both here and elsewhere in a number of disciplines."

He talked about his Navy days where his Master Chief, a lifetime NRA member, encouraged him to join and pursue competitive shooting.

"The sport that brought me to the NRA and that we gather here to celebrate today is vitally important to firearm freedom and American freedom in all of its forms."

Mr. Sigler called attention to the upcoming elections and stressed the importance of "exercising the right."

"A right that isn't exercised is a right that ceases to exist. It's true that if you don't use it, you do lose it," he added.

"Freedom can atrophy through apathy and disuse. So it's critically important to the right to keep and bear arms that people exercise that right and have a personal stake in protecting that right."

"I can think of no better illustration of that fact than these National Matches," Mr. Sigler said. He discussed his decision to establish increased funding for NRA competitive shooting programs that he sees vital to the NRA and the country.

"I directed the establishment of a new NRA competitive shooting and national championships endowment. I'm proud to report that the endowment is well on its way to the $2 million mark."

Speaker Sigler related that marksmanship competition is unique in that it is the "only sport that strengthens our national security."

"Think about it, what other sport, from baseball to basketball to track and field, gymnastics or fencing. Which sport is built upon and bolsters a constitutional right?"

"There is no other sport that can make that claim. Marksmanship skill, a sense of accomplishment and confidence, self-reliance, self-discipline, respect for others, individual responsibility, individual empowerment – they're all part of competitive shooting. They're all vital to the health of any society or any nation."

"As you walk on these ranges, remember the sacrifices of those for whom they're named. Sacrifices made on your behalf so that you can enjoy the right to participate in a free and democratic society," he said.

"On behalf of the National Rifle Association of America and in honor of a proud heritage and vital tradition, I now extend to you my wishes for good luck and good shooting during these 2008 National Matches."

Earlier, Governor Strickland, a staunch supporter of responsible firearms ownership, opened the remarks with a rousing welcome to shooters.

"I would like to say to all the shooters, whether you've come here to win a national title or just to have a chance to compete with the very best, we wish each of you the very best and good luck," he declared.

The Matches, he said, "are considered the World Series of shooting events."

He concluded his remarks by emphasizing the value of Second Amendment guarantees and vowed to uphold them.

"I want to pledge to all of you that as long as I am in office, Ohio will be a state where the Second Amendment is honored and where the rights of the people are protected."

Congresswoman Kaptur, a member of the House Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, echoed Governor Strickland's welcome to shooters and reminded shooters that they have a solemn responsibility to respect their weapons.

"When we think of the famous words, 'the price of liberty is eternal vigilance,' those of you who will compete this week represent that."

"Respect the weapon, but also understand what responsibility the using of that weapon means," she said. "It is a deep, deep tradition of the U.S. military and one that we try to transfer to our civilians."

Congressman Bob Latta, a long-time shooter at Camp Perry, lauded the partnership of the CMP, NRA and Ohio National Guard and its volunteers for keeping Camp Perry active.

"I love this place. I thoroughly respect what it stands for and I also respect the competitors here every year. It's a great and proud tradition," he said.

Congressman Latta concluded by thanking the volunteers. He vowed that the success of Camp Perry and the National Matches are one of the things he'll work hard to keep on track.

At the close of ceremonies, Mr. Sigler fired the ceremonial first shot with a specially engraved Bushmaster DCM XR 5.56mm competition service rifle. The rifle, donated by Bushmaster Firearms Inc., bears Mr. Sigler's name and logo engravings of the CMP, NRA, Adjutant General's Department of Ohio and Bushmaster Firearms Inc.

The rifle was presented as a gift to Mr. Sigler by CMP Director Anderson who closed the program. Pictures from the First Shot Ceremony can be viewed at <http://www.odcmp.com/Photos/08/FirstShot/index.htm>.

Junior Highpower Shooters Learn Marksmanship the Marine Corps Way

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Sometimes folks need an invigorating splash of cold water in the face followed by a warm towel to wake up and see things that really matter in life and, in the case of 146 junior shooters, learning marksmanship the Marine Corps way.

Highly-animated, retired Marine Master Gunnery Sergeant Ken Roxburgh and his team of Marine and Team Bushmaster shooting instructors challenged the 2008 USMC Junior High Power Clinic class with plenty of topics, ranging from determining proper eye relief to when not to nod off in class.

Enter the cold water...

“You will not disrespect your instructors or your classmates by closing your eyes during this clinic,” Roxburgh barked out to students gathered in the Camp Perry clubhouse conference room during the clinic’s first session.

“If you need to take a break and collect yourself, there’s the door,” he said, as the room fell eerily silent.

Then the warm towel...

“Then again,” he continued, “if a shooter is having difficulty acquiring proper eye relief, perhaps he spent a little too much time with his good friend Jose Cuervo the night before,” Roxburgh followed, as the class erupted in laughter and collectively regained normal sinus rhythm.

“As we teach marksmanship, we try to develop an air of importance,” he said.

“At the same time I like to try to joke around with them a little. If you don’t show a side of you that’s approachable, you’re not going to be a good instructor and a good instructor communicates well,” Roxburgh said.

Such was the tone for the remainder of in-class and range instruction for junior shooters who qualified for the clinic by having fired in previous competition or at minimum, completed the rifle Small Arms Firing School.

The clinic ran Friday, 25 July, through Sunday, 27 July, and focused on the key elements of range safety and etiquette, shooting position, aiming, trigger control, zeroing, effects of weather and proper use of the data book and the loop sling. Days two and three were spent shooting on the range firing at 200, 300 and 600 yards.

Roxburgh emphasized the science of shooting, spending considerable time explaining the physiology of sight, the physical requirements off-hand shooting and the control of respiration and heart rate as it relates to firing the shot and “allowing the hammer to fall as a surprise.”

“I like it,” said Brett RaVell, 17, of Odenton, Maryland. “He’s interesting, funny and amusing,” he said about instructor Roxburgh. A high school senior, RaVell said he learned a great deal more about wind reading and shooting positions.

The first-time clinic participant, who has shot smallbore rifle in the past, has been shooting high power for two years and is serving his first year of competition on the Maryland State Rifle Team.

David Marrs, 17 of Fluvanna, Virginia who has been “shooting ever since I was big enough to hold a rifle,” said the clinic taught him a lot about position and use of the data book.

“He’s very animated,” Jacob Neri, 16, of Stockbridge, Georgia, said about Roxburgh. “He grabs the attention of who he’s talking to and he obviously knows what he’s talking about.”

“Shooting here was a very, very weird experience for me because of the wind,” he said. Neri is accustomed to shooting on closed ranges where wind is not normally a factor.

An accomplished scholastic wrestler, Neri is considering a career in the Marine Corps.

For Taylor Grissom, 14, of Grand Rapids, Michigan and member of the Chief Okemos Gun Club, the clinic experience promises to improve his hold, positions and ultimately his scores.

“I’m really glad to have so many famous shooters here to help,” he said.

Roxburgh’s style of instruction brings a give-and-take mixture of education, discipline, humor and mutual respect – all key elements needed to communicate with young adults.

