2009 NATIONAL TROPHY PISTOL MATCHES

U.S. Marine Corps Brigadier General Melvin G. Spiese opens the 2009 National Matches

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

BG Spiese choose an M1 Garand to fire the ceremonial "First Shot" of the 2009 National Matches.

CAMP PERRY, OHIO - The 2009 National Matches First Shot Ceremony on 13 July featured the dedication of the new Camp Perry Memorial Plaza, inspiring comments by featured speaker U.S. Marine Corps Brigadier General Melvin G. Spiese, a dramatic flyover by an Ohio National Guard Blackhawk helicopter and the delivery of the ceremonial American Flag by three Ohio National Guard 19th Special Forces paratroopers.

Gary Anderson, Director of Civilian Marksmanship, presided over festivities which officially opened the National Rifle and Pistol Championships, held annually here since 1907. A partnership involving the Civilian Marksmanship Program, the National Rifle Association and the Ohio National Guard conduct the National Matches. The Matches include both the CMP National Trophy Matches and CMP Games Events as well as National Rifle Association National Rifle and Pistol Championships.

More than 6,000 civilian, military and law enforcement pistol and rifle shooters will participate in competitions, clinics and shooting events during the Matches, spanning from 13 July to 19 August.

The Friends of Camp Perry, who directed the erection of the memorial plaza," is a non-profit patriotic organization that has taken on the mission of preserving the history of Camp Perry and bettering the experiences of those who come here, whether as soldiers, competitors or visitors," Anderson said.

Dr. Thomas Brown, former mayor of the City of Port Clinton, and the founding president of the Friends of Camp Perry, christened the new plaza which is located at the end of Niagara Road, the camp's main road, abutting the camp's firing ranges.

"This memorial plaza is dedicated to the shooters who have participated in the Camp Perry and Civilian Marksmanship Program's competitions for over a century," Brown said. "We say 'thank you' for making this memorial possible."

Brown also recognized the Ohio Historical Society, Camp Perry's 200th Red Horse Squadron, Ohio National Guard Fort Ohio Commander Colonel Dean Brown, CMP, NRA, Ottawa County Veterans Services and FOCP volunteers for making the plaza a reality.

"This is a labor of love," Brown said in his concluding remarks. Dignitaries representing NRA, CMP and the Ohio Adjutant General's Department laid a ceremonial wreath against the large inscribed marble column at the center of the plaza which is flanked by flagpoles, a wall of remembrance and surrounded by engraved memorial brick pavers.

Following the memorial plaza dedication Anderson spoke briefly of the 92-year history of the National Matches at Camp Perry and welcomed distinguished guests and speakers following an invocation by Chaplain (COL) Richard Genzman.

After the parachute drop of the American Flag, which will fly at Camp Perry for the duration of the Matches, the Admiral King High School Junior ROTC Color Guard of Lorain, Ohio raised the ceremonial flag as members of the 122nd Ohio Army National Guard Band played the National Anthem. The flag had been previously flown over the Ottawa County Courthouse and Bataan Elementary School in Port Clinton, Ohio.

Brigadier General Spiese kept his remarks brief but made it clear that he and his fellow Marines were honored to participate in the National Matches and opening ceremony.

"Every Marine is a rifleman. And there is nothing more perfect for a Marine to show up at a place like this and participate in a shooting event," he said.

"I am truly honored to be the first Marine to serve as the guest speaker at this program."

"The Civilian Marksmanship Program really is part of the fabric of the United States," the General said. "The continual presence of the Marines in the CMP matches shows our support of the program." Spiese also recognized the NRA for promoting Second Amendment rights and sponsoring its National Championships.

Upon the conclusion of his remarks, Brigadier General Spiese shouldered a commemorative M1 Garand rifle and fired the ceremonial first shot of the 2009 National Matches. Upon delivering the shot, the center of the lone raised target exploded, leaving a 10-inch hole in the bull's eye, apparently the pyrotechnic work of his Marine comrades serving pit duty.

