CHAMPION MARINE CORPS MARKSMAN LAUNCHES 2ND CENTURY OF NATIONAL MATCHES

Champion Marine Corps shooter Jim Hill prepares to fire the First Shot of the 2004 National Matches. He reminisced about his 46 years as a National Matches competitor and official.

The Director of Civilian Marksmanship, Gary Anderson, presented the M1903 rifle used to fire the 2004 first shot to Jim Hill after the ceremonial first shot was fired.

Hill's first shot ceremony speech focused on his memories of positive experiences he had through the 48 years he has come to the National Matches. He asked to be able to fire the first shot with an M1903 Springfield because that was "the rifle my grandfather carried as a Marine in World War I."

CMP Armorer Todd Dissinger sang the National Anthem and America the Beautiful during the First Shot Ceremony. Dissinger also sings professionally with the Atlanta and Birmingham opera companies.

Olympic silver medalist and many-time national champion Jim Hill was the guest of honor at the 2004 National Matches First Shot Ceremony on July 12 at Camp Perry, Ohio. Hill, a retired Marine, was invited by the CMP to be the First Shot Ceremony speaker and fire the ceremonial first shot that inaugurates each annual National Matches.

The First Shot Ceremony has been the official opening ceremony for the National Matches since the 1970s. A series of military and political leaders and, in recent years, champion shooters have had the honor of speaking at the ceremony and firing the matches' first official shot. First Shot Speakers in the last few years included Ohio Adjutant General John Smith, Ohio State Senator Robert Latta, NRA President Marion Hammer, NRA Executive Director-General Operations Craig Sandler, Olympic gold medalist Nancy Johnson, world and national champion Bill Blankenship and the Administrative Assistant to the Secretary of the Army J. B. Hudson.

The 2004 First Shot Speaker is another champion marksman. Hill enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1948, won the National Service Rifle Championship at Camp Perry in 1956 and was a member of the 1956 Marine Corps Rifle Team that won the National Trophy Team Match. Hill achieved international fame when he won a silver medal in the 1960 Olympics; he missed winning a gold medal by the narrowest of margins. Hill performed the unprecedented feat of winning both a national highpower rifle championship and a national smallbore championship when he won the 1964 National Smallbore Rifle Championship. By the time he retired from the Marine Corps after 30 years of distinguished service, Hill had become one of only 33 Triple Distinguished Shooters. He won his Distinguished Rifleman Badge in 1956, his Distinguished International Shooters Badge in 1960 and his Distinguished Pistol Shot Badge in 1986.

After he retired from the Marine Corps, Hill founded Creedmoor Sports, a firm that specializes in providing shooting jackets and accessories. He made many subsequent appearances at Camp Perry and won the National Civilian Service Rifle Championship in 1983. Subsequent to his competition career, Hill continued to dedicate himself to serving his fellow shooters by being a volunteer match official at Camp Perry. Since 1995, he has been the National Highpower Championship Match Director.

The flags posted at the First Shot Ceremony by a Navy Sea Cadets Unit from Perrysburg, Ohio represented the USA, the State of Ohio, the Civilian Marksmanship Program, the National Rifle Association and the Deputy Adjutant General, Ohio National Guard.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

A Message from the DCM:

The 2004 National Matches turned out to be another great year in the rich history of this championship. There were lots of highlights, among them:

- Overall participation in the CMP schools and matches was up slightly over 2003, to 3832 from 3801. These numbers are the highest since 1992 and may be the highest since 1968.
- Attendance records were set in the National Rimfire Sporter, Springfield and Garand Matches.
- CMP results operations reached new heights; complete results bulletins were posted on the Internet and bulletin board within 30 minutes after matches finished.
- Camp Perry greeted competitors with many renovated huts and new roads.
- For the first time ever, a junior, Chris Atkins from Brunswick, Georgia, won the President's Rifle Match; he fired an outstanding 298-15X score with a Bushmaster DCM rifle.
- Rain and high winds forced delays in the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match. Thanks to extraordinary efforts by NRA range officers and volunteers and the full cooperation of competitors, an abbreviated NTI was completed. SSG Norman Anderson, U. S. Army, who started competitive shooting as an Illinois "Hard Dog" junior, won with a 298-11X.
- SSgt Michael Lawson, USMC, won the President's Pistol Match with a 387- 11X. Steve Reiter, a civilian and retired Army Reservist from Sparks, Nevada won the Pistol NTI with a 294-11X score.
- The USAR Black team won an extremely close National Trophy Pistol Team Match over the Army and Marines. Dr. Darius Young, another retired Army Reservist, was the high individual in the NTT with a 283-11X.
- The Army Marksmanship Unit won both the National Trophy Rifle and the Infantry Team Matches.
- New York State won both state association/civilian National Trophy Team Matches. The Virginia Firearm Education and Marksmanship team was the high civilian team in the Infantry Team Match and the second highest overall. That may have been the highest finish ever by a civilian team in the Infantry Team Match.
- James Fox of Oregon was the top junior service rifle shooter in the Deneke Trophy aggregate, for the second time in three years.