He’s been a lead instructor in the USMC HP Junior Clinic many different years since its inception in 1981, having retired from active duty in 2005 after 30 years of service to the Corps - most notably as a sniper instructor. Distinguished in both service pistol and rifle, Roxburgh was a member of the USMC rifle and pistol teams and a team coach as the Non-Commissioned Officer In Charge (NCOIC).

“What we really try to teach is safe weapons handling as it relates to fundamental marksmanship and match participation. We have to have a great measure of self-discipline and the ability to follow appropriate orders and regulations given by the people that run these matches.”

Roxburgh, 53, a resident of Stafford, Virginia, just down the road from the Marine Corps Base at Quantico, Virginia is adamant about sharing his knowledge.

“Some successful competitors don’t want to communicate their knowledge. Some just want to sell it, and I think that’s wrong.

“The way I look at it is if I teach you well enough to beat me, then I did my job.”

Today Roxburgh is an operations manager for Cerberus Capital Management, LC, an investment company which over time has acquired firearms manufacturers Bushmaster, Remington, DPMS Panther Arms and most recently, Marlin.

Sgt Arin Preston, USMC, teaches the proper sitting position during the Clinic.

Cerberus acknowledged the value Roxburgh brings to the world of competitive shooting and has provided him the opportunity to continue his passion for instruction while serving as an ambassador for its firearms brands.

“I can’t think of a much better activity for a young person to spend during the summer as participating in these matches. They come out here and they learn proper weapons safety; they learn how to handle a weapon; they learn the spirit of competition; and they learn to be ladies and gentlemen.”

“You should always try to contribute to this competition. It’s part of the thing that makes our country strong and free, and it makes our military strong and free,” Roxburgh said.

“Over the years guys like Lance Dement, Kyle Ward, Lance Hopper and many of the great national champions were juniors in our clinics. So I’m kinda proud to say that one time they were juniors and I was hollering at them.

“I hope it’s not too far-fetched to think that some day one of these fine young people will be instructing this clinic,” Roxburgh concluded.

Upon the clinic’s completion, participants were recognized during a graduation ceremony and were treated to a pizza party, compliments of Bushmaster.

U.S. Army Reserve SFC Norman Anderson Sets New National Matches Record for President's Rifle Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – What was planned to be a match within a match, the 2008 President's 100 Rifle Match on Monday, 28 July became even more interesting half way through the final stage.

The pressure-filled event gave finalists, fellow competitors, match organizers and spectators each something to talk about for years to come.

U.S. Army Reserve SFC Norman Anderson was the last shooter standing after a grueling Camp Perry donnybrook on the shores of Lake Erie. And yes, even the lake itself played a critical role in the match.

After 1,168 President's 100 service rifle competitors fired their final shots in a bid to reach the top 100 places, the stakes grew even higher as the top 20 newly-crowned President's 100 shooters were summoned for a 10-round, 600-yard slow fire prone shoot-off match to determine the very best of the finalists on Rodriguez Range. The cut-off score for the President's 100 was 285-7X. The cut-off for the top 20 was 291-8X.

One of the top 20 competitors withdrew from the match just prior to the shoot-off, leaving a field of 19 to compete for the trophy.

Army marksman SFC Grant Singley entered the shoot-off with a one-point lead over Anderson with a preliminary round total of 298-15X to Anderson's 297-10X. Civilian Paul Kerr of Albuquerque, New Mexico, the eventual runner-up, held the 13th spot entering the final with a 293-5X.

Singley got off to a rocky start in the final, losing a seven at 12:30 with his first shot as hard-charging Kerr fired a nearly clean 99-3X. Anderson eventually fended off Kerr and Singley with a very respectable 96-3X on his way to the overall President's 100 championship.

But an already tense final didn't proceed without added drama as a boat entered the Lake Erie impact area, causing an immediate range cease-fire following the first five shots. After a 12-minute delay, shooters were given a new three-minute prep time to regroup and focus on their five remaining shots.

Anderson and Kerr continued to break center mass shots while Singley let his seventh shot stray out of the black to seal his fate. Kerr had too much ground to make up to overtake Anderson, allowing the Tomah, Wisconsin resident to win the President's Rifle Trophy for the second time. SFC Norman Anderson's winning score of 393-10X is a new National Matches record.

"I am thrilled, honestly thrilled," Anderson said immediately following the match. "I don't have any words for it," he added.

"It was my first time firing in the shoot-off format and my second time winning the President's, but I don't know if you can say you enjoy this one more than the first. Certainly they are both thrilling."

When asked how he handled the interruption in firing, Anderson said he just kept making well-aimed shots.

"I really wanted to forego that three-minute prep time," he joked. "My approach to every shot was to go back to my no-wind zero and make an assessment – after the CRO gave the command to cease fire, I didn't make any adjustments, I just wanted to get back to firing."

When asked where his mental train of thought took him during the delay, Anderson replied enthusiastically, "I wondered how big a boat, what kind of boat and how long was it going to take to get it out of there!"

The High Junior in the President's Match was Jacob Whetham who fired a 390-12X. Whetham was the only junior firing in the President's Final, firing an impressive 97-6X. Whetham finished eighth Overall out of 1168 competitors.

Jacob Whetham, of Port Angeles, WA, was the High Junior in the President's Rifle Match.

USAR teammates help celebrate with SFC Anderson. USAR shooting team members have claimed the President's 100 Rifle Match title the past two years.

California's Shawn McKenna wins National Trophy Individual Rifle Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – In a close-fought match, Shawn McKenna, 30, of Fountain Valley, California defeated Trenton Hering of Corvallis, Oregon by one point to win the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match, Tuesday, 29 July.

McKenna fired a 496-19X aggregate score in the National Match Course of 10 shots standing at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid-fire sitting at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid-fire prone at 300 yards and 20 shots slow-fire prone at 300 yards. Hering just got past third place finisher, Gunnery Sergeant Ron Fuchs, USMC Reserve, of Gilbert, Arizona in a tiebreaker, 495-23X to 495-20X for second.

McKenna put together a near-perfect performance, dropping just one point per stage for a breakout of 99-3X, 99-4X, 99-2X, and 199-10X, respectively. McKenna secured his victory at 600 yards where his 199-10X was the highest score of the match for that stage.

“I was more surprised than anything,” McKenna said, reflecting on his accomplishment in both individual and team matches. He earned the Daniel Boone Trophy for overall performance, the Nathan Hale Trophy for high civilian and the Pietroforte Trophy for being the high civilian in an aggregate of scores in the National Trophy Individual and Team Matches (NTI and NTT).

“I’ve been having trouble all year with ammunition and zeroes,” McKenna said, but his near-flawless offhand phase got him off to a great start. “My off-hand went well and my call on each shot was good,” he added. “The match ran very smooth and quickly,” he said. “Conditions were good,” but a steady breeze forced McKenna to adjust windage from 4 to 4 ½ minutes at 600 yards.