As he stepped back to the microphone a second time Brigadier General Spiese quietly laid down a figurative gauntlet, reminding his Marines that he was the first Marine speaker at the ceremony and wanted the honor upheld.

"No pressure folks," he said staring at the Marine contingent. "But feel free to take home all the trophies."

Brigadier General Spiese currently serves as Commanding General of the U. S. Marine Corps Training and Education Command. He was commissioned via the NROTC program after receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign in May of 1976.

After attending Basic School, Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to 3d Battalion, 4th Marines as a rifle platoon commander, executive officer and commanding officer with Company L, and served on the battalion staff. Upon return home, Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to Marine Barracks, Naval Weapons Station, Concord, CA. In May of 1981 he was assigned to 3d Battalion, 9th Marines as the Commanding Officer of Company I and battalion S-4. In May 1983 he was transferred to the NROTC Unit, Illinois Institute of Technology as the Marine Officer Instructor.

Leaving Illinois in June 1986, Brigadier General Spiese was posted to Headquarters Marine Corps, serving as the Head of Regular Officer Procurement. Following his tour at Headquarters, he attended Marine Corps Command and Staff College, graduating in May of 1990. After graduation, Brigadier General Spiese was transferred to Marine Corps Air Station, Iwakuni Japan and assigned to Marine Aircraft Group 12 as the Assistant Operations Officer and Ground Combat Liaison.

Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to 6th Marines in July of 1991 as the Executive Officer of 3d Battalion, then regiment S-3. He assumed command of 2d Force Reconnaissance Company in December 1993. Upon relinquishing command in July 1995, Brigadier General Spiese was reassigned to U.S. Special Operations Command, serving as a Policy Officer dealing with Counter Proliferation of Weapons of Mass Destruction and Marine Corps matters.

Upon his departure from USSOCOM, Brigadier General Spiese attended Top Level School at the U.S. Army School of Advanced Military Studies as a Fellow in the Advanced Operational Arts Studies program. He remained a second year serving as a seminar leader for the Advanced Military Studies Program, a second year program for majors attending the Army Command and General Staff College.

Brigadier General Spiese was assigned to the Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center in June of 1999 as the Director, Tactical Training Exercise Control Group. He assumed command of the School of Infantry (East) in June of 2001, and was assigned as the Director, Expeditionary Warfare School upon relinquishing command in July of 2003. In March of 2005, Brigadier General Spiese assumed the duties of Commanding General Training Command, Deputy Commanding General Training and Education Command.

He was selected for Brigadier General in February 2005. He served as the Deputy Director for Strategy, Policy and Assessments, U.S. European Command from October 2005. He served as Commanding General of Marine Air Ground Task Force Training Command, Marine Corps Air Ground Combat Center at Twentynine Palms, California from July 2007. His current assignment, as of May 2008, is Commanding General, Training and Education Command.

Brigadier General Spiese has been awarded three Legions of Merit, the Joint Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, three Navy Commendation Medals, and Joint Service Achievement Medal. He is a Military Freefall Parachutist and Marine Combatant Diver. Brigadier General Spiese has earned a Masters of Science degree from the University of Southern California, and a Masters of Military Arts and Science degree from the U.S. Army School of Advanced Military Studies.

MG Greg Wayt, representing the Ohio National Guard, Mr. Bill Willoughby, representing the CMP and Mr. Ron Schmeits, NRA President, laid the ceremonial wreath during the Camp Perry Memorial Plaza dedication.

National Trophy Pistol Matches

A Message from the DCM:

The CMP is pleased to provide you with this souvenir printed edition of the Final Results of the 2009 National Trophy Pistol Matches. 998 individual shooters participated in the 2009 Pistol Small Arms Firing School and/or National Trophy Pistol Matches. The CMP thanks all of you for participating and for making this year's National Trophy Pistol Matches one of the biggest in many years.

