

CIVILIAN MARKSMANSHIP PROGRAM MEDIA CREDENTIAL APPLICATION

Qualified journalists (editors, reporters, bloggers, book authors, producers, video camera crews, and/or photographers) wishing to cover or report any event or activity sponsored by or conducted on the premises of the Civilian Marksmanship Program must apply for CMP Media Credentials.

An application must be completed for each media staffer regardless of whether the staffers are from the same media outlet. A new application must be completed for each event covered. Applicants who have covered past CMP events or activities may be asked for copies of work published, posted or shown. The time for processing applications is not always immediate, and may take up to two weeks. Past issuance of media credentials does not guarantee approval for media credentials. The Civilian Marksmanship Program reserves the right to accept, revoke, or deny media credentials. Credentials must be obtained at the check-in area of the specific venue for the event. Credentials are not transferrable and will be confiscated by CMP personnel if abused. Each applicant must agree to the CMP news media policy attached to this application.