Shooting competitively since age 11, McKenna first shot at Camp Perry in 1992 at age 14. During the last 16 years he has set eight highpower national records, and placed in the President’s 100 four times. McKenna earned his Distinguished Rifleman Badge at age 16 in 1994.

California's Shawn McKenna was the top shooter out of 1106 competitors in the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match.

He said he was invited to participate in the 1996 US Olympic tryouts, placed in eight highpower regional championships (winning two), has won 11 high-power state championships, three junior state championships, two Whistler Boy national championships and won three positions on the Elihu Root National Civilian Team.

McKenna, who credits sponsors Lapua and Geisselle Triggers, said his most prized award is the Jim Starr Trophy, which he won as the high civilian shooter in Colorado at the time. The trophy was named for one of McKenna’s past coaches, he said.

The High Junior in the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match was Amanda Elsenboss. She placed 5th overall with a 494-19X (97 – 4, 100 – 3, 99 – 4 and 198 – 8). Elsenboss is from Woodbury, CT, and a member of Team Bushmaster.

Amanda Elsenboss was the high junior in the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match and placed 5th overall.

USAMU Rifle Teams capture National Trophy Team Matches

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – In the three team matches of the 2008 National Trophy Rifle Matches, the U.S. Army’s SFC Grant Singley found himself playing an important role in his teams’ capture of the Hearst Doubles, National Trophy Team and National Trophy Infantry Team matches.

Seemingly always in the hunt, Singley along with then Army SFC Lance Hopper, won the 2006 Hearst Doubles Match and he was a member of the winning Army Infantry Trophy team. It was the first year for the newly-created two-member team service rifle match that resurrected the William Randolph Hearst Trophy. In 2007, Singley won the Mountain Man Trophy to become the top overall service rifle shooter in those matches. He was a member of two winning Army teams that year.

This year Singley and Army teammate SFC Lance Dement returned to top of the Hearst Trophy podium with a team aggregate score of 587-16X, nipping U.S. Marine Reservists GySgt Justin Skaret and SSgt Sean Bell (587-14X) in a tie-breaker. The Army National Guard team of SSG Leigh Jenks III and SSG Richard Zolnowsky finished in third position with a team aggregate score of 586-19X.

Last year Singley and Army SGT Brandon Green were edged out of by Marine Reservists GySgt Julia Watson and Sgt Eric Swearingen.

The Hearst Doubles Rifle Team Match is one of the National Trophy Rifle Matches where all competitors fire competition-class service rifles. Today, almost all competitors in these matches fire accurized M16s or commercial equivalents. The Hearst Doubles Match follows the President’s Rifle 30-shot first phase course of fire. Shooters fire 10 shots standing at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid fire prone at 300 yards and 10 shots slow fire prone at 600 yards with no sighters in any stage. A total of 236 teams completed the 2008 match.

Competitors fire on the SR target at 200 and 300 yards and the MR target at 600 yards. Teams must pair fire the standing and prone slow fire stages, where they alternate firing single shots.

Regarded by many as the most prestigious trophy match, the National Trophy Team Match was won this year by the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit-Praslick Team (named after the team coach). Firing members were Singley, SPC Ty Cooper, SGT Brandon Green, SFC Lance Dement, SPC Calvin Roberts and SFC Kyle Ward with a combined team aggregate score of 2948-16X.

One of the key features of this match is the requirement that each team include at least one “new” shooter – someone who has not fired in this match before. This mandate places emphasis on training and assimilating the new member into the squad in less than a year’s time. SPC Calvin Roberts was the Army’s new shooter in USAMU-Praslick won this year’s Infantry Trophy Match and Trophy with a score of 1409, distributing all of their shots at 600 and 500 yards. Team firing members were SPC Ty Cooper, SFC Lance Dement, SGT Brandon Green, SFC Grant Singley, SFC Kyle Ward and SSG William Pace (new shooter). The Team Captain was SSG Daniel Peters and the team coach was SFC Emil Praslick.

The U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit “Praslick” Team fired an aggregate score of 2948-16X in the National Trophy Team Match. SFC Emil Praslick was the team coach and SGT Walter Craig was the captain. Team firing members were SFC Grant Singley, SPC Ty Cooper, SGT Brandon Green, SFC Lance Dement, SPC Calvin Roberts (new shooter) and SFC Kyle Ward.

this match this year. He fired a 488-15X. USAMU-Praslick was captained by SGT Walter Craig and coached by SFC Emil Praslick III.

As winners, USAMU-Praslick was awarded the National Trophy, also known as the 'Dogs of War' trophy, which was commissioned by Congress in 1903. This team match has each competitor complete a National Match Course consisting of 10 shots standing and 10 shots sitting rapid at 200 yards, 10 shots prone rapid at 300 yards and 20 shots prone slow fire at 600 yards. No sighters are permitted in National Trophy Team matches so a premium is placed on the coaches ability to dope wind.

The U.S. Army Reserve Gold finished second with a combined team aggregate score of 2926-93X and U.S. Marine Corps Gold placed third with a score of 2914-101X.

New York State Rifle & Pistol Association-Simmons won the Soldier of Marathon Trophy, which honors the top Civilian team in the NTT Match. Firing members were Robert Modica, Mark Laramie, Stanton Noon, Richard Meade, Dwight Becherer and Leonid Kurtich. The team, captained by Evan Jordan and coached by Bruce Kraft, scored a total of 2901-84X.

Illinois State Gold and Coalinga (California) Rifle Club finished second and third, respectively, in the NTT Civilian team rankings.

The Hilton Trophy for the top Reserve Component Team was awarded to U.S. Army Reserve Gold, who fired a combined aggregate score of 2926-93X. Team members were SPC Christopher Atkins, SFC Daniel Dorosheff, SFC Leslie Lewis, MAJ Scott Klawon, SGT Kristoffer Friend and SFC Norman Anderson. USAR Gold was captained by SGM Neal Dickey and coached by 1SGT Mark Bearson Sr.

All Guard McCollom and USMCR Gold placed second and third respectively.

The high Junior team, the California Grizzlies, won the Minuteman Trophy with a combined aggregate of 2854-70X. Team members were Kathryn Bugg, Cheyenne Acebo, David Bahten, Chad Kurgan, Anthony Henderson and Melissa Acebo. The Grizzlies were captained by Heather Swenson and coached by Dirk Seeley.

The New York State Rifle and Pistol Association was the top Civilian Team in the National Trophy Rifle Team Match. Firing members were Robert Modica, Mark Laramie, Stanton Noon, Richard Meade, Dwight Becherer and Leonid Kurtich. Team Captain was Evan Jordan and Team Coach was Bruce Kraft.

Chattahoochee Rifle & Gun Club (Columbus, Georgia) took second place honors and Wisconsin State Juniors finished third.

Army SPC Ty Cooper, who fired a 498-21X, won the 2008 Pershing Trophy that is awarded to the competitor who fires the highest individual score in the National Trophy Team Match.

The USAMU-Praslick team captured its second of the three elite team matches by winning the 2008 National Trophy Infantry Team Match on 1 August.