The 2009 National Matches began on 12 July with the biggest Pistol Small Arms Firing School on record. The National Trophy Pistol Matches began the next day with the inauguration of the new Service Pistol Warm-Up Match. Two days of National Trophy competition on 13 and 19 July witnessed lots of great shooting. This year's shooting heroes included:

- ⊙ SFC James Henderson, USAMU, who won an unprecedented sixth President's Pistol Match with a new National Matches record, the National Trophy Individual Pistol Match with a National Matches record of 297-13X, the Military Police Corps Trophy as the high individual shooter in the National Trophy Team Match and the new Service Pistol Warm-Up Pistol Match. Henderson's victories in the four National Trophy Pistol Matches are arguably the greatest overall performance ever in the history of these matches.
- ⊙ SFC Henderson joined teammates SSG John Ennis IV, SSG Robert Park II and SFC Daryl Szarenski to win the National Trophy Team Match.
- ⊙ 17-year-old Blake Fleming and 17-year-old Joseph Totts won the two individual junior pistol awards.

The CMP extends sincere thank yous to the following organizations and individuals for their significant contributions to another great National Matches:

- ⊙ To the Army Marksmanship Unit and coaches representing Active, National Guard and Reserve teams from the Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard for another superb Pistol Small Arms Firing School.
- ⊙ To the NRA staff and range volunteers who operated the ranges with efficiency, courtesy and skill.
- ⊙ To Erik Pierce, National Match Armory in Rendon, Texas who produced two splendid M1 Garand presentation rifles for the President's and NTI Pistol Match Handicap winner, Cary Bryczek.
- ⊙ To Colt Firearms, Glock and Caspian Arms for presentation pistol donations, to Schuemann Barrels for with a donated match barrel and to USAMU for gunsmithed by USAMU armorers on the pistol awarded to the President's Pistol Match winner.
- ⊙ To Bill Gordon of Photomaker in Port Clinton, Ohio, who provided many excellent photos of National Matches activities.
- ⊙ To the Ohio National Guard Camp Perry staff headed by Fort Ohio Commander Colonel Dean Brown and to the Ohio National Guard Soldiers who carried out the National Matches Military Support mission.
- ⊙ To the CMP staff who continued their tradition of dedicated service to shooters.

We sincerely hope all of you had a great experience at the 2009 National Matches--we hope to see you back at the 2010 National Matches.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

2009 Pistol Small Arms Firing School and Advanced Pistol Course

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

Students were instructed on the range as well as in the classroom. After the two instructional sessions, students fired an M9 EIC Match.

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – There is a growing trend among U.S. shooting organizations to increase participation in competitive pistol shooting to both to educate the public about proper firearms safety and proficiency, and to strengthen competition numbers.

So it is no surprise that the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit (USAMU) stepped up its efforts to enhance programs like the Small Arms Firing School (SAFS) Pistol at this year’s National Matches.

The USAMU, in conjunction with the Civilian Marksmanship Program and assisted by Army, Air Force, Coast Guard, Marine and Navy Active, National Guard and Reserve shooting team members, intensified SAFS Pistol by consolidating a two-day program into one, and adding an advanced shooters course.

The program featured an intensive classroom session in the Camp Perry auditorium conducted by some of the nation’s top shooters. This classroom instruction was followed with a session on the range; then the shooters completed the day by firing of an Excellence In Competition (EIC) match.

According to the Marksmanship Unit’s NCOIC SFC Jason St. John, the 2009 USAMU team sharpened its focus to improve one-on-one training between participants and instructors, concentrating more on the fundamentals of pistol shooting. The unit wanted to get back to the basics of sharing knowledge with the civilian population.

“We met last fall with CMP and agreed to make SAFS a one-day program, keeping the materials basically the same, although we made vast improvements to our slide show presentation,” St. John said.

By consolidating SAFS to one-day it enabled CMP to run a service pistol warm-up match on Tuesday, which is normally the second day of SAFS. In addition, the USAMU conducted an Advanced Small Arms Firing School which was attended by nearly 70 experienced shooters.