These and the other outstanding individual efforts of hundreds of competitors who reached their goals, set new personal records and won many special awards are only part of what makes the National Matches such a great event. It is a huge national championship that honors its champions, but it gives all of its participants a unique national shooting festival experience. Thank you for being part of another great National Matches.

Gary Anderson

ON THE COVER—CMP NATIONAL MATCHES PAINTING

The 2004 National Matches marked the 101st year of the National Matches and the founding of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, the predecessor to today's Civilian Marksmanship Program. The CMP commissioned renowned Wyoming artist Jerry Antolik to create another original oil painting that features several recent prominent National Matches images.

Images featured on the painting and poster include 6-time national pistol champion GySgt Brian Zins shooting a 9mm service pistol, SSgt Jerome Bostick, the leading service rifle shooter in the 2003 National Trophy Matches, smallbore and air rifle competitors, two Distinguished badges and the 1971 highpower offhand national record target fired by Gary Anderson.

Full color posters reproduced from the painting, suitable for framing, are available for purchase from the CMP E-Store <http://estore.odcmp.com/store/catalog/catalog.aspx?pg=catalogList&cat=MEM>.

National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches

The National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are the annual U. S. national championship in service pistol and service rifle shooting. The National Trophy Matches were established by federal law in 1903, are still conducted under the statutory authority of the U. S. Code (Title 36 USC § 40725-40727) and are now governed by the Civilian Marksmanship Program. Shooters from all over the U. S., civilian and military, test their skills and compete to determine the nation's best service pistol and rifle shooters. To fulfill the CMP's statutory responsibility to "instruct citizens in marksmanship," the National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are open to all shooters regardless of skill level. Beginners compete and learn while shooting side by side with champions. The tradition of the matches and their competitions for prestigious national trophies celebrate marksmanship excellence and provide incentives to develop individual marksmanship skills, equipment and a national competition infrastructure. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches are held in conjunction with the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships through a partnership between the two organizations. The Ohio National Guard and U. S. Army Reserves also provide vital support for the matches. The CMP National Trophy Rifle and Pistol Matches and the NRA National Rifle and Pistol Championships are collectively known as the NATIONAL MATCHES.

National Pistol Matches Close with Drama and New National Champions

As quick as the wind coming off of the water of Lake Erie, the first stage of the National Rifle and Pistol Matches at Camp Perry drew to a close. With the CMP National Trophy Pistol Matches, and the awards ceremony that followed, pistol shooters from all over the country departed Camp Perry and left it to the smallbore shooters who gathered here in the days that followed...but not before new National Champion pistol shooters were crowned and trophies presented.

During the four days of the NRA National Pistol Championship, Lake Erie winds had given fits to shooters, however, on the morning of July 18, the wind calmed and conditions were right for high scores. In the President's Match, the first match of the day, Staff Sergeant Michael Lawson, USMC, walked away from the firing line having posted a score of 387-11x to top the list of the President's 100 and earn the privilege of having his name added to the President's Trophy. SSGt Lawson will also receive a congratulatory letter from President Bush and was presented with a CMP M1 Garand rifle gunsmithed by Eric Pierce of the National Match Armory in Rendon, Texas. SSGt Lawson had placed in the President's 100 previously, but this was his first time to win the coveted trophy. His score this year equals the highest score shot in the President's Match.

For the first time, a Junior President's Trophy was awarded to the highest scoring junior in the President's Match. Due to a rule change in 2003, juniors are permitted to fire the match with a .22 caliber pistol. Christopher Jones, a nineteen year old from Battle Ground, Washington bested all other juniors in the match with a score of 374-7x.