The NTIT event, commonly referred to as the "rattle battle," simulates a six-person infantry team that must distribute fire at eight different targets at distances of 600, 500, 300 and 200 yards, using F silhouettes at 600 and 500 and shorter E silhouettes at 300 and 200. Hits at 600 count four points, three at 500, two points at 300 and one at 200 yards.

Each team receives a bonus at each yard line equal to the square of the number of targets with six or more hits. Teams start with 384 rounds and must distribute them among their six team members according to their "fire plan." Firing stages at each of the four yard lines last 50 seconds. Strategies vary, but with the low recoil, rapid fire capabilities of the M16 rifle, top teams like the Army and Marines now strive to fire all 384 rounds at 600 and 500 yards where hits count the most. That's an average of 32 accurate shots in 50 seconds for each team member.

USAMU-Praslick won this year's Infantry Trophy Match and Trophy with a score of 1409, distributing all of their points at 600 and 500 yards. Army team members were SPC Cooper, SFC Dement, SGT Green, SFC Singley, SFC Ward and SSG William Pace. Pace was the new shooter. The Team Captain was SSG Daniel Peters and the team coach was SFC Praslick.

Virginia Firearms Education & Marksmanship, Inc. (VFEMI) finished second overall with a score of 1355 and captured the Leatherneck Trophy, which is awarded to the top Civilian team. Members of VFEMI are John Badger, John Boynton, Clyde Bryant III, Andrew Lewis, Jack McKinney and Gregory Spitzer. VFEMI was captained by Danny Gray and coached by David Kozikowski.

Oklahoma Rifle Association placed third overall.

All Guard McCollom won the Celtic Chieftain Trophy as the high Reserve Component team with a score of 1238. Their members are SPC John Coggshall, SSG Leigh Jenks III, CW2 David Kerin, MSG George Morgan Sr., CPT J. Treharne and SSG Richard Zolnowsky. The team was captained by CPT Rodney Jenkins and was coached by WO1 Malcolm Hayes.

The Junior Infantry Team Trophy winner was California Grizzlies, with a score of 1233.

Arizona Juniors win Whistler Boy Team Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Junior shooters beware, there’s trouble brewing in Arizona and it looks like it’s just beginning to reach a boil.

Tyler Rico, 14, of Tucson and his partner Andrew Swazey, 18, of Phoenix just added the Whistler Boy Highpower Trophy to their growing list of recent accomplishments at the National Trophy Matches on Wednesday, 30 July.

While Swazey is well along in his junior career, Rico is just getting started and what a start it is. Rico became the youngest Distinguished Rifleman ever last year. He legged out at 13 years, five months and 15 days in November 2007, and is both the youngest male and youngest recipient of the award.

Rico also made the President’s 100 in service rifle and just missed qualifying for the shoot-off, finishing 22nd.

In the National Trophy Matches Whistler Boy Junior Team Match, the team of Rico and Swazey, shooting under the banner of Arizona Gold, scored a combined aggregate total of 964-24X, edging out defending Whistler Boy champion WSRPA (Washington State Rifle and Pistol Association) Bad Applettes-Shew (963-26X).

“I thought I tanked it with my 91 offhand with four eights,” Rico said afterward. “I shot good at my six (600 yards prone) and that’s what saved us.”

Rico fired an unparalleled 197-5X in the 600-yard prone phase to put Arizona Gold on top.

“I did decent at standing and didn’t blow up too bad at six,” Swazey added. He fired a 185-4X at 600, which was in middle of the Whistler Boy field. “I shot a seven and we still won, which was unexpected,” he said.

The 500-point course of fire for the two-member team event is 10 shots standing at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid fire sitting at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid fire prone at 300 yards and 20 shots slow fire prone at 600 yards.

The Rico-Swazey team has been successfully competing together for about three years in their home state of Arizona. Rico says he’s been shooting his whole life recreationally. Swazey has been shooting for eight years overall.

The pair was brought together at the state team matches and has become shooting partners and friends.

“We finished second in the ‘rattle battle’ last year and hoped to win it this year,” Rico said. Arizona Gold placed second once more this year in the National Trophy Infantry Team match at the junior level to California Grizzlies.

Arizona Juniors Tyler Rico, 14, with his teammate, Andrew Swazey, 18, won the 2008 Whistler Boy Team Match.

Gunny R. Lee Ermey poses with the Arizona Juniors after the Rifle Awards Ceremony on 1 August.

Rifle Small Arms Firing School

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – While few attendees admit that they learn scads of new information at the Rifle Small Arms Firing School (SAFS), one thing is certain – there are very few empty seats in the Camp Perry auditorium on Day One of the school and there is seldom a no-show on the firing line that afternoon for practice firing or at the M-16 Excellence in Competition (EIC) match on the morning of Day Two.

This year’s winner of the M16 EIC match held Sunday, 27 July was Gabe Hendricks, who fired a 375-5X out of a possible 400 in the 40-shot match consisting of prone slow-fire, prone rapid-fire, sitting and standing at a distance of 200 yards. Hendricks’s stage scores were 91-0X, 95-2X, 94-2X and 95-1X, respectively.

Sean Leighton, who fired a 378-7X placed first in the Overall Rankings of the M16 EIC Match. Leighton is already a Distinguished Rifleman so he was not eligible to win the EIC match. Leighton’s stage scores were 97-3X, 98-2X, 95-1X and 88-1X, respectively. Air National Guard Staff Sergeant Edward Altmeyer Jr., who already had EIC credit points and also was not eligible to win the EIC match, finished second overall with an aggregate score of 376-2X.

The top 10 percent of all SAFS students who fire this match and who have not earned any EIC points are awarded “introductory” 4-point legs to start them on their quest for the prestigious Distinguished Rifleman Badge. This year, 52 shooters earned 4-point legs that count towards going Distinguished. The cut-off score for EIC points was 344-3X.

The rifle SAFS and M16 EIC Match attract new and veteran shooters alike each year. Attendees are provided with outstanding instruction in the classroom by members of the US Army Marksmanship Unit shooting team and on the firing line by Army, Air Force, Coast Guard, Marine and Navy Active, National Guard and Reserve shooting team members.

So if students, most of them who are frequent repeaters of the program, deny taking many eye-opening marksmanship revelations to their buddies at the club back home, why do they keep coming back?

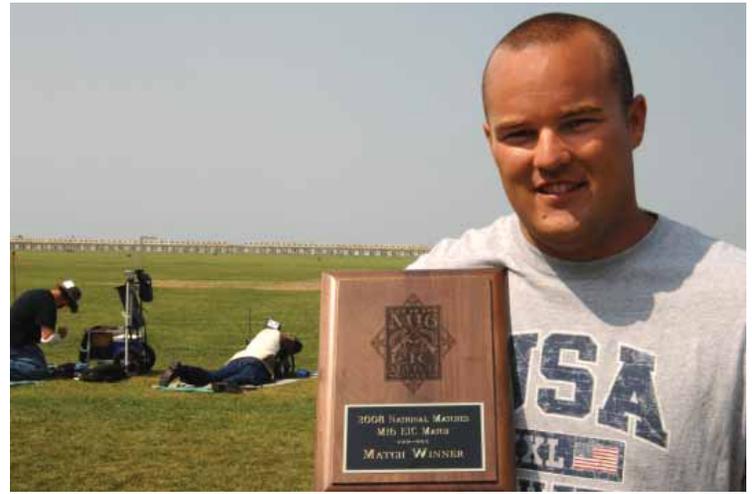

“I don’t want you to use my name, but I can tell you why,” said a multi-year “veteran” of the school.