“Our original program covered five basic areas including familiarity with the M9 service pistol, introduction to fundamentals, introduction to competition, mental management and training plans,” said St John.

“The mandate of the Small Arms Firing School is to introduce the civilian population the military sidearm, in our case, the M9 service pistol. So for the basic program we decided to cut off the competition and mental management side of it, and kept to familiarity, fundamentals and training plans. That gave us an additional 45 minutes to include an actual hands-on training session before students even fired,” St. John said. “It is essentially an extension of the fundamentals class.”

On the range students fired Beretta M9 ball guns at 25-yard targets. The course of fire during the range training included five sighters in two and a half minutes, a slow-fire stage of 10-rounds in five minutes, a timed-fire stage of two-strings of five-rounds in 20 seconds each and a rapid-fire stage of two-strings of five-rounds in 10 seconds each.

St. John said the hands-on segment allowed students to gain familiarity with safety and firing functions of the M9 prior to firing on the range. Combining the hands-on portion of the program with practice firing, then immediately moving to the EIC match, added continuity to the program.

“In the past at the end of the first day we would have a 30-round practice fire, then come back the next day for the competition. This created a big gap and a ‘synapse’ in their day, which can cause a student to lose their sighting, knowledge of function and familiarity with the sidearm, (this year) we kept it all together,” he added.

St. John said coaches could be more effective without a break because they kept focus on their students’ needs. “Students got immediate feedback from the coaches after practice firing and were able to take that knowledge directly to the line for the introductory EIC match. Now they have it all at one time with the same gun and the same instructor, then they roll right into their match.”

“In the advanced course, we wanted to do everything we could to give back to the competitive public. We wanted to tell the advanced students what we focus on to get our shooters to the next level,” St. John explained.

“It was matter of exposing to the class our mantra to marksmanship, what we focus on. It all comes down to fundamentals really,” he said. “It is about efficient application of marksmanship fundamentals.”

The advanced course centered around four basic areas; equipment, fundamentals, training plans and mental preparedness.

St. John explained that the discussion about equipment was less about specific types of equipment to acquire, but more about what the competitor should do with the equipment they already have. “We want to stress that there is a lot of room for improvement by most shooters before moving up to better equipment. Once you have proven that you have gone as far as you can go with existing equipment, then you may consider upgrading.”

“Then we get right back to fundamentals of how we train, and lastly to the mental side of shooting; being positive, limiting expectations and staying focused. In the Army we have what we call a shot plan that every shooter comes up with to focus on the fundamentals. What happens to shooters is they allow themselves to have multiple distractions. They may have an expectation that they will shoot a 95 in rapid fire and they go out and shoot a 91. Then when it is time to fire again they are still thinking about that 91 when they should be thinking about approaching their next string,” St. John explained. “Instead shooters should be thinking, ‘keep the sights in the center, pull the trigger’,” he said.

St. John said the 2009 SAFS exceeded expectations in terms of attendance and response of the participants. “Our unit’s mission is to enhance combat readiness with lessons learned in competition, research and development. A second part of that mission is to enhance the image of the Army through a proactive public relations campaign.”

“So realistically, we gave to the civilians everything we could possibly give in our basic and advanced courses. We accomplished our mission with the increase in attendance from about 380 people to over 500,” said St. John.

All participants in the SAFS Pistol were awarded a certificate of completion, and some earned credits toward their Distinguished Pistol badge as part of the EIC Match.

North Carolina Junior Christopher Hudock wins the 2009 M9 Pistol EIC Match

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

Nineteen year old Christopher Hudock was the top competitor in the 2009 M9 Pistol EIC Match.

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – Christopher Hudock, 19, of Raleigh, North Carolina, attended his first Small Arms Firing School (SAFS) Pistol at the 2009 National Trophy Pistol Matches, and then went on to win the Excellence In Competition (EIC) M9 Match on 13 July with an aggregate score of 269-6X.