Immediately following the President's Match, the National Trophy Individual Match saw a past champion shooter demonstrate that some things do get better with age. Steve Reiter of Sparks, Nevada, a retired US Army Reserve Team shooter, the 2000 winner of the President's Match and a Triple Distinguished shooter, posted a nearly untouchable score of 294-11x to engrave his name on the Custer Trophy as the winner of the National Trophy Individual Pistol Match for 2004. Mr. Reiter's score is only two points below the all time record for the match. For his effort, Reiter also received a CMP M1 Garand rifle prepared by Eric Pierce of the National Match Armory in Texas.

President's Pistol Match Winner Staff Sergeant Michael Lawson, USMC, received his trophy plaque and presentation rifle from Col Walter Walsh (USMC, Retired). The presentation rifle was gunsmithed by Eric Pierce of National Match Armory, Rendon Texas.

Steve Reiter receives the Custer Trophy plaque for winning the National Trophy Individual Match. The award presenter is Col Walter Walsh (USMC Retired). Col Walsh started competing and winning at Camp Perry in 1928 and is now 97 years old. Col Walsh and Reiter are obviously enjoying the victory cerebration.

Pistol Competitor Killed in Tragic Accident Returning Home from Camp Perry

In a community as large as the competition shooter family that comes to the National Matches at Camp Perry every year, tragedies that strike one of their members are always hard to take. On Wednesday, July 21st, Ken Saucier, a pistol shooter, Seattle Police Officer and father, died in a single-car accident in Northern Idaho. Mr. Saucier was en route home to Seattle after attending the 2004 National Pistol Matches at Camp Perry.

Mr. Saucier was a member of the Washington State Gold Pistol Team that earned the honor of being the second place civilian team in the National Trophy Pistol Team Match. Saucier made the President's 100 in 2003. He was a Distinguished Pistol Shot, having earned his Distinguished badge during the 2000 National Matches. This year he again competed in the President's Pistol Match and the National Trophy Individual Match and was a firing member of the Washington Gold Team in the National Trophy Pistol Team Match.

Ken Saucier was a police officer in the City of Seattle, Washington. He was the first African-American President of the Seattle Police Officers Guild, a union for police officers in that city. He was recognized an outstanding officer and in his work as the President of the Police Officers Guild, earned a reputation for his effective dedication to the needs of his fellow officers.

Saucier and another member of the Washington Gold Pistol Team, Wesley Lorenz, were traveling through Idaho on their way home from the National Matches. Around 3:50 a.m. on Interstate 90 on Wednesday, July 21st, the pickup Mr. Saucier was driving drifted off the left shoulder and crashed. He died at the scene. Lorenz was treated for minor injuries at a nearby hospital and released.

Ken Saucier is survived by his wife of nearly 18 years, Suzanne, and their three daughters, Rebecca, Regina and Renee. The CMP extends its sincere sympathy and condolences to Ken Saucier's family, his fellow police officers and all of the members of the shooting community who knew and respected him.

Junior Makes President's Rifle Match History

The President's Rifle Match has been a fixture of the National Matches since their inception in 1903. In fact, the original President's Match was initiated in 1894 as a highpower rifle competition for service rifles to determine the "Individual Military Rifle Championship of the United States." It was incorporated into the new National Matches in 1903 and President Theodore Roosevelt began the tradition of awarding a congratulatory letter from the President to the winner in 1904. The President's Match was opened to "any citizen of the United States" in 1921, but throughout its history, it has been dominated by military competitors. From 1977 through 2002, every President's Rifle Match winner was military.

That chain was broken last year when Stanton Noon, a civilian from New York, won the match. Mr. Noon was the first civilian to win the trophy since Gary Anderson, the current Director of Civilian Marksmanship, won it in 1976. Now, in 2004, another civilian, Christopher Atkins from Brunswick, Georgia, has won the coveted President's Rifle Trophy. There is another historic twist in this story that is even more significant. Atkins was not even born until 1987; he is a junior, just 17 years old. He is the youngest shooter and most likely the first junior ever to win the President's Match.

A member of the Georgia Junior High Power Rifle Team, Chris Atkins is no stranger to the National Matches or to shooting. He has been coming to the National Matches with his father since he was two years old. Christopher's father is the record holding, legendary long-range shooter Billy C. Atkins, who for many years dominated long range events in National Matches service rifle competitions. Billy already has an NRA National Championship trophy named after him. Christopher won the award for being the High Junior in the 2003 President's Rifle Match when he made the President's 100 with a 291-5X score. He also is an accomplished position air rifle shooter with his Navy JROTC team in Brunswick. The Brunswick team was the top precision air rifle team in the Navy JROTC Air Rifle Championship conducted earlier this year by the CMP at Fort Benning, Georgia. And he hopes to compete in college where he will shoot air rifle and smallbore.

