SPECIAL NOTICE TO NATIONAL MATCH COMPETITORS

As this bulletin goes to press, the Ohio National Guard, NRA and CMP are moving ahead with plans to carry out the complete schedule of events of the 2002 National Matches. All three organizations are fully committed to conducting the Matches without allowing the events of September 11 to curtail the competitions in any way. Shooters who come to the 2002 National Matches will likely face increased security requirements, but everyone is working together to assure that the competitions will take place as planned. Be sure the 2002 National Matches are on your calendar and start making arrangements to be there!

10 October 2001

Dear National Trophy Matches Competitors:

The Civilian Marksmanship Program is pleased to provide this Official 2001 National Trophy Matches Results Bulletin. Preliminary bulletins posted during the Matches were rechecked to confirm scores, categories and the Distinguished/Non-Distinguished status of competitors so some results and rankings have changed. In addition to containing all of the official, final results of the 2001 National Trophy Pistol and Rifle Matches, this bulletin includes photos of the trophy presentations and some additional, special information about the Matches.

The National Trophy Pistol and Rifle Matches are a major component of the Annual National Matches at Camp Perry. A federal statute passed by the U. S. Congress and approved by President Theodore Roosevelt established the National Trophy Matches in 1903. Traditions embodied in the National Trophy Matches date back even earlier to military and civilian competitions that began in the late 19th century. The oldest National Trophies, the Soldier of Marathon Trophy, the Hilton Trophy and the Nathan Hale Trophy, were placed in national competition in 1875, 1878 and 1890 respectively. The U. S. Congress placed the National Trophy that is awarded to the team that wins the National Trophy Team Match in competition in 1904. Today, the CMP preserves the National Trophy collection as an historic trust and governs the National Trophy Matches and their rich tradition through the CMP Competition Rules.

In addition to the outstanding shooting performances by the men, women and junior shooters who won the 2001 National Trophies, great credit is due to all of the pistol and rifle competitors who competed in this year's National Trophy Pistol and Rifle Matches. Participation was up in every National Trophy event. The biggest increase was in the Garand Match where participation increased 30 percent over last year, to 1,300 shooters.

The CMP expresses its sincere thanks to everyone who made a great 2001 National Trophy Matches possible, especially to the NRA Competitions Division and its volunteers for conducting the matches, to the Ohio National Guard for hosting the matches and to the U. S. Army Reserves 88th Regional Support Group for providing vital personnel support.

We hope you will enjoy and cherish this report about your participation in the 2001 National Trophy Pistol and Rifle Matches. The National Matches are a great legacy of American marksmanship and we hope you will return to the 2002 National Matches to continue to build this tradition.

Sincerely,

Gary Anderson

THE NATIONAL MATCHES

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual national championship in service pistol and service rifle marksmanship. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (§ 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U.S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and the competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are conducted in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the CMP and NRA. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively called the NATIONAL MATCHES.

The Civilian Marksmanship Program published the Official 2001 National Trophy Matches Results Bulletin as part of its programs to promote competition shooting. Current CMP competition programs include:

- Conduct of the National Trophy Pistol and Rifle Matches, in cooperation with the NRA Competitions Division.
- Publication of CMP Competition Rules to govern the National Trophy Matches and service rifle and service pistol shooting in the U. S.
- Publication of U. S. Army Marksmanship Unit Guides on Service Pistol, Service Rifle, International Rifle and International Skeet and Trap.
- Production of U. S. Army Marksmanship Unit Training Videos on Bull's-eye Pistol and High power Service Rifle.
- Awarding of Distinguished Rifleman, Distinguished Pistol Shot and Distinguished International Shooters Badges.
- Sanctioning of Excellence-In-Competition Matches in service pistol and service rifle.
- Sanctioning of John C. Garand Club Matches.
- Sanctioning of Club Rifle Clinics (highpower rifle, M1, rimfire sporter).

THE 2001 FIRST SHOT CEREMONY

"Give a kid a chance to dream and you'll be surprised by what that dream may turn into."

This story originally appeared in the CMP online newsletter, The First Shot, edition #3. The First Shot may be seen at www.odcmp.org.

Olympic champion Nancy Napoliski-Johnson was the speaker at The First Shot Ceremony for the 2001 National Matches that took place on the morning of July 10th. At the conclusion of her comments she had the honor of firing the ceremonial first shot to officially open the Matches.