Hudock, an accomplished rifle shooter as a junior, earned his Distinguished Rifle Badge in May 2008. Later that summer he also won the Springfield Rifle Match and was the High Junior in the Vintage Military Rifle Match. This year Hudock is competing in pistol as an adult, and has his sights set on becoming Double Distinguished.

SAFS Pistol instruction was provided by US Army Pistol and Rifle Teams with the support of Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force and Coast Guard team members, and the clinic has long been regarded as one of the best available anywhere. All training, practice and match firing was conducted using military-issued Beretta M9 service pistols.

Hudock and his SAFS classmates participated in hands-on training on the range with their coaches, and then concluded the school by firing in an official EIC match. This “Special EIC Match” offers competitors who have not earned any EIC credit points a chance to compete for 4-point “introductory legs” that are awarded to the top 10% of these shooters. Competitors may only earn points once in a 4-point introductory leg match towards the 30 points that are required to earn a Distinguished Badge.

U.S. Coast Guard Chief Gunner’s Mate (GMC) Shannon Shull, 35, of Port Clinton, Ohio finished second in the EIC match. He fired a 268-5X. Third and fourth place went to a tie-breaker between Michael Burke, 50, of Annapolis, Maryland and Joe Novoa, Jr., 22, of Springville, New York, with a score of 267-3X.

This year’s SAFS Pistol course was consolidated from two days to one, providing students an opportunity to learn pistol fundamentals during a morning session in the classroom. This instruction was followed by live-fire one-on-one practice with an instructor, and the EIC match in the afternoon.

“I liked the change in format down to one-day from two,” said Sam Rucker, 61, of Detroit, Michigan. He said the consolidation of training and firing gave his family an opportunity to enjoy Camp Perry and surrounding attractions like Cedar Point amusement park in neighboring Sandusky before returning home.

“It’s a young man’s game,” exclaimed Harry J. Pearson, 70, of Vermilion, Ohio. Pearson and his younger buddy, Howard Fuller, 64, also of Vermilion, enjoyed the experience despite not scoring as well as they would have liked.

It was Pearson’s first return to SAFS Pistol since 2002 and was Fuller’s first experience in the school. Both have participated in SAFS Rifle, and both are looking forward to returning next year.

“The distance is the same and the targets are the same, but the pistols are 100 percent better than ‘02. These guns are like new, nice and tight,” Pearson said.

Jonathan Ursich, 15, and his brother Timothy, 18, of Centerburg, Ohio enjoyed their first SAFS Pistol experience. “It was a good learning experience. Pretty informative and the instruction was great,” Jonathan said.

Heath and Amanda Baus of Elyria, Ohio have been shooting informally together for some time, but the EIC match was their first. “Shooting a match is a pretty humbling experience,” Amanda said. “The Marine instructor we had was very helpful.”

Part of the attraction of the Small Arms Firing School is the opportunity for shooter to receive hands-on instruction from the top military shooters in the country. Participants sit through a half-day of classroom instruction, which is followed by a practice session and EIC match on the range.

2009 National Trophy Pistol Matches

By Steve Cooper, CMP Writer

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – U.S. Army SFC James Henderson put on an impressive display of service pistol shooting at the 2009 National Trophy Pistol Matches. Over the four-day event Henderson was an individual winner and team trophy winner in six categories, and set two new national individual scoring records in the process.

He led the field in the President's Pistol Match with an aggregate score of 393-17X out of a possible 400. He also set a new record in the National Trophy Individual Match with a score of 297-13X out of 300.

Henderson, 42, of Columbus, Georgia, is a member of the Army's elite Marksmanship Unit, which fared very well in individual and team competition at this year's matches. Henderson was also the top Overall Individual Service Pistol shooter with an aggregate score of 981-4X.

"I think I'm finally starting to realize who I'm supposed to be as far as what level of shooter I am," Henderson said following the President's Match.