Atkins fired the President's Match on relay 2, target 78 on Viale Range. He took an early lead in the match with a perfect 100-4X in the standing stage; it was the only clean standing among the 1300 shooters in the match. He followed that with a strong 99-6X in the prone rapid fire stage. When scores started being posted on the CMP's Internet-based results system, it showed him on top of the leader board and he stayed there throughout the match. When the shooters moved back to the 600 yard line, only Atkins and the Army's Sergeant William Pace were down one point and only two shooters were two points down. The question was whether he could hold on to his lead in the final 600 yard slow fire stage. Atkins quieted the doubters and permanently placed his name on the President's Rifle Trophy when he finished with a solid 99-5X. Pace also fired a 99 at 600 yards, but his final X count was 6Xs behind the junior from Georgia. The rifle Atkins fired was a Bushmaster DCM rifle obtained through the CMP AR-15 rifle sales program.

At this year's National Rifle Matches, Atkins showed his fellow competitors that no one should ever be counted out because of age or experience. His score of 298-15x ties the second highest score fired in the President's Match since it its current service rifle only 30 shot, 200 standing, 300 prone, 600 prone course of fire began in 1977. In fact his winning score was just one point and four Xs behind the all-time record, 299-19X, fired by Marine SSgt Scott Threatt in 2001.

Christopher received a presentation M-1 Garand rifle prepared by Phil Arrington of Arrington Accuracy Works, Phoenix, Arizona, as well as a plaque commemorating his achievement. He also will receive a congratulatory letter from President George W. Bush that honors his victory in the 2004 President's Rifle Match.

President's Rifle Match winner Chris Atkins demonstrates his standing position. He was the only shooter among 1300 competitors in the match to shoot a perfect 100 standing.

National Trophy Rifle Matches: Even the Weather Can't Stop Them

National Trophy Individual Rifle Match

The winds came off of Lake Erie early on the day of the National Trophy Individual Match and then the rain came from the west. The combination of these two had quite an impact on the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match at the 2004 National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. Off and on throughout the day, with more on than off, shooters were plagued by gusts of up to 25 mph and rain pelting them from nearly all sides. Equipment got wet, the ground was wet and shooters were soaked. Less than half way through the 50-shot event, firing was stopped because of torrential rains. Two hours later an attempt was made to restart the match, but Match Director Jim Hill and DCM Gary Anderson made the decision to halt firing for the day because by then the winds coming off of Lake Erie were so strong it was difficult to keep targets in the frames and there was a real danger of someone in the pits being injured. A valiant attempt was made to complete firing on the following afternoon, but with darkness setting in and firing clearances expiring, the match had to be called before all competitors could complete 600 yard firing. CMP rules allow for a shortened course of fire; the 2004 National Trophy Individual Match was shortened to include just 30 shots since all competitors were able to complete 200 and 300 yard firing.

Surprisingly for a match that was so plagued by high winds, rain and light problems, there were good scores posted and a new Daniel Boone Trophy winner was crowned. A perfect score for the National Trophy Individual Match is 500-50X. While no one has ever fired such a score, winning scores are usually within a stone's throw of this score. In 2003, Staff Sergeant Jerome Bostick, USMC fired a 496-24X to win the Daniel Boone Trophy. With the abbreviated course of fire of this year's match, a perfect score of 300-30X was the highest that could be fired. Amidst the rain and the wind, Staff Sergeant Norman Anderson of the Army Marksmanship Unit was able to fire a score of 298-11X to best all others and earn a spot for his name on the coveted trophy. SSG Anderson received a plaque commemorating the achievement, as well as an M1 Garand presentation rifle prepared by Eric Pierce of the National Match Armory, Rendon, Texas. The Nathan Hale Trophy, an award given to the highest scoring civilian in the match, was awarded to James O'Connell of Alameda, California for his score of 296-9X. John Coggshall of Meriden, Connecticut earned the distinction of being the high junior competitor in the match with his score of 294-7X. For his efforts, John will have his name engraved upon the Golden Eagle Trophy.