“Shooters are kind of a proud bunch and none of them like to admit that they don’t know it all.”

“So they come back year after year and pick up tidbits of new information and receive a lot of reinforcement of what they have learned in the past – either from the SAFS or from their own shooting experience,” he said.

There may be something to that because many of the attendees of the SAFS, which is considered an entry-level, fundamental marksmanship primer, are found on the firing line participating in the President’s Rifle Match, National Trophy Individual Match and more in the days that follow.

“I love the class,” said Dan Skinner, 27, of Belleville, Ohio. “It’s basic, but that’s good for people like me,” he said. Skinner also confided that the class section on wind and weather was very good.

Gabe Hendricks, of Bartlett, Tennessee, was the highest ranking competitor in the M16 EIC Match who was eligible to win a 4-point leg.

“I shoot a lot of scope, so learning to shoot with iron sights and how to approach weather changes is very important to me,” Skinner said.

The first-time SAFS participant said he is bringing his wife next year. Skinner is in the process of becoming certified to instruct 4-H smallbore rifle and pistol through the CMP instructor training program.

It was Skinner’s first time firing an M16. His reaction to the experience?

“I want one!”

Derek Stratelak, 47, of Grosse Point, Michigan and his daughters Nikki, 17 and Jenny, 15, have turned the SAFS into a family tradition. The family camps at nearby East Harbor State Park. It’s Nikki’s fourth SAFS and Jenny’s third.

Derek is a veteran shooter of 21 years who began in sporting clays.

“I had always thought shooting paper targets seemed boring. I liked the idea of shooting at moving objects,” Derek explained.

“But all of a sudden I decided to shoot at Camp Perry as a life experience and now we spend a week here and I shoot Springfield, Garand, Presidents and NTI.”

He finished ninth in the M16 EIC match this year, only nine points from the top.

Nikki says with honesty, “I like the class the least, but I like the pits,” (pulling targets for other shooters) she said.

Navy Reservist, Master at Arms First Class JB Stern, 44, of Agawam, Massachusetts and member of the Navy Marksmanship Team, brought his son Jake, 13, to the SAFS for the second time.

“I’d like it to become a family tradition,” the Navy vet said. “This is an important time for us.”

MA1 Stern, now a police officer, recently returned from a deployment in Kuwait and took the opportunity to bond with Jake and Jake’s friend, John Kroetz, 13.

Kaitlin Cleven, 17, of Greenleaf, Wisconsin and friends Steven Sabah, 13 and Kyle Doney, 16, of neighboring Green Bay came to SAFS for the first time for an education.

“It’s a good learning experience and reinforcement of things I’m familiar with,” Kyle said. “When I leave here, I’ll know what to expect in other competitions,” he added.

A shooter for the past four to five years, Kyle said he’s starting to get into Palma. “I want to be a belly shooter.”

Kaitlin, a horse rider, is a five-year veteran of air rifle and smallbore competition.

“It’s great to have instructors to help us when they notice we’re not doing something right,” she said.

The Department of Defense first conducted the Small Arms Firing Schools (SAFS) as part of the National Matches at Camp Perry in 1918. Federal law continues to require the annual conduct of Small Arms Firing Schools, which now instruct nearly one thousand pistol and rifle shooters each year in firearms safety and fundamental marksmanship skills.

2008 National CMP Games Events Score Again

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – In what has become one of the most colorful and nostalgic series of National Matches events in recent years, the 2008 National CMP Games Matches that feature events for M1 Carbines, Springfield Rifles, Vintage Military Rifles and M1 Garands certainly met or exceeded the expectations of those who cherish competition featuring some of America’s and the world’s most famous military rifles.

Beginning with the M1 Carbine Match, an event that was added in 2006 and fired on 31 July this year, some participants came dressed in standard shooting gear while others donned period military uniforms with chaps, helmets and bandoleers. The CMP Games series also featured the 1903 Springfield Match, the Vintage Military Rifle Match and the rock-star of CMP games events – the John C. Garand M1 Rifle Match.

Both serious and recreational shooters participate in the final games events and in the end go home with plenty of stories, lots of great experiences and a good share of the competitors even take home gold, silver or bronze CMP Achievement Medals. Cut-off scores to earn achievement medals are found in the CMP rulebook and the CMP National Matches Program.

Rachelle Heller, 26 of Cedar Falls, Iowa and her father, Tom Dills, 51, of East Bethany, New York “meet in the middle” between their homes to visit and do what they like to do as family – shoot competitively.

It was Heller’s fourth year of participation in the games events and Dills’ sixth. Both fired in the Springfield and Garand matches.

“It was the most perfect day,” Heller said, commenting on the weather and shooting conditions. She recently was married and took a job in Iowa but the father-daughter-shooting bond is still strong, they said.

“I look forward to the mid-summer at Camp Perry. We’ve made good friends here and plan to come back every year,” Dills said.

Bob Tigert, 60, of San Leandro, California participated in his first Springfield and M1 matches at Camp Perry in 2008. A former employee of a military subcontractor, who tested weapons technology at Camp Perry in the 1960s, said he enjoyed his return to the range.

“It’s a great learning experience and I’m getting closer to shooting for a bronze medal!” he said.

This year’s M1 Carbine Match winner was John Friguglietti, Jr. of Lincolnton, North Carolina, who fired a 371-1X aggregate score. Friguglietti and his fellow competitors fired 10 sighters in 10 minutes followed by 10 shots slow fire prone in five minutes, 10 shots prone rapid fire from the standing position in 60 seconds, 10 shots sitting or kneeling rapid fire from standing and 10 shots slow fire standing in 10 minutes.

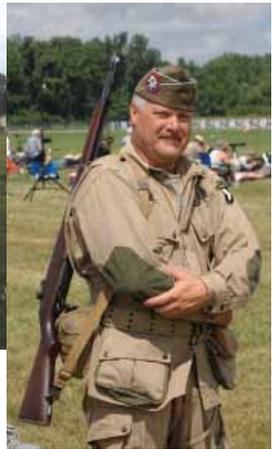

North Carolina’s John Friguglietti, Jr. was the top Carbine competitor firing a 371-1X.

All firing by this year’s 543 competitors, was conducted at 100 yards on the SR-1 highpower rifle target (200 yard SR target reduced for firing at 100 yards).

Friguglietti’s individual stage scores were 99-0X, 93-0X, 87-0X and 92-1X, respectively.