"But honestly, I wouldn't be here without the support of the AMU and the guys on the team. It's absolutely got to be the best job in the Army. We get to help train soldiers to shoot better in the field and that's about as rewarding as winning this championship, especially if it helps save someone's life, that definitely helps me keep things in perspective," Henderson added.

998 shooters participated in the National Trophy Pistol Matches, which is sponsored by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. The event was first held in 1903 and moved to Camp Perry, Ohio, in 1907 where it has remained ever since.

Henderson victory in the President's Pistol Match placed him at the top of the prestigious President's 100 list, a goal that shooters strive for each year at the National Matches. The top 100 finishers in the event receive a congratulatory letter from the President of the United States. The cut-off score (100th place) in this year's President's Match was a 351-3X, fired by Wesley Curtis, 49, of Fleming Island, Florida.

The President's Pistol Match is a service pistol event featuring 20 slow-fire shots from 50 yards in 10 minutes, 10 timed-fire shots at 25 yards in 20 seconds and two-strings of five shots fired in 10 seconds each. The match has been fired since 1981.

Henderson's AMU teammates, SSG John Ennis IV, 33, of Fortson, Georgia and SSG Lyman Grover, 40, of Columbus, Georgia took second and third place in the President's Pistol Match with scores of 391-20X and 388-9X, respectively. Ennis briefly held the new match record until eclipsed by Henderson.

In the National Trophy Individual (NTI) Pistol Match, retired USMC GySGT and National Manager of Pistol Programs in the NRA's Competitions division, Brian Zins, 40, of Centreville, Virginia captured second place with an aggregate score of 292-16X. Army SSG Robert Park II, 30, of Ft. Mitchell, Alabama finished third with an aggregate of 292-13X.

The NTI is a 300-point match fired with 10 shots of slow-fire at 50 yards in 10 minutes, 10 shots of timed-fire at 25 yards in 20 seconds and 10 shots of rapid-fire at 25 yards in two strings of five shots each at 25 yards. The NTI is an Excellence-in-Competition (EIC) match in which the top 10 percent of all Non-Distinguished competitors, military and civilian, earn EIC points that count towards earning the Distinguished Pistol Shot Badge.

The President's Pistol Junior Trophy match is similar to the President's Pistol Match except it is fired with a .22 caliber pistol. This year the event was won by Joseph Totts, 17, of Mogadore, Ohio, who fired a 366-11X, comprised of a 171-2X, 98-6X and 97-3X in slow, timed and rapid-fire respectively. Greyson McCaig, 17, of Columbia, Tennessee fired a 364-7X to finish second in a tiebreaker over Zachary Hedrick, 17, of Boerne, Texas, who shot a 364-6X and finished third.

The National Trophy Individual Junior Pistol Trophy is also a .22 caliber event and the top spot went to Blake Fleming, 17, of Gloucester Pt., Virginia who shot a 273-6X. Fleming finished just ahead of Greyson McCaig who shot a 267-3X and last year's winner Ryan Nichols who shot a 266-3X.

In National Trophy Pistol Team (NTT) competition the US Army Blue team of SFC Henderson, Retired USMC shooter Matt Kokoszka, 70, of Oceanside, California, his wife Joan and their great grandson Isaiah Swim, 6, came to the Matches this year as a shooting vacation and will visit family from Kentucky, Virginia, Connecticut and Georgia along the way.

SSG Ennis, SSG Park and SFC Daryl Szarenski, 41, of Seale, Alabama, scored a combined 1142-41X to retain the Gold Cup 4-person team trophy which they've held since 2007. The USMC Scarlet Team of SGT Ben Footer, SGT John Lewis, LCpl Peyton Hebert, and SGT Jesse Durrant earned second place honors with an 1133-26X team aggregate. The USAMU Grey Team of SSG Timothy Barber, SSG Adam Sokolowski, SSG Jason Sargent and CPT Mathew Neyland took third place with a team total 1123-37X.