Johnson spoke about her first experiences at Camp Perry over a decade ago when she was just getting started in shooting—"I remember the first time my father brought me here...the firing line ran as far as the eye could see. I had never fired on a range with more than 20 points." She praised the National Matches partnership between the Civilian Marksmanship Program and the National Rifle Association that "means everything to the shooting sports in the United States. Camp Perry is American shooting at its best."

Nancy Napoliski-Johnson's speech captivated an early morning audience of some 300 people. She spoke fondly about her start in shooting:

"I wanted to be great at something, not just mediocre. When my father suggested that I try shooting, I balked at the idea, and hoped that he would forget about it. Fortunately, he did not forget about it, and when I walked into that shooting range over 12 years ago and shot a rifle for the very first time, I was hooked for life. But back then, I had no idea of the journey I would later take, a journey that has forever changed my life, and a journey that is far from over."

Johnson made her first Olympic team as a University of Kentucky senior, but, as she described it, she ate a lot of "humble pie," finishing 36th in a field of 60 shooters in the 1996 Games' Women's Air Rifle event. It opened her eyes to the work that lay ahead, and she committed herself to the task:

"Over the next four years, I worked, and I worked hard. I traveled constantly, attending as many competitions as I could, sometimes being home only a few days out of every month. I literally dragged myself out of bed every morning, reminding myself that my competition, the best in the world, were out there training just as hard as I was."

Throughout her hours of practice, Johnson kept a tough but confident attitude—"It was never a matter of would my hard work pay off, but when." For Johnson, her 'when' came in Sydney, Australia in the 2000 Olympic Games when she won the gold medal in Women's Air Rifle.

Johnson credited shooting with teaching her concentration and focus, problem solving, and mental toughness. It also led her to a profound understanding, to grasp a truth that could be the credo of every youth in America:

"Without the ability to think, the brain gets lazy, and with laziness comes boredom. We should never allow ourselves the chance to be bored. Life has too much to offer to allow us to ever say 'I am bored.'"

Johnson told how she currently finds herself "at a crossroads in her journey," still undecided about her future in shooting. She said, however, that she knew she would always be involved in shooting, "whether it be as a competitor, spectator, coach, volunteer or educator." She emphasized the importance of placing a high value on education, teaching others about the sport, particularly young people:

"I want people to understand the importance and value in the teaching of our children.

How many times have we heard that 'kids are the future?' Ten years ago, they would have been talking about me. Now I am talking about them. Without kids, there would be no tomorrow, next month or next year. I am often dumbfounded by the number of children I encounter every day who have no hobbies, no goals or dreams. You've heard the expression, 'plant a seed, watch it grow.' Well, give a kid a chance to dream, and you'll be surprised by what that dream may turn into."

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE PRESIDENT'S RIFLE AND PISTOL MATCHES

1. Origin. The President's Rifle Match is one of the largest, oldest and most prestigious rifle competitions in the United States. It was inaugurated in 1894 to determine the "individual military rifle championship of the United States." At first, the match was one of the National Rifle Association's annual championship matches. When the National Matches were established through an act of Congress in 1903, the Match became part of the annual National Matches. In 1977, the President's Match became a National Trophy Match governed by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice. Since 1996, it has been governed by the NBPRP's successor, the Corporation for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and Firearm Safety.
2. Match Course of Fire. Through most of its history, the President's Match has been restricted to military-type rifles. Various courses of fire were used, with firing at distances from 200 to 1000 yards. Today, the President's Match is 10 shots standing at 200 yards, 10 shots rapid fire prone at 300 yards and 10 shots slow fire prone at 600 yards, fired with U. S. service rifles. From 1894 through 1920, competition was restricted to military personnel. Since 1921, the President's Match has been open to all U. S. citizens.
3. Congratulatory Letter from the President of the United States. In 1904, President Theodore Roosevelt started a tradition that made a congratulatory letter from the President of the United States the first prize in the Match. This tradition continued unbroken from 1904 through 1967. After a break occasioned by the war in Viet Nam, Presidents Reagan, Bush and Clinton continued to provide letters of congratulations through 1995. Here is the text of President Roosevelt's letter to the 1904 winner, Pvt. Howard Gensch, NJNG.

