About CMP Junior Rifle Camps:

The Junior Rifle Camps are a premier series of hands-on, informative trainings for high school-age students and coaches during the summer months – designed to communicate rifle fundamentals and techniques through group discussions and personal guidance from current collegiate mentors on the firing line. The camps are excellent tools in developing each athlete’s strengths within the physical and mental aspects of the sport while refining trouble areas that may need more attention.

CMP Scholarship Program:

Each year, the CMP offers one-time $1,000, $3,000 and $5,000 scholarships to high school seniors, along with four $20,000 four-year scholarships ($5,000/year).

CMP JUNIOR RIFLE CAMPS

AIR RIFLE • SMALLBORE

Camp History

The CMP Junior Air Rifle Camp mission has always been to help juniors who have a desire to improve their marksmanship skills and to develop leaders on and off the range. In 1997, the Director of Civilian Marksmanship Emeritus, Gary Anderson, established the Junior Air Rifle Camps while serving as Director of Wolfcreek Shooting Complex in Atlanta, Georgia – setting the precedent for how the program would be conducted. The camps received support from CMP in 1999 and were fully adopted as a CMP program in 2000.

Since then, the Junior Air Rifle Camps have expanded their footprint through the addition of new camp disciplines, new host locations across the nation and first-class instruction. Though many things have changed, the core mission of the Junior Rifle Camps has remained the same – provide quality instruction to support athletes in their goals.

TYPES OF CAMPS

AIR RIFLE STANDING SMALLBORE

3P AIR RIFLE

By far the most popular camp CMP offers. Over five days, athletes will learn the fundamentals of three-position air rifle, including but not limited to how to build a stable position, how to develop and use a shot process and how to compete like a champion.

ADVANCED STANDING

Tailored for athletes who want to take their game to the next level. The three-day camp consists of in-depth instruction that builds off the fundamentals learned at the 3P air camp. Athletes spend the majority of their time fine-tuning their shot process and testing out advanced positional techniques.

3P SMALLBORE

This four-day camp will teach athletes the fundamentals of three-position smallbore, with special attention given to the advanced techniques when shooting outdoors. Athletes will learn how to develop positioning, optimize equipment and to perform shot processes to the fullest in challenging but iconic Camp Perry wind conditions.

NOTE: All campers must have at least one adult leader present.