The two-person National Trophy Team Junior match was won by the Ohio Rifle and Pistol Association (ORPA) Junior team of Joseph Totts (280-12X) and Ryan Nichols (262-6X) who shot a combined 542-18X team aggregate score. The Marvel Custom Juniors team of Blake Fleming and Walker Buckman placed second with a team composite score of 532-8X and the TSRA Silver team scored a 519-11X for third.

In the new Service Pistol Warm-Up Match, SFC Henderson won first place overall with a score of 392-15X. The High Senior was Steve Locatelli with a 368-9X. High Woman shooter was Judy Tant with a 365-6X, and the High Junior shooter was Alex Tuomi with a score of 325-6X.

The Law Enforcement Team Trophy went to the FBI team of Keith Hanzel and Charles Byrd II with a score of 562-15X. Brian Zins shot the top civilian aggregate score in the NTI and NTT with a 578-25X. Judy Tant shot the top female aggregate the President's and NTI with a score of 632-16X.

BG Jack Lee, USA, awards SFC James Henderson the Pistol President's Trophy Match plaque. SFC Henderson also set a new National Record in the President's Pistol Match.

At the conclusion of the National Trophy Pistol Awards Ceremony, 2009 Pistol Champion James Henderson was promoted to SFC on stage.

USAMU Dominates 2009 Trophy Pistol Matches

CAMP PERRY, OHIO – The United States Army Marksmanship Unit pistol team seems to have become the proverbial “elephant in the room” as of late in discussions about the National Trophy Pistol Matches and it appears, given the team’s depth, the beast may be around for a while.

With increasing frequency, greater numbers of the Army’s elite pistol team are finding themselves in the top 20, top 10 and top five places in individual and team pistol competition.

At this year’s National Trophy Matches, USAMU shooters scored well in each match, including record-setting performances by team leader SFC James (Jim) Henderson, 42, of Columbus, Georgia who won an unprecedented sixth President’s Pistol Trophy Match with a record score of 393-17X. He also won his third National Trophy Individual Match, setting a new record of 297-13X.

“It’s very impressive,” said SFC Jason St. John, the AMU’s pistol team non-commissioned officer in charge. “It’s going to be a lot of fun between the three men who are on the stage, Phil Hemphill, Brian Zins and Jim Henderson, over the next few years.”

“We are probably going to see a pivotal battle year after year between these guys. It will probably be like a flashback to the late ‘60s and early ‘70s when we (the AMU) had some of the biggest names in the sport going back and forth winning national championships,” St. John said.

Henderson credits his unit, his teammates and his wife, Samantha, for his success. The couple married between the pistol and rifle phases of the National Trophy Matches.

“Jim (Henderson) casts a very large shadow on this AMU team,” St. John said. “But there are several guys nipping at his heels, trying to get to his level and their efforts are showing up in the results of these matches.”

To put things in perspective, using the President’s Pistol Trophy Match as an example, the number of AMU individuals finishing in the top 10 have steadily increased over the last six years. In 2004, two members of the AMU reached the top 10 in this event. In 2005 and 2006, the number increased to four AMU shooters in the top 10. In 2007, Henderson resumed active duty from the Army Reserve and five AMU shooters reached the top 10. In 2008, six AMU shooters reached the top 10, and this year seven members of AMU finished in the top 10, taking the top five places in the President’s Pistol Trophy Match.

In the 2009 National Trophy Individual Pistol Match, AMU members had another strong showing, with five team members placing in the top 10, including Henderson’s first-place finish. Retired US Marine Gunnery Sergeant Brian Zins placed second in the event.

“Our second-best shooter, and I really don’t like to rank these guys because it gets really tight after Jim, is SSG Robert Scott Park II. Our running joke on the team with Scott (Park) is his name, he’s referred to as ‘The Second’ because he always seems to be second behind Henderson no matter how well he shoots,” St. John chuckled.

“The names really stack up so fast after Henderson and Park that it would be offensive to the rest of the team to attempt to rank them. We are so deep that on any given day they are almost interchangeable,” he said. “From third to ninth, there really isn’t any separation that’s noticeable.”