An interesting sidelight to the National Trophy Individual Rifle Match story is the fact the match winner, SSG Norman Anderson, is a product of one of the outstanding state junior high-power programs that supports the National Matches. Anderson first competed at Camp Perry as a member of the Illinois State Rifle Association Hard Dog Juniors who received support from the CMP National Match Junior Highpower Support Program. He attended the USMC Junior Rifle Clinic and competed in the Whistler Boy and National Trophy Team Matches while representing ISRA Hard Dog teams.

National Trophy Team Match

The National Trophy Team Match was held two days later, and while the wind from two days prior was still around to cause trouble, thankfully the rain had abated and the match could be conducted without a hitch. Riding high on the success of one of their members in the National Trophy Individual Match, it was the USAMU-Praslick team that walked off the range in the top spot on the leader board. Firing members SSG Norman Anderson, SGT Lance Hopper, SSG Timothy Manges, SSG Tobie Tomlinson, SFC Kyle Ward, SGT Grant Singley (former National Champion) fired an aggregate score of 2889-92X to place their name on the famous National Trophy, otherwise known as the "Dogs of War" trophy. The National Trophy was commissioned by the U. S. Congress and approved by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1903 when the National Matches were created. The Army Team Captain was SSG Jason St. John; their Team Coach was SSG Emil Praslick, III.

Not far behind the USAMU Praslick team was the All-Guard Morgan team in second place. Their aggregate score of 2881-85X was enough to win the Hilton Trophy (the second oldest trophy in the National Trophy Collection), as the top Reserve Component Team in the National Trophy Team Match. The Soldier of Marathon Trophy (the oldest trophy in the National Trophy Collection) was awarded to the New York State Rifle and Pistol Association-Adelson team as the high civilian team in the match. Their score of 2861-73X was also enough to earn them the fourth place overall out of the 61 teams in competition. In the junior ranks, it was the North Carolina Rifle and Pistol Association team placing their name on the Minuteman Trophy as the high junior team in the match with their score of 2810-48X.

National Trophy Infantry Team "Rattle Battle" Match

The day of the National Trophy Infantry Team Match proved to be picture perfect – a far cry from earlier in the week when ponchos and umbrellas were all that could be seen on the firing and ready lines. On Rattle Battle day, the sun was warm, the rain was gone and the wind was manageable. Yet, there was one thing eerily familiar at the end of the day...the Army Marksmanship Unit Praslick Team was at the top of the scoreboard, among its members, National Champion SSG Norman Anderson! In an effort reminiscent of Marine Corps' achievements in the 2003 National Rifle Matches, the USAMU team was able to take nearly every trophy they were eligible for in the 2004 National Rifle Matches. The USAMU-Praslick team fired a total score of 1385 to win the fabled Infantry Trophy.

Forty-three points behind the USAMU team, in second place, was the Virginia Firearms Education and Marksmanship Inc. team with their score of 1342. The Virginia team was the highest placing civilian team in this match in recent memory. Massachusetts and Nebraska civilian teams won this match in 1929 and 1930; since then no civilian team has ever won this match or placed so high. The top junior team in the Infantry Team Match was the team of Wisconsin Rifle and Pistol Association Juniors with a score of 933.

Even High Winds Can't Keep Shooters from Rimfire Sporter Success!

CAMP PERRY
2004
National Matches

For shooters new to the competition world, coming to Camp Perry can be daunting. Many think that you have to be a potential national champion to compete there. However, nothing could be farther from the truth. To foster more smallbore rifle shooting and to encourage new participants in the National Matches, the CMP created the Rimfire Sporter Match in 2002. The 3rd National Rimfire Sporter Match took place on July 24th. 143 participants experienced just why Camp Perry is considered one of the most challenging places to shoot in the United States – wind!

With a 20 to 30 miles per hour nor'easter coming in from Lake Erie, competition began with the hopes that as the day progressed and warmed, the wind would die. This was not to be. Shooters resigned themselves to the fact that the wind was there to stay and settled in to shoot.

One of the interesting aspects of this ever-growing match is the variety of rifles found on the firing line. Shooters brought everything from semi-custom rifles by Kimber and Cooper, to the ever popular Ruger 10-22 and Marlin Model 60 to the Romanian military surplus .22s now being imported into this country. There also were several CZ 452s and even a couple of Marlin Model 39A lever actions. It is this wide variety of commonly-owned rifles that can be successfully used in this match that makes it attractive to new shooters. They truly can shoot the old squirrel rifle that was stored in the closet.