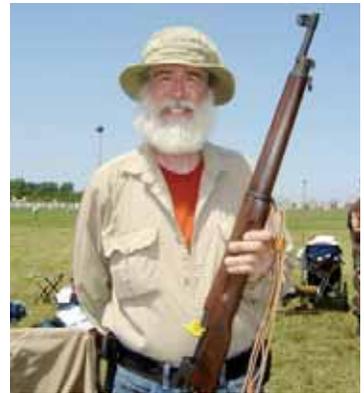

A few competitors in the CMP Games Events show up on the firing line displaying their period uniforms.

Daughter/Father combo Rachelle Heller and Tom Dills meet in the middle each year to compete together in the National CMP Games Events at Camp Perry.

Matthew Schmidt edged Christopher Roberts in a tiebreaker for second place with a 368-6X over Roberts’ 368-3X. The high junior shooter was Eric Curavo of Northwood, Ohio, (344-2X) and the high senior was Fred Weidenhof of Slippery Rock, Pennsylvania, (362-4X).

The semiautomatic M1 Carbine was carried in World War II and the Korean War by paratroopers, front-line troops that were required to carry other equipment and by those in rear areas who found full-sized rifles too bulky and pistols inadequate for their needs.

The Springfield Rifle Match, in which competitors fired “as-issued” M1903 or M1903A3 rifles, was won by junior shooter Christopher Hudock of Raleigh, North Carolina, with an aggregate score of 287-8X on Friday, 1 August.

Hudock outscored Robert Boxler (285-3X) and Joseph Yaw (283-7X) who finished second and third, respectively. Hudock’s score breakout was 97-4X, 95-4X and 95-0X.

In the Springfield match, each of the 743 competitors were allowed five sighters and then shot ten rounds for record in the prone position in a 15-minute time period. This was followed by 10 shots rapid-fire prone in 80 seconds. The final ten record shots were fired in the standing position in 10 minutes.

The bolt-action Springfield 1903 and variants served the US military from its inception at the turn of the century and appeared in World Wars I and II, the Korean War and even the Vietnam War, many times in sniper roles in later conflicts.

The course of fire for this match is identical to the John C. Garand M1 Match, except shooters receive an additional 10 seconds during the rapid fire prone portion of the match to work their rifle's action.

As the winner of the overall match, Hudock topped Jim Minturn (280-5X) and Nick Mowrer (274-4X) who captured second and third respectively in the junior shooter category.

Franco Scarpino of Pembroke, Massachusetts, won the senior division of the Springfield Match with an aggregate score of 283-3X.

The Vintage Military Rifle match held Friday and Saturday, 1 and 2 August welcomed 330 shooters shouldering a variety of "as-issued" military firearms, including the US Krag or M1917 US Enfield rifle or manually-operated foreign military rifles including the Swedish, German and Turkish Mausers, Swiss Schmidt-Rubin, Russian and Finnish Mosin-Nagant and British Enfield.

Michael Hawkins of Bois Darc, Missouri, took top honors in the Vintage match with a 286-7X. Hawkins fired a Swedish Mauser. He was followed by David Schnelle who used his Swiss Schmidt-Rubin to fire a 285-7X and John Friguglietti Jr. took third with a 284-1X, shooting a US M1917.

Christopher Hudock, winner of the Springfield Match, used his Swedish Mauser rifle to fire a 258-0X to win honors as the top junior in the event.

Donald Rice Jr. of Stillwater, Minnesota, won the senior category with a 283-4X firing a Swedish Mauser.

A Model 1903 Springfield Presentation Rifle, crafted by Eric Pierce of National Match Armory, Rendon, Texas (<http://www.nationalmatcharmory.com>), was awarded to Gary Leginza of Michigan who was selected through a special drawing. At the end of each relay, competitors were randomly selected to have their rifles inspected and those whose rifles passed inspection were entered in the drawing.

In the CMP Games Event finale, the John C. Garand Match, 1,177 shooters took to the firing line using "as issued" M1 Garand rifles. They followed the same course of fire as the Springfield Match with the exception of a 70-second rapid fire phase due to the speedier semi-automatic action of the rifle.

The M1 Garand chambers the same .30-06 round as the Springfield and is fed with eight-round clips. The Garand, as it's commonly called, was named for its designer, John C. Garand. It saw service in WWII, throughout the Korean War and into the Vietnam War when it was replaced first by the box magazine-fed M14 and eventually the M16. The M1 Garand remained in service in many foreign military units around the world well into the 1960s.

The match winner, Christopher Roberts of Charlotte, North Carolina, fired a 292-6X in the three-stage event. Roberts shot a 99-3X, a 99-2X and 94-1X in prone slow fire, prone rapid fire and standing slow fire, respectively to win the match.

David Guthery took second place with a 290-8X aggregate and Ira Jones Jr. captured third place, shooting a 289-7X.

Gallager Bobseine of Cattaraugus, New York, won the junior title in the Garand Match in a tiebreaker over Tanner Kern, firing a 277-3X to Kern's 277-2X. Michael Lucky grabbed the third position, firing a 275-3X.

Ira Jones Jr. of Hubert, North Carolina, who finished third overall, won the senior title, shooting an aggregate of 289-7X.

An M1 Garand Presentation Rifle, crafted by Eric Pierce of National Match Armory, Rendon, Texas (<http://www.nationalmatcharmory.com>), was awarded to 16-year-old Alex Butler of Ridgewood, New Jersey, who fired the highest handicapped score in the match. Shooters' handicaps are based on the average of each shooter's scores in CMP-sanctioned matches over the previous two years.

CMP Games Matches stress camaraderie and recreation over competition and they celebrate the history of military small arms development and the traditions of military marksmanship. To the extent that these matches are competitive, most competitors' efforts to excel seldom go beyond competition among good friends or family members or with themselves. These matches truly are about combining marksmanship skill development with fun.

M1 for Vets Shooters Compete in National Matches

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – For wounded military veterans returning from the Global War on Terror in Iraq and Afghanistan, the idea of picking up a rifle again might seem like it would be the furthest thing from their minds.

But John “JJ” O’Shea, founder of M1 for Vets, an organization founded in 2005 to reintroduce wounded vets to highpower rifle shooting, sees the connection between their plight and the rifle range, and says it’s not a stretch.

The reality is many military veterans have an affinity for target shooting. It was part of their training and for many, the most enjoyable part of their training. Either naturally or by vocation, many veterans become proficient at shooting and it’s a skill and recreation that stays with them, O’Shea said.

M1 for Vets, a not-for-profit organization, with the help of private and corporate contributions, donates reconditioned M1 Garand semiautomatic rifles to wounded veterans and encourages them to bring them out to rifle matches and CMP Games events around the country to fire them. The M1 Garand rifle became the standard battlefield weapon during the latter portion of World War II and the Korean War.

“What began as an idea to provide one returning veteran with an M1 Garand as a way of showing our support and appreciation for his or her service, has grown into a nationwide project,” O’Shea said.

“These guys are absolutely amazing - I cry every day,” O’Shea said in admiration of the wounded veterans he watched assemble on the firing line during the John C. Garand Match on Saturday, 2 August, the most recent M1 for Vets outing.

“I am humbled. There’s no other way to describe it,” he said.