I have just been informed that you have won the President's Match for the military championship of the United States of America. I wish to congratulate you in person, and through you not only the First Regiment of the National Guard of New Jersey, but the entire National Guard of New Jersey. As a nation we must depend upon our volunteer soldiers in time of trial; and, therefore, the members of the National Guard fill a high function of usefulness. Of course, a soldier who cannot shoot is a soldier who counts for very little in battle, and all credit is due to those who keep up the standard of marksmanship. I congratulate you, both on your skill and upon your possession of the qualities of perseverance and determination in long practice by which alone this skill could have been brought to its high point of development.

4. President's 100 Designations. Beginning in 1919, competitors who placed in the top 100 places are designated as the "President's 100." Special ceremonies to honor the President's 100 riflemen were staged. Military personnel who earn a place in the President's 100 are authorized to wear "Presidents 100" tabs on their uniforms.
5. President's Pistol Match. In 1981, the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice established a second President's Match. The course of fire for this match is 20 shots slow fire at 50 yards, 10 shots timed fire at 25 yards and 10 shots rapid fire at 25 yards, with U. S. service pistols. The top 100 competitors in this match also are designated as members of the President's 100.

2001 Pistol Ceremony Presenters:

Colonel Walter Walsh, USMC (Ret.)

(Distinguished Champion Presenter)

Col. Walsh is legend, not just for his victories on the range, but also for his equally illustrious careers in law enforcement and the armed services. After earning his law degree from Rutgers University in 1934, he became an FBI agent. In 1935, when Doc Baker, son of the infamous Ma Barker, topped the FBI's most wanted list, Col. Walsh played a major role in bringing him to justice. Col. Walsh first attended the National Matches in 1928. From then until World War II, he won many honors in pistol, smallbore rifle and highpower rifle National Match events. In an especially unique accomplishment, he earned his Distinguished Rifleman and Distinguished Pistol Shot Badges in the same year, 1935.

Colonel Walsh entered active service as a Marine Corps Lieutenant in 1942 and fought with the First Marine Division in Okinawa. After the War, Col. Walsh won Marine Corps and national championships in both pistol and rifle. His titles included the National Highpower Match Rifle Championship in 1952. Colonel Walsh qualified as a member of the U.S. Olympic shooting team in pistol in 1948. He won a World Championship silver medal in center fire pistol in Oslo in 1952 where he earned his Distinguished International Shooters Badge. He is one of only 26 individuals in the history of American marksmanship who are Triple-Distinguished.

Colonel Walsh continued to serve marksmanship after his retirement from active competition. He was the Commander of the U.S. Marine Corps Weapons Training Battalion. He served as the Team Captain of many U.S. International Shooting teams including what arguably was the most successful U.S. Team ever, the 1996 World Shooting Championship Team.

Colonel Walsh has continued to attend National Matches to this day. In 2001 he once again served as a member of the Pistol Protest Committee.

Mr. Bill Blankenship, U.S. Army, Retired

Bill was the Distinguished Champion presenter in 2000. His marksmanship accomplishments are incomparable. Bill Blankenship is a World Champion, a six-time National Champion, a three-time National Trophy Individual Pistol Match winner, a President's Pistol Match winner and like Colonel Walsh, Triple-Distinguished.

Acknowledgements

The CMP wishes to recognize, thank and congratulate these organizations and individuals for their contributions to the success of the 2001 National Trophy Matches:

THANK YOU FOR TWO NEW NATIONAL TROPHIES:

The Colonel William L. "Bill" Deneke Trophy. Donated by the Virginia Shooting Sports Association in memory of Col. William L. Deneke to be awarded to the National Junior Service Rifle Team, comprised of the six top scoring junior shooters in an aggregate of the President's Rifle Match, the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match and the Whistler Boy Highpower Team Match and the coach and captain of the winning Whistler Boy Highpower Team.

The photos show three views of the new Deneke Trophy. The original bronze depicts a pair of junior shooters firing in a team match. The shooters' coach bears a remarkable likeness to Col. Bill Deneke. The photo on the right was taken after the presentation of the trophy to the CMP by the Deneke family and VSSA and the announcement of the first National Junior Service Rifle Team.

John C. Garand Trophy. Donated by the Garand Collectors Association. Awarded to the winner of the John C. Garand Match.

Representatives of the Garand Collectors Association were present at the National Trophy Rifle Matches Award Ceremony to present the new Garand Trophy to the CMP.