Once scores began to come in after the first relay, it was evident to Match Director and Director of Civilian Marksmanship, Gary Anderson, that the wind was having a significant effect on the scores. To compensate for the lower scores being fired, Anderson made the decision to lower medal cutoff scores to reflect the difficulty the shooters were having. Still, at day's end there were some outstanding scores fired – scores that would have been excellent on a calm day! Ronald Springsteen of Otsego, Michigan sat high atop the leader board in the telescopic sight class with his score of 583. Mr. Springsteen placed second in the Rimfire Sporter Match here at Camp Perry last year and was one of the first two shooters to shoot a score higher than 590 in the match. In the open sight category of the match, Robert Elka of Willis, Michigan fired a 567 to better the next highest score by 22 points. In the junior divisions, Clint Sejkora of Burkhart, Nebraska was the top junior firing a scoped rifle with a score of 561. In the O-Class junior competition, Nicholas Meekins of Lusby, Maryland fired a 533 to best all other juniors with open sights.

It is encouraging to see such scores on a day that was more suited to kite flying than to firing a rifle match. It was more encouraging still to see the number of participants that turned out for the event. In 2002 when the inaugural Rimfire Sporter Match was held during the National Matches, 43 shooters participated. In 2003, that number reached 100. This year's event continued this trend of growth with 143 competitors trying their hand at this fun and challenging event. For more information on the Rimfire Sporter Matches, or to find out how to hold a Rimfire Sporter Match, download the CMP Guide to Rimfire Sporter Shooting at <http://www.odcmp.com/Competitions/rimfire.pdf>.

Two Rimfire Sporter competitors fire in the standing position. The shooter on the left is firing an open-sighted rifle in the O-Class. The second shooter is firing a scope sighted rifle, which placed him in the T-Class.

20-30 mph nor'easter winds made the 3rd National Rimfire Sporter Match at Camp Perry especially challenging to all 143 competitors.

Rimfire Sporter competitors fire a rapid fire series in the sitting position. Shooters can elect to fire in either sitting or kneeling, but most choose the sitting position.

Ron Springsteen from Otsego, Michigan fired the high score in the 2004 Rimfire Sporter Match. He compiled his 583 total while shooting with a Thompson-Center 22 Classic.

New M-16 EIC Match Scores a Hit at Nationals

Since the CMP began adding new matches to the National Matches, the number of new shooters participating in highpower service rifle shooting has gone up significantly. Matches such as the John C. Garand Match, the Springfield and Military Bolt Rifle Match, as well as the Rimfire Sporter Match have become great attractions to the National Matches, bringing in shooters who previously were put off by the thought of competing at Camp Perry.

Another new match, called the M-16 EIC Match, was added in the 2004 National Matches. The objective of this match is to give new shooters an introduction to the quest for earning the Distinguished Rifleman Badge, one of the highest awards a rifle shooter can aspire to earn. The M-16 EIC Match gives shooters a chance to earn their first "Excellence-in-Competition" (EIC) points that count towards earning their Distinguished Rifleman Badge. It is hoped that this experience will encourage them to become even more active in the exciting and challenging sport of high-power service rifle competition.

The M-16 EIC Match is a joint effort between the CMP and the Army Marksmanship Unit. The match is fired with rack-grade M-16 service rifles and ball ammunition issued on the line. Competitors are not allowed to use their own rifles in this match. To conduct the match, USAMU provided M-16 service rifles that were used in the Small Arms Firing School for competitors to fire and then assigned Army Rifle Team Members to work on the line as Range Officers and to assist competitors with the rifles. Only competitors who have no credit points for earning their Distinguished Badges (leg points) are eligible to fire.

Nearly 500 of these competitors looking to earn their first EIC points stepped to the line on the day of the match. To the surprise of many Army and Navy Rifle Team members and civilian Distinguished shooters who served as volunteer range officers on the line, there were some very good scores posted in this inaugural event. Robert Fox of Forest, Ohio topped the leader board for nearly the entire day and ended up as the winner of the National Matches' very first M-16 EIC Match. His score of 370-5x earned him a plaque at the award ceremony the next day. For his efforts, Mr. Fox was also awarded four EIC points that count toward his Distinguished Rifleman Badge. The top ten percent of the eligible competitors in the match earned "introductory" four-point "legs," as EIC credit points are called by competitors. All competitors who scored 357-1X or higher earned four EIC points. In all, 46 shooters earned their first EIC points in this year's match and now will not be eligible to shoot in next year's match. Complete results for the match are posted on the CMP web site at http://clubs.odcmp.com/cgi-bin/report_matchResult.cgi?matchID=346.