O’Shea looked down the line and described the sounds of veterans firing in the current relay.

“There’s a fella with no thumb on his trigger hand and he just shot a 99-3X. That guy lost the sight in his right eye, so he’s learning to shoot left-handed. This guy left his legs in Iraq, but look at his scorecard,” O’Shea said as he pointed to a string of 10s and Xs.

“This program is really starting to take off. People are coming out of the woodwork to help out, contribute money or to host benefit matches,” O’Shea said. “We would really like to begin bringing teams up here to shoot in the President’s 100 or National Trophy Individual match,” O’Shea said.

Dale Beatty, 29, of Statesville, North Carolina lost both of his legs below the knees when the Humvee he was driving in northern Iraq struck an anti-tank mine on 14 November 2004.

Beatty was the most severely wounded of the four guardsmen aboard. He was serving full time with the North Carolina National Guard running an armory prior to deployment with an artillery unit.

“Over there we were basically infantry and I was a squad leader,” Beatty said.

Married for seven years and the father of two sons, Beatty was eventually transferred to Walter Reed Army Medical Center where he underwent treatment and rehabilitation for a year.

After returning to North Carolina to build a new home, O’Shea contacted him and eventually presented him with an M1.

“JJ has been coaching me ever since,” Beatty said.

He said seven veterans came to Camp Perry in 2006; 15 attended last year and 20 attended this year’s matches. It was Beatty’s second trip to Camp Perry for the Springfield and Garand matches. He said he now belongs to an M1 for Vets club near home that already has 41 members.

Beatty said the M1 Garand rifle was a very special gift.

“I have a military tradition in my family that dates all the way back to the Revolutionary War. A member of my family has been in every major war since then, except maybe Desert Storm.”

“So these are the rifles that my family used – my great grandfather shot the ‘03 in World War I. My grandfather had a Garand in World War II and my uncle carried a Carbine in China.

“The historical aspect and connection between that and my family is what really made that gift mean something to me,” Beatty added.

Shawn Seeley, a Vet from Washington, shot a 99-3X with no thumb. Seeley earned Bronze Achievement Medals in both the Springfield Rifle Match and John C. Garand Match.

“As a veteran, we get a lot more respect than the guys from wars past. Somebody might buy you dinner if they see you out, but getting a rifle is special. That’s something that I can pass on to my kids.”

Regarding his disability, Beatty was upbeat. “When the newer guys come in and see how well we’re doing, it’s easier for them get over it and get on with their lives, even with a disadvantage, even with the prosthetics.”

“I can’t be as physical as I used to be, but I can still come out here and enjoy this sport. I’m hoping to grow it and I think we are. Two of the guys that were in my squad in Iraq are members of our club,” Beatty said.

“Camp Perry started as a military training post and a lot of our guys are getting beat up and now they’re coming back here to do some of the things they enjoy – and that’s what it’s all about.”

Recipients of M1 rifles are not self-selected but are instead nominated by “brothers-in-arms” and those familiar with wounded veterans through treatment in military hospitals. Candidates are predominantly combat-wounded from the Middle East Theater.

Criteria for receiving an M1 through the program served in either Operation Enduring Freedom or Operation Iraqi Freedom. They must have a desire to continue in shooting sports such as hunting, trap/skeet, or rifle marksmanship, and they must be willing to accept the gift.

At every M1 for Vets match, a major portion of the match fee is donated to the purchase of a rifle for a pre-selected veteran, O’Shea said. Sometimes their travel expenses, lodging and even food are paid.

Almost every state is represented in the M1 for Vets donor list. O’Shea credits The Walter Reed Society, Operation Second Chance, and the Wounded Warrior Project in addition to countless civilians, soldiers and fellow veterans for making the program operate.

The mailing address for more information and to make donations is JJ O’Shea, P.O. Box 876, Huntersville, N.C. 28070. His e-mail address is jjoshea@msn.com.

At the CMP Games closing ceremonies on Saturday, 3 August, CPL Neil Frustaglio presented an M1 to CPL Steve Kiernan.

Dale Beatty pauses between phases Garand Match. Beatty competed in the CMP Games Events at the National Matches.

JJ O’Shea, founder of the M1 for Vets Program, coaches during the John C. Garand Match.

7th National Rimfire Sporter Match Sets New Record

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Sun and a light breeze chased away the morning rain as a record crop of shooters stepped to the firing line at the seventh annual CMP National Rimfire Sporter Match on Sunday, 20 July.

Rimfire Sporter is an informal CMP Games match that introduces shooters to a course of fire akin to match competition yet conducted at a pace conducive to new shooters. The match is fired with off-the-rack bolt-action or semi-automatic .22 caliber rifles which bear no specialized target shooting equipment such as heavy fluted barrels, thumbhole stocks or match-grade sights and must meet weight and trigger-pull restrictions.

Divided into Open (O-Class) and Telescopic (T-Class) sight classifications, shooters of all ages compete in either or both classes in separate relays, giving participants an optimal opportunity to shoot their favorite plinking rifles for scores and medals in what has become an extremely popular CMP match.

With some shooters firing both in open and telescopic sights classification, a total of 296 scores were recorded in this year's match, the largest participation since the event's inception in 2002. A total of 114 scores were logged in O-Class and 182 in T-Class.

Prior to the match on Saturday, 19 July, the CMP's Chief Range Officer Duane Tallman conducted the Rimfire Sporter Match Clinic which covered safety and the basics of three-position shooting. CMP Director Gary Anderson taught the part of the clinic dealing with the shooting positions and firing techniques.

Robert Elka, firing a bolt-action CZ 452 shot an aggregate score of 582-17X out of a possible 600 in the 60-shot match to win the O-Class. Elka scored 98-4X in prone slow fire, 99-2X in prone rapid fire, 96-4X in sitting/kneeling slow fire, 92-3X in sitting/kneeling rapid fire, 98-3X in standing slow fire and 99-1X in standing rapid fire. Elka of Willis, Michigan, also won the O-Class and placed second overall in the T-Class in 2007.

All prone and sitting/kneeling shots are fired from 50 yards while standing stages are shot from 25 yards.

High Junior O-Class shooter, Charles Opalewski, of Vicksburg, Michigan, fired an aggregate score of 570-16X with his CZ 452 bolt gun, based on scores of 96-2X, 91-1X, 95-1X, 93-2X, 98-6X and 97-4X in the same stages, respectively. Opalewski was also the high 4-H junior shooter. Opalewski, a member of the St. Joseph County 4-H Straight Shooters, also won the High Junior and High 4-H O-Class award at the 2007 National Rimfire Match.

In O-Class Senior, Jan Hill, of Lakewood, Ohio, took high honors with a 567-9X aggregate score using a Remington Model 597. Hill fired a 96-3X, 98-1X, 89-0X, 95-3X, 95-1X and 94-1X in the same stages, respectively.