St. John pointed out that because accomplished pistol shooters are usually older on average than top rifle shooters, it takes time to field a successful pistol team.

“It requires more time and training to develop a pistol shooter than a rifle shooter and that’s why we see greater success with more experienced shooters,” St. John said.

He said in order to perpetuate team success, there must always be younger shooters joining the group. Newer shooters grow and develop into seasoned pistol shooters and chase the older shooters until they eventually reach the top. Rules require that a new shooter be added each year.

At 42, Henderson said he often reflects on his younger days when he learned the ropes from experienced shooters who passed the baton to him and his peers. Now shooters like Park, 30, and Ennis, 33, are pushing him to be better and one day hope to vie for the top spot.

“It is no accident, worldwide, that pistol shooters are older than rifle shooters,” said AMU pistol team training instructor Rick Hawkins. “A rifle shooter has four points of contact; the right hand, left hand, shoulder and cheek. And the idea is to get that rifle over your body and as balanced as possible,” he said.

“In pistol, it’s dangling out there at the end of your arm and it is tougher, a lot tougher. It takes time to build the muscle groups to support the arm and learn technique, and that means you’re now looking at an older shooter, said Hawkins who has very high expectations for the team.

“We have a very young team. Some are shooting very well and some are getting frustrated because there’s no where for them to go. I’ve got nine High Masters and they say ‘I’m never going to beat Hendo.’ The problem is, 15 or 18 years ago when Henderson was in their boots, behind other quality shooters, he was saying the same thing. Except he never gave up because he knew eventually those guys were going to get old and were going to fall off,” said Hawkins. “So my job is to tell them not to worry about him, he’s a phenom. Just shoot what you’re capable to doing and provide the depth,” he added.

SFC James Henderson and SSG Robert Park II finished first and third respectively in the National Trophy Individual Pistol Match. Both were also part of the four-person US Army Blue team that won the National Trophy Pistol Team Match.

Air Pistol Opportunities at the CMP Marksmanship Centers

The Civilian Marksmanship Program's North and South Marksmanship Center's Air Gun Events have been bringing in shooters from around the country for a unique competitive experience. The ranges are located in Camp Perry, Ohio, and Anniston, Alabama. Both ranges feature state-of-the-art shooting technology and are equipped with 80 electronic target systems that display instant results of each shot. The two ranges can accommodate both air rifle and air pistol on the same firing line. Throughout the year there are plenty of air pistol matches and events going on at both facilities.

During the National Matches, the air pistol events at Camp Perry generated 251 entries in the 30 shot reentry match, and 49 entries in the 60 shot match. Included in this event was the center shot competition where the best eight 10s shot during the National Trophy Pistol week were awarded prize money. This competition gave National Match Pistol competitors an opportunity to shoot at the Camp Perry Marksmanship Center.

Monthly Matches are held at both facilities and feature a 60 shot air pistol event, air rifle events and National Match Air Rifle events. These matches are relatively inexpensive and provide great match training for competitors. The Camp Perry Open, held at Camp Perry, Port Clinton, Ohio, will now feature a two day 60 shot air pistol event with a final each day and a super final. The new Dixie Double held in November in Anniston, Alabama, also features air pistol events. Both of these events are scheduled to have U. S. National and National Development Pistol Team members present.

Another opportunity for air pistol shooting is to attend Open Public Shooting at the air gun ranges. The cost for open shooting is $5 for adults and $2 for juniors. There are also pellets available for $7.50.

For more information about all the upcoming events held at both locations, please visit <http://www.odcmp.com/MarksmanshipCenters.htm>. For information about CMP Marksmanship Center North, contact Katie Harrington at 419-635-2141 ext 1131 or kharrington@odcmp.com. For information about CMP Marksmanship Center South, please contact James Hall at 256-835-8455 ext. 1145 or jhall@odcmp.com.