For more information about the Distinguished Rifleman Badge system or the M-16 EIC Match, as well as other CMP Games events at the National Rifle Matches and to see the match program, go to <http://www.odcmp.com/NM/CMPGames.htm>.

Robert Fox of Forest, Ohio was the winner of the Inaugural M-16 EIC Match at the 2004 National Rifle Matches. Fox fired a score of 370-5x. He is being congratulated at the post-match award ceremony by Lt. Colonel David Liwanag, Commander of the U. S. Army Marksmanship Unit, which supported the conduct of the match.

2004 Springfield and Military Bolt Rifle Match Sets Attendance Record

CAMP PERRY
NATIONAL MATCHES

Each year for two days in August, fans of vintage military rifles take over the National Matches ranges at Camp Perry, Ohio in what has become the most popular two days of the matches. This year, the 3rd Annual Springfield and Military Bolt Rifle Match and the 6th Annual John C. Garand Match took place at Camp Perry, Ohio on August 6-7. They were once again the biggest draws of the National Matches with a record 816 shooters entering the Springfield Match and 1401 shooters registering for the Garand Match. These two matches took place at the same time as the National Trophy and National Trophy Infantry Team Matches so nearly 2000 shooters were at Camp Perry competing during those two days.

Competitors in this match have their choice of firing an as-issued M1903 Springfield rifle and competing in the Springfield Match or they can fire an as-issued foreign military rifles of the same vintage or other U. S. military rifles like the Enfield or Krag. The course of fire is the same as the Garand Match. All firing is at 200 yards on the SR target. It starts with 5 sighting shots and 10 shots for record slow fire prone (one minute per shot). Then shooters fire a prone rapid fire series where they start from the standing position and have 80 seconds to get into position, fire five shots, reload and fire the five remaining shots. The match concludes with ten shots slow fire standing.

The day of the Springfield Match saw some carryover weather from the previous days when strong winds prevailed. The wind from the National Trophy Individual Match was still blowing, but thankfully the rain had abated. With firing done at 200 yards the wind which was mostly blowing in off Lake Erie, didn't affect the strike of their bullets very much, but the wind blowing on the shooters' positions during the standing stage of the match did have an effect.

This competitor fires his British Enfield rifle in the Military Bolt Rifle match that ran concurrently with the Springfield Match. Besides the 1903 Springfield, shooters fired Enfields, Mausers, Arisakas and Carcanos in the match.

The Springfield Match is always a colorful match, drawing competitors dressed in World War I period uniforms. One group of shooters firing Swiss rifles in the Vintage Military Bolt Rifle event, arrived wearing camouflage fatigues of the Swiss Army. This all contributes to the fun, friendship, fellowship and camaraderie that exemplifies these matches and the CMP Games in general.

Scores from this year's Match were overall very good. John Friguglietti of Denver, North Carolina was the top competitor firing a 1903 Springfield rifle. His score of 286-6x was enough to best Ohioan Robert Elka's score of 285-8x by a single point. In third place was Martin, Ohio's Mark Witt with a 285-5x.

In the Vintage Military Bolt Rifle Match, scores weren't quite as high as those fired with Springfield rifles, though good scores were posted. Anthony Craft of Munith, Michigan fired a score of 278-4x with a Model 96 Swedish Mauser. In second place was another shooter firing the venerable Model 96 Mauser. Michael Filozof of Alden, New York used a M96 to fire a score of 277-6x. Third place was fired by another Mauser shooter, but this one was from another part of the world. Joseph Russum of Franklin, Massachusetts fired a score of 274-4x with a 1929 Persian Mauser.

A presentation rifle is awarded in the Springfield Match, but it is presented through a special draw procedure. During the match five shooters were picked at random off of each relay to have their rifles inspected by CMP gunsmiths for compliance with as-issued rifle rules. Each one of these competitors whose rifles passed inspection had their name entered in the drawing for a beautiful M1903 Springfield rifle that was transformed into a presentation rifle by Eric Pierce of the National Match Armory in Rendon, Texas. The winner of the 2004 Springfield Match presentation rifle was Phillip Gaddy of Statesville, North Carolina.

