About CMP Junior Rifle Camps:

The Junior Rifle Camps are a premier series of hands-on, informative trainings for high school-age students and coaches during the summer months – designed to communicate rifle fundamentals and techniques through group discussions and personal guidance from current collegiate mentors on the firing line. The camps are excellent tools in developing each athlete’s strengths within the physical and mental aspects of the sport while refining trouble areas that may need more attention.

CMP Scholarship Program:

Each year, the CMP offers scholarships to exceptional high school seniors. The program now offers $3,000, $5,000 and $10,000 one-year scholarships as well as four $20,000 four-year scholarships ($5,000/year) and one $40,000 scholarship ($10,000/year)!

AIR RIFLE SKILLS TRAINING

Camp History

The CMP Junior Air Rifle Camp mission has always been to help juniors who have a desire to improve their marksmanship skills and to develop leaders on and off the range. In 1997, the Director of Civilian Marksmanship Emeritus, Gary Anderson, established the Junior Air Rifle Camps while serving as Director of Wolfcreek Shooting Complex in Atlanta, Georgia – setting the precedent for how the program would be conducted. The camps received support from CMP in 1999 and were fully adopted as a CMP program in 2000.

Since then, the Junior Air Rifle Camps have expanded their footprint through the addition of new camp disciplines, new host locations across the nation and first-class instruction. Though many things have changed, the core mission of the Junior Rifle Camps has remained the same – provide quality instruction to support athletes in their goals.

TYPES OF CAMPS

3P AIR RIFLE

Over five days, athletes will learn the fundamentals of three-position air rifle, including but not limited to how to build a stable position, how to develop and use a shot process and how to compete like a champion.

FINALS, STANDING ONLY CAMP

A special standing-only event will be held at the Gary Anderson CMP Competition Center in Ohio July 6-7. The Finals camp will be open to all juniors in the precision class grades 9-12 who have demonstrated the desire and ability to compete on the finals stage. While previous camp participation is not required, individuals who apply will be hand selected to reflect the highly competitive nature of competition finals.

Camp Costs: $430 (adult leader cost included)

NOTE: All campers must have at least one adult leader present.