The winner of T-Class was Warren Westphal Jr., of Manteo, North Carolina, who fired a 587-23X in a tie-breaker over perennial contender Ronald Springsteen, who scored a 587-20X. Westphal used a bolt-action Sako P94S Finnfire while Springsteen shot a Thompson Center Classic semiautomatic. Westphal poured seven rounds into the X-ring in prone slow fire and five more in prone rapid fire to edge Springsteen.

Westphal fired a 99-7X, 97-5X, 98-3X, 98-2X, 97-3X and 98-3X, respectively, to hold off Springsteen.

Springsteen's score was good enough however to win the Senior division in T-Class with his 100-6X, 98-3X, 97-4X, 96-0X, 100-4X and 96-3X, respectively.

The high Junior shooter in T-Class was Eric Curavo, of Northwood, Ohio, who guided his bolt-action CZ 453 to an aggregate score of 585-24X. Curavo posted a 100-6X, 98-4X, 99-4X, 97-2X, 96-3X and 95-5X, respectively to win. Colin Vander Veen fired an aggregate score of 583-20X to post the high score in 4-H Junior with a break-out of 99-4X, 98-2X, 98-2X, 95-2X 97-6X and 96-4X, respectively. Vander Veen, of Galesburg, Michigan, is a member of the Cooper Shooters 4-H.

The 2008 program brought out an increasingly broader base of younger and older shooters alike. Senior and 4-H club teams from as far away as Florida and Georgia made the trip to Camp Perry for a taste of the National Matches atmosphere.

A southwestern Pennsylvania group brought along a very special and high-scoring shooter.

Keith Stich, 17, of Portersville, Pennsylvania scored well enough to place seventh among junior shooters, but he scored even higher points in the eyes of his fellow shooters just by participating.

Keith is paralyzed from his chest down due to birth defect known as congenital spinal stenosis, or narrowing of the spinal column. His family and several green-shirted members of the Koppel-Big Beaver Sportsmen's Association were one of the larger contingents at the match with nine shooters.

His disability has not dampened his sense of competition or desire to improve his shooting skills.

"I love it," Keith said regarding the Camp Perry experience. "I've always liked shooting guns and I like the competition and being able to improve," he said.

"Plus, up here I get to compete with the big boys," he said. Keith has been a participant in organized shooting sports since he was a 10-year-old Cub Scout.

He earned a silver achievement medal last year and again this year, scoring a 570-11X, just seven points shy of gold.

Keith's parents, Cheryl and Rickie Stich said Keith's condition hasn't affected his desire to shoot.

"His condition is very rare," Rickie said. "He's grouped with the same people who suffer from Spina Bifida, but his condition is just the opposite. With Spina Bifida, the spinal column never closes – in Keith's case, it closed too much."

Rickie and Keith's brother Scott, 14, also competed in the match. Neither scored as well as Keith, but it didn't detract from the fun – they all enjoyed the match.

"We shoot every Monday night as a family outing," Cheryl said. "I think the boys' self-esteem is really boosted by coming here."

Gary Newyear, 56, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio fired in his third Rimfire Sporter Match this year and said he likes coming to the matches to "be with his own kind."

"I feel very comfortable out here because I know I'm going to be around other people like me," New-year said.

The Stich Family poses for a family photo during the Rimfire Match. Keith earned a silver achievement medal at this year's Rimfire Sporter Match.

"The match is challenging. The limitations on the rifle are a challenge, but I like that," he added. Newyear also shoots a much heavier Springfield M1A, so the switch to a lightweight .22 with a heavier trigger is an adjustment.

Junior shooter Emily Bartlett, 15, of Mason, Michigan came to Camp Perry with her 12-year-old sister Erica to shoot in Rimfire Sporter for the first time with their great-grandfather Art Bush, 77, and family friend Jack Huntoon, 73. They are members of the Capitol City Rifle Club in Lansing.

"It's a fun and great experience," Emily said. "It's kind of cool to see all the stuff on Commercial Row and everyone is so welcoming."

"Plus my great grandpa is pretty happy we're here," Emily added.

An accomplished air gun silhouette shooter back in Michigan, Emily also plays soccer, basketball and likes to fish, but has plans to return to Camp Perry.

"After shooting this year I definitely want to come back," she said.

Charles Fritz, 68, of Cape Coral, Florida and three of his buddies drove up from the Sunshine State to meet up with a couple of Florida "snow birds" from Pennsylvania and Ohio at Camp Perry for the Rimfire Sporter Match.

Fritz was also joined by his son Charles Fritz II and grandson Dan Fritz from Cicero, New York for the match.

They said they came to Camp Perry to experience the National Match environment.

"This is a great place," Fritz Sr. said. It's his first time shooting the Rimfire Sporter, but he said it takes him back to his days as an eight-year-old when he learned to shoot his .22 rifle in the basement of his parent's home in the 1940s.

"I shot from the playroom, through the kitchen, into the workshop where I had a cigar box as a target backed up by sandbags and two-by-fours," he recalled.

"Yep, I shot through two doorways."

Also joining the Fritz clan from Florida were Dave Mommaerts, 49, of North Port, and Larry Tee-garden, 66, of Cape Coral along with John Lerda, 65, of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania and John Gibson, 63, of Brimfield, Ohio.

Chuck Welch, 40, and his wife Lee Ann, 36, of Wampum, Pennsylvania may have entered the two youngest shooters in Sunday's match. Tommy, 10, and his sister Caroline, 12, shot alongside dad in the family's first Rimfire Sporter match.

Tommy shot his Romanian target .22 with a cut-down stock so he could shoulder it better.

"It's a little front-heavy, but he's handling it pretty well," Lee Ann Welch said.

"Tommy has a new CZ Scout waiting for him at home," she said. Young Tommy has a scrap metal collecting business and has earned enough money to buy his own new rifle, his mom said. They just didn't have enough time to get the Scout sighted in before they left home.

Caroline, who is left eye dominant, but is right-handed, is learning to shoot left-handed to take advantage of her left side dominance, Lee Ann Welch said.

"This is a great experience for the kids – I just wish it's something they could talk about in school," she added.

The Welch family is part of the Koppel-Big Beaver team from Pennsylvania, coached by Rex Walter, 48, who has attended all seven Rimfire Sporter matches.

The Laurens County Georgia 4-H Club made a colorful entrance to the match dressed in pink. Even coaches Frankie Mathis, 45, and Donnie Upshaw donned the team colors, which Mathis referred to as the "Pepto-Bismol" group.

Team member Natalie Harper, 16, even sported a pink Ruger 10-22 semiautomatic rifle for the match.

Mathis and Upshaw have been coaching the Laurens County team for 15 years, staying with the group even after their own children were graduated from the program. In all, nine members of the team participated in this year's match.

At the conclusion of the firing portion of the program, the CMP hosted a cookout for all participants and Gary Anderson, Director of Civilian Marksmanship presented achievement medals to the top shooters. Cut scores to receive medals were 520, 542 and 552 for bronze, silver and gold, respectively, in O-Class and 548, 564 and 577 in T-Class.

Members of the Laurens County Georgia 4-H Club sport their pink shirts. Over 15 members and support staff made the trip to Camp Perry for the National Rimfire Match.