CMP Board of Directors member Marsha Beasley (r.) presented awards to the 2004 Springfield Match Winners. John Friguglietti of Denver NC (l.) with a 286-6X won the Springfield Match. Anthony Craft of Munith, MI (2nd from l.) won the Vintage Military Rifle Match with a 278-4X. Mark Patterson of Fort Walton Beach, FL (3rd from l.) was the high junior with a 272-3X.

Like many shooters, this competitor chose to fire the match dressed in period clothing.

Shooters in the Springfield/Vintage Military Rifle Match may fire either M1903 Springfields or vintage military rifles of the same era from other countries. Period uniforms are worn by many competitors.

2004 John C. Garand Match was a Sell-Out

Alfred Hitchcock's classic thriller, "The Birds" has given moviegoers the willies for decades since its debut in the 1960s. For competitors at Camp Perry shooting the John C. Garand Match on August 7th, the birds had an entirely different meaning. More accurately, it was one bird that caused anxiety for shooters and match officials. With Camp Perry's proximity to Lake Erie, it is a natural hunting and breeding ground for a number of hawks and eagles. One intrepid young hawk seemed to stake out the area between the number boards and the targets downrange as his personal hunting area and wasn't about to let a few pesky bullets deter him! Frequent cease-fires were called so a range officer could head downrange in a golf cart to scare the hawk away. After numerous attempts at this, the young hawk finally got the message and perched high in a tree to the left of the range, watching the day's match.

And the match was quite a spectacle, as the Garand Match has come to be since its beginning in 1998. As with the Springfield Match the day before, numerous competitors arrived in the uniforms of World War II Soldiers, Marines or Sailors. Groups of shooters gathered to watch or to talk about the day's event. Garand Match Day is a day of gathering and celebration of the shooting sports, with a whole lot of shooting thrown in for good measure.

With 1401 shooters entered in the match that day, there was more than a little shooting. As a matter of fact, the match was filled to range capacity and the CMP had to start placing late entries on the waiting list. Shooters started picking up their relay and firing point assignments at 6:00 AM, with firing beginning at 7:30 AM and not ending until after 6:00 PM that evening. Except for the delays for the local wildlife, smooth was the word of the day when it came to operations. And the weather was picture perfect—it was as fine a day at Camp Perry as anyone could remember.

After the last shot was fired and the scores entered in the National Matches database via the CMP's new electronic score card reader, all scores were posted and award winners ready to be announced just 30 minutes after ceasefire. Some very good scores topped the leader board too. Antonio Samper of Tallahassee, Florida bested all other shooters with his impressive score of 292-5X. This is a match record for the John C. Garand Match; the highest previous score was a 290-12X fired by Christopher Roberts in 2003. Close behind in second place was David Lavie of Nashua, New Hampshire with a score of 290-5X. The title of high junior competitor in the match belonged to Samuel Ohlinger of Lockbourne, Ohio for his score of 277-2X.

Awards for the Garand Match as well as the Springfield Match from the day before were handed out following the day's shooting. Prior to the outdoor ceremony, the CMP organized a shooters' reception to give the shooters a chance to socialize in a way that doesn't happen on the range. Two local restaurants were on hand with food for sale, and the CMP provided beer and soft drinks for all who wished to relax after the match and enjoy the company of their fellow competitors. Shooters stayed way into the night to catch up with old friends or acquaint themselves with new ones. The bond between shooters is strong and is the core of the spirit of the John C. Garand Match.

A National Match Armory presentation rifle is awarded in the Garand Match as well, but it also is presented through a special draw procedure. During the match five shooters were picked at random off of each relay to have their rifles inspected by CMP gunsmiths for compliance with as-issued rifle rules. Each one of these competitors whose rifles passed inspection had their name entered in the drawing for a beautiful M1 Garand rifle that was transformed into a presentation rifle by Eric Pierce of the National Match Armory in Rendon, Texas. The winner of the 2004 John C. Garand Match presentation rifle was Larry Smith of Columbus, Ohio.

These scenes from the 2004 National CMP Games competitions that included the M-16 EIC Match on August 5, the Springfield/Vintage Military Rifle Match on August 6 and the John C. Garand Match on August 7 demonstrate why these new shooting games are both fun and continue to grow in popularity. They don't require a lot of special equipment and the equipment is readily available. They emphasize fun, camaraderie and history. Highlights from the 2004 CMP Games events at the National Matches included over 800 shooters in the Springfield/Vintage Military Rifle Match, a record 1400 plus entries in the Garand Match and the new M-16 EIC Match.
